TO FREEDOM—The 82 surviving members of the Pueblo walk across the "bridge of no return," dividing South and North Korea, to their freedom. They were released yesterday at Panmunjom.

Bruised, Beaten Pueblo Crew Leaves Captivity

Bucher Cites Terror; Welcome Tomorrow

LT. CMDR. LLOYD BUCHER
Cites acts of brutality

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — With heads held high the 82 surviving crew members of the USS Pueblo walked through a snowstorm to freedom today from Communist North Korea and were hospitalized immediately for treatment for 11 months of torture and near starvation.

They were beaten and kicked "with no mercy of any kind," reported their captain, Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd Mark Bucher, who said he had been held in solitary confinement for most of the time the men were captives of the Communist nation. He called it the most concentrated form of terror he had ever seen.

They were freed in time for Christmas after the United States first denounced and then signed a "garbage apology" admitting the Pueblo had spied inside North Korean waters and apologizing to the Pyongyang regime. Already the Communists were denouncing the "shameful' acts of the Americans for what they called the "false apology."

(Meanwhile the Navy announced in San Diego today that the Pueblo crew should arrive at Miramir Naval Air Station at 4 p.m. tomorrow — a full day later than expected.

(A spokesman said the crew will meet newsmen at 8 p.m. today in a hospital in Seoul, attend midnight religious services and leave for San Diego at 2 a.m. PST from Kimpo Air Force Base.)

Bucher was the first to cross the bridge of no return between North and South Korea. He was followed by an ambulance containing the body of Duane Daniel Hodges, 21, who was killed when the Pueblo was captured last Jan. 23.

Then came the others. There were smiles and a few tears. Their bodies were bruised from savage beatings administered by guards who held them at the point of a machinegun. Some had black eyes.

Bucher said, "I think there are many of my crew who are in very bad physical condition just from a nutritional point of view."

"I was not prepared mentally for the beatings that were handed out," Bucher said. "I thought they were totally brutal —with no mercy of any kind. They were done for one purpose and that was to terrify and terrorize people."

The men were flown by helicopter to the 121st U.S. Medical Evacuation Hospital at Ascom City, eight miles west of Seoul, where they spent their first night of freedom. They underwent medical checkups conducted by a team of 105 medical officers headed by Col. Warren C. Burhanan, commanding officer of the hospital.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to the crewmen but a

Spacemen All Set For Lunar Orbit

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—America's Apollo 8 astronauts approached the grip of the moon's gravity today with everything "go" for a momentous swing into lunar orbit early Christmas Eve.

"Everything looks good for the lunar orbit," said flight director Glynn Lunney as Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders entered the third day of their daring six-day, half-million-mile round trip.

They already had traveled far enough to guarantee at least a pass around the back of the moon before heading back to earth.

Barring any last minute problems, they will trigger their big rocket engine at 1:59 a.m. (PST) tomorrow to drop into the first of 10 loops around the moon. The final, formal, clearance for the crucial maneuver will be radioed to the pilots early tomorrow.

"I hope you're looking us over carefully," Borman said. "The one thing we want is a perfect spacecraft before we consider this LOI (lunar orbit injection) burn."

Once Apollo 8 gets in a moon orbit, its main engine must operate to blast them back to Earth early Christmas morning. If it failed, the astronauts would be hopelessly stranded in lunar orbit.

The historic orbital reconnaissance run will pave the way for a landing by another American crew as early as next spring.

"I'm real pleased with the way things are going so far," Lunney said. "The spacecraft seems to be going in an essentially perfect fashion."

Lunney said the astronauts "sound real good this morning" and apparently were shaking off the "celestial flu" that plagued Borman yesterday. "They seem to be pretty chipper."

One minor snag developed when telemetry data indicated a secondary coolant valve did not close properly. Lunney, however, said it did not appear serious.

At 7:15 a.m. (PST) Apollo 8 was 191,033 miles from earth, 40,167 miles from the moon and traveling at 2,357 miles per hour. The pilots had completed more than three-quarters of man's first trip around the moon.

Their speed was expected to drop to about 2,100 mph under the drag of earth's gravity and then accelerate up to 7,000 mph when the earth surrenders its influence on Apollo 8 to the pull of the moon at mid-afternoon.

Aside from the threat of more sickness among the crewmen, the voyage of Apollo 8 was moving along without a hitch. Its pilots continued their business-like performance and appeared in good spirits.

"We're all feeling pretty good now," reported Lovell 47 hours after Saturday's blastoff from Cape Kennedy. "No problems," but he said the cabin was "slightly cold."

Flight engineer Anders awoke from an "off an on" sleep about 5:30 a.m. and was told by ground controllers that Apollo 8's systems "are looking go."

"Good deal," replied the sleepy-sounding pilot.

The astronauts were told that engineers on the ground were trying to find a way to improve the quality of the moonship's out-of-the-window television shots for their second interplanetary telecast later today.

Ground communicator Jerry Carr said the pilots' initial telecast yesterday was upstaged for the youngsters living around the Houston space center by Santa Claus.

"He came along on a fire engine just about the time you guys came along," said Carr. "So the little critters were all outside."

Apollo 8's course was so accurate that flight directors decided to skip a planned steering correction today. Navigator Lovell was keeping tabs on the ship's path by using a space-age version of the sextant used for centuries by sea-going navigators.

When communicator Kenneth Mattingly praised Lovell for his work, Borman chimed in last night and said:

"We've got to spend four more days up here with him, will you take it easy. He's already talking about going back to MIT as a professor."

Cong Reject Saigon's Direct Talk Proposal

"Direct talks with the Saigon administraton are impossible," a Viet Cong spokesman said, because the South Vietnam government represents "no one."

Ky arrived back in Saigon and revised the offer, saying the talks could be held only after U.S. and North Vietnamese troops pulled out of South Vietnam.

Ky's statement to newsmen at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport contrasted to his offer yesterday, broadcast in a U.S. televised interview, that Saigon was willing to talk with the Viet Cong.

"So as my president and government had always said...we are ready to hear them, to meet with them and talk with them, discuss with them their problems," Ky had said in the televised interview.

On his return to Saigon for the Christmas holidays, Ky explained his government's position this way:

"I think if the North Vietnamese withdraw beyond the 17th parallel, the allied (U.S.) troops will pull out of South Vietnam and then the common border between North and South will be secured...and we will have peace . . ."

Cleaver Forfeits Bail Of $50,000

OAKLAND (AP) — Fugitive Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, sought as a parole violator, forfeited $50,000 bail today when he failed to show up in Alameda County Superior Court.

His wife, Kathleen, and four others who signed a promissory note for the 33-year-old militants bail said they would ask the public to help pay the bill.

"The committee has no regrets about Cleaver's actions and we accept our responsibility for the ransom payment and we hope the community at large will help share our financial burden," the five said in a statement.

Rusk Says Release Formula One Of Strangest Of All Procedures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Release of the Pueblo crewmen was obtained under what Secretary of State Dean Rusk calls one of the strangest diplomatic procedures in Cold War history and another high official calls just plain "kooky."

The formula called for the chief U.S. negotiator to sign a statement admitting U.S. guilt but only after the North Koreans agreed to let him publicly announce beforehand that the statement was a lie.

"Apparently the North Koreans believe there is propaganda value even in a worthless document which Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward publicly is[illegible] false before he signed it," Rusk said.

The document signed by Woodward, the chief U.S. negotiator, said the Pueblo had entered North Korean waters, and declared that the U.S. government "shoulders full responsibility and solemnly apologizes for grave acts of espionage." It gave "firm assurance no U.S. ships will intrude again."

Woodward, in his public repudiation in advance of signing the statement, said "the document which I am going to sign is at variance with the (U.S.) position but my signature will not and cannot alter the facts.

"I will sign the document to free the crew and only to free the crew."

Rusk commented that in 19 years of public service he knew of no precedent for the contradictory statements.

Another high official privately described the final formula, one of two suggested in the past month by Washington, as "kooky."

The instructions for Woodward to sign the false statement came from the State Department with the knowledge of President Johnson, officials said. President-elect Richard Nixon was informed but not consulted in advance about the arrangement, they added.

The South Korean government also was kept informed of the developments and "showed good understanding of our problems," authorities said.

While Rusk said efforts will have to be pursued further to regain the Pueblo, State Department officials said no more private meetings were planned at Panmunjom to obtain its release.

The North Koreans are believed to have long ago exhausted its value as far as secrets are concerned and they could

Nixon Leaves For Florida

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon left New York today for a Christmas vacation in Florida, saying the wedding of his daughter helped him to shake the flu.

Nixon smiled and was strong of voice as he and his wife, Pat, came out of their Fifth Avenue apartment to motor to the airport. He called back to the shouted question of newsmen behind police lines: "I had a bit of the flu, but the wedding cured the flu."

Asked how he felt about the release by North Korea of the crewmen of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo, Nixon said he was "glad the boys were home."

$6 Million Project Near Civic Center To Be Aired

A $6 million commercial project with four floors above ground for professional offices and two underground floors for parking is planned on North San Pedro Road directly across from the Marin Civic Center.

Charlton Investment Co. of San Francisco, represented by San Francisco architect Gilbert Oliver, was to unveil the plans before the Marin County Planning Commission this afternoon.

If the plans are approved, the developers hope to start construction within a year and have the first offices ready for use in a year and a half, said Oliver.

President of the development firm is Clyde Charlton of San Francisco.

"It will be mainly professional offices," said Oliver. "We also plan commercials such as a restaurant, banking services, perhaps a barber shop, cigar store and other satellite uses."

Oliver said the development will be in stages, over three or four years. "Ultimately, it would be worth $6 or $7 million," he said.

When completed, the project will have 600 parking spaces and space equivalent to more than 3.5 acres.

The developers are buying 5.2 acres of land from Emil and Robert Lauchenauer. The property extends from North San Pedro Road to San Pablo Avenue.

"The overall concept looks good," commented Werner von Gundell, chief of current planning for the county planning department, "but there are still a few bugs to be worked out."

Truce Eve Brings Big Red Shellings

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist rockets today hammered villages, airfields and military camps across South Vietnam, killing 13 persons and wounding 30 on the eve of the guerrillas' 72-hour Christmas truce.

Military spokesmen said South Vietnamese troops battled 400 Communists 16 miles southwest Saigon yesterday and today, and killed 81 of them while losing 12 dead and 36 wounded themselves.

In the capital, a terrorist bomb shattered the home of a local military official, killing one South Vietnamese and wounding another. The official was not home at the time.

At least 12 of the dead and 20 of the wounded in the nationwide rocket attacks were caught in a four-round barrage into Dogpatch, a shantytown next to the U.S. air base at Da Nang.

Headquarters said a total of 100 man-sized rockets slammed into the Da Nang base, Dogpatch, a highlands village, two airfields and a U.S. military base in the Mekong Delta.

The shellings came about 24 hours before the 72-hour cease-fire declared by the Viet Cong beginning at 1 a.m. tomorrow. The allies proclaimed a 24-hour holiday truce of their own, to start at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

The four rounds that crashed into Dogpatch were part of a 20-round rocket attack against the U.S. military bastion at Da Nang, South Vietnam's second biggest city 380 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters said five American servicemen suffered wounds in the Da Nang attack. Spokesmen said damage from all the barrages was light.

In nine raids, U.S. B52 bombers struck back at Red hideouts in the north, in the Central Highlands and around Saigon where South Vietnam's premier says a Communist offensive is building.

Near Saigon, about 400 guerrillas yesterday attacked a U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division post, killing 17 Americans and wounding 12. The GIs threw back the attack, killing at least 81 Communists.

It was the largest Red battle toll since Nov. 14 when U.S. troops killed 287 Communists in a fight in the same area, near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

Pair Facing Robbery In Bus Hijack

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — Two young men faced robbery of a chartered bus carrying 46 passengers on their way in Nevada gambling casinos.

The suspects, who identified themselves as George Washington Johnson and Michael White, both 22, were captured here a few hours after they jumped from the Continental Trailways bus.

Two masked men pistol-whipped five passengers and the driver, Collin Dingwall, 29, Mill Valley, and fled with $5,000 in cash plus watches, wallets, purses and jewelry late Friday night while the bus was rolling along Interstate 80 between Fairfield and Vallejo.

The robbers left the bus after passenger Allen Rowe of San Francisco grappled with one of them, took away his knife and stabbed the man.

"I hit him in the face and stabbed him," Rowe said. "After I hit him, he called to 'Glen,' the man near the driver, and told him to shoot." Rowe said three shots were fired, but no one was hit.

The robbers forced their way into a room at a nearby hotel, tied up a couple and stole their car. They abandoned the auto near here after it crashed into a ditch and fled on foot.

Police recovered several purses, billfolds and about $100 in cash in a sack left in a field near the spot where they found the car.

The two suspects were arrested after one of them went to a Fairfield home and requested first aid for a stab wound in his hand. A woman treated the hand, then called police after the man left.

Solano County Sheriff's Sgt. Jack Oller said state and federal fingerprint files were being checked to positively identify the suspects.

U.S. Will Give Up 10 Bases In Japan

TOKYO (AP) —The United States offered today to give up 10 military bases in Japan and to move or share with Japanese defense forces about 40 others.

The move was seen as a U.S. attempt to calm opposition in Japan to American military presence in the nation.

Japanese defense officials said the offer was accepted.

The bases to be given up include training grounds around Tokyo and Hokkaido and some naval installations and recreation areas in Yokohama and Yokosuka, the officials reported.

The United States has 148 bases and installations here under the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

The agreement was reached at a three-hour session of the security treaty joint consultative committee attended by Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi; Kuichi Arita, directr-general of the Japanese defense agency; U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Adm. John S. McCain Jr., commander of U.S. Naval Forces in the Pacific.

Johnson told a news conference the proposal covers almost half of the total land occupied by U.S. bases and installations.

He added that the United States has maintained only the minimum number of bases necessary to carry out its commitment to the defense of Japan and had no desire to hold the bases for their own sake.

Aichi said Japan welcomes the U.S. proposal as a constructive step.

Faith Crisis Prompts Pope To Set Synod

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today summoned an extraordinary gathering of bishops from around the world to meet in a new synod next Oct. 11 to help him deal with the crisis of faith and disobedience sweeping the Roman Catholic Church.

It will be the second such synod in history. The first took place at the Vatican last year.

The Pope announced the new synod in a pre-Christmas speech deploring anew defiance of church authority and negative reactions to his stand against birth control.

"We are not unaware of the different reactions caused by our pronouncement (on birth control), the Pope told a meeting of cardinals, members of his Vatican staff and prelates from the Rome diocese. He had called them together to express his Christmas greetings.

"We cannot keep silent the sorrow caused us by seeing sometimes the incomprehension or misreading of our intentions and even our words."

The Pope indicated he would soon speak out to answer the many objections swirling up against his birth control decision.

"We have taken note of all with the respect we owe to all and with the purpose of not failing when the moment is right to make the replies which appear necessary, especially on the level of pastoral concern," he said.

Speaking of the crisis of obedience and faith—termed by many the most serious for the Church since the Protestant Reformation —the Pope said: "What must be said of those other episodes— and they are not few or obscure—that make people speak of a crisis of the Church, of faith, and a crisis of discipline?"

He said he was aware of "unease, of aspirations, of impatience that can assume at times tones and aspects almost of revolt," he added: "And we are desirous of answering it in the best way possible, but at the same time (we are) duty bound required to safeguard the sacred deposit of truth and norms of life that have been entrusted to the Church by its founder and that we must preserve essentially unharmed as it has been transmitted to us . . ."

Petite Blonde Now In Kidnap Spotlight

MIAMI (UPI)—The spotlight in the Mackle kidnaping swung today to Ruth Eiseman Schier, 26, a petite, Hondurus-born blonde biology researcher.

The FBI listed Miss Schier as the second half of a kidnap team of "superior intelligence" that botched and bungled one of the nation's most bizarre's kidnapings —twice collecting and twice letting slip through their fingers a half million dollars in ransom.

With the arrest of Miss Schier and the recovery or accounting for about $700, authorities could stamp as closed a stranger-than-fiction kidnap, ransom and chase that began early last Tuesday.

The FBI found about $17,000 yesterday when they arrested Gary Steven Krist, accused abductor of heiress Barbara Jane Mackle, on a muck-covered bit of land near here known as Hog Island.

About $480,000 of the $500,000 in $20 bills paid as ransom for the 20-year-old Emory University coed was abandoned in a boat Krist had bailed out of in favor of Hog Island and the dense underbrush that hid him for about 10 hours.

Agents figured he had used another $2,300 of the ransom paid by millionaire land developer Robert Mackle to buy a 17-foot boat late Friday for his unusual escape attempt.

Krist was arraigned yesterday before a U.S. Commissioner as he lay in a hospital bed in Fort Myers. He later was transferred to the Dade County jail here. His bond was set at $500,000.

Her associates at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Sciences, where Krist worked as a marine technician and she conducted biology research as a graduate student, were still stunned to think she apparently had a part in the kidnaping.

A secretary who worked with Miss Schier remembered her as a "sweet and charming girl, one who took her work seriously."

Dr. Sual Broida of the physical and chemical oceanography department in which Miss Schier was enrolled felt "she seemed to be preoccupied" just after meeting Krist on a two-week cruise to Bermuda in September.

"I talked to her about it and she said she was going to study harder," Broida said. "She wasn't studying. She wasn't doing her work."

Now she and Krist, known as George Deacon at the university, face kidnaping charges in the predawn abduction of Barbara Jane from an Atlanta motel. Miss Mackle was found by FBI agents Friday buried in a coffin-like box about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

43 Train Deaths

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A freight train and a train packed with holiday travelers collided at full speed southeast of Budapest last night and officials said today 43 persons perished and 57 were injured.

Huge lifting cranes, 300 railway salvage workers, firemen, doctors, Hungarian and Soviet soldiers, and army tanks were used to grope through the tangled wreckage in search of the dead, the injured and survivors.

A communique issued by the Hungarian State Railways said Ference Szantai, signal operator at Mende near the scene, and Laszlo Papp, engineer of the passenger train were responsible for the crash. Szantai, it added, has been arrested. Papp is among those seriously injured.

Papacy Protest

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Students from Milan's Catholic University passed out leaflets in Taranto today protesting the visit of Pope Paul VI to say midnight Mass Christmas Eve for the region's steel workers.

The 71-year-old pontiff, is coming to the Taranto steel center to demonstrate sympathy for the workers.

But the students told the workers that while the Pope celebrates mass with them, the workers in the Isolotto section of Florence "will united in a vigil of prayer" to show support for their ousted priest, Don Enzo Mazzi.

Confidence Vote

The vote was 351 to 247.

The vote completed the parliamentary mandate for Italy's 29th postwar government. It had won its initial vote of confidence in the Senate, 181 to 119, last Wednesday.

Rumor's government is a coalition of his own Christian Democrat party, the Socialists and the Republicans. It was formed Dec. 12, ending six months of stopgap minority government and political crisis during which Italy went through increasingly violent labor demonstrations and student disorders.

Art Theft Foiled

LONDON (AP) — Nicholas Bowe, 49, an Irish artist, was put on probation for a year today after pleading guilty to trying to steal a Rembrandt from Britain's National Gallery.

The painting, known as "Lucia," was valued at $480,000. Bowe was caught trying to slip it out of the gallery yesterday.

Transit Strike

ROME (AP) — All public transport in Rome was halted today for 24 hours by a strike that jammed traffic, made workers late for their jobs and disrupted last minute Christmas shopping.

With all buses and streetcars idle, almost every private car in the city was brought out and traffic was chaotic.

Many people walked. Commuters from the suburbs stayed home or did their shopping in neighborhood stores. Police and soldiers guarded tourist buses and army trucks that were pressed into service as emergency transport.

California's population, now about 19 million, has doubled every 20 years since the turn of the century.

Famed Couple Wed 60 Years

LONDON (AP) — Dame Sybil Thorndike and Sir Lewis Casson, who spent their long careers on the stage, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary yesterday.

Sir Lewis, 93, and Dame Sybil, 86, were in a play together when they became engaged and they appeared together as recently as last July. They have four children, 10 gradchildren and two great grandchildren.

Sir Lewis says he plans to retire from the stage and do some broadcasting. Dame Sybil is looking for another play.

"You've got to be pals to make marriage last," said Dame Sybil. "Idyllic love that brings you together obviously cannot continue for a lifetime."

Glue Sniffing Suspect Slain

OROVILLE (AP) — A 20-year old Oroville man suspected of having gotten high on glue was shot to death by two policeman yesterday after he fired at them.

Dead was Joe Spates, in whose room police said they found several tubes of glue.

The officers, investigating reports Spates had been acting strangely, found him in his basement. They said Spates lifted a .38-caliber pistol, pegged a shot and was hit by return fire.

AUGUSTINE W. AYERS

Hamilton Names New Executive

Lt. Col. Augustine W. Ayers, a veteran of World War II, has been named executive officer of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Colonel Ayers received his commission through the aviation cadet program in 1944, two years after enlisting. During World War II, he flew 30 combat missions over Europe as pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress. He also flew in the Berline Airlift in 1949.

Other assignments of Colonel Ayers have included Clark Air Base, Philippine Islands; Goose Air Base, Labradore, and Takhli Royal Thai Air Base, Thailand.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and Air Force Commendation Medal.

Colonel and Mrs. Ayers live at 286 Buena Vista Drive on the base.

Thurmond, Bride On Honeymoon

The 66-year-old senator, the 1948 Dixiecrat presidential candidate, and Miss Moore said their vows at a private ceremony at the Aiken Presbyterian Church.

Only 35 persons, 26 of them relatives of the couple, were invited to the wedding. Dr. J. William Thurmond was his brother's best man. Miss Moore's maid of honor was her sister, Ardene Carol Moore of Lexington, Ky. Her father, Paul R. Moore, gave her in marriage.

The couple posed for wedding pictures and held a reception at the church after the ceremony. Thurmond said a public reception will be held later.

Other than relatives, only close aides and friends of Thurmond and the Moore family attended. About 150 persons gathered outside the church.

Thurmond had said Miss Moore, who was Miss South Carolina in 1966, preferred a ceremony without the confusion that spectators and photographers might cause.

Apparently angered over what he said was the "undignified" publicity given to the age difference of the couple when the engagement was announced, Thurmond had refused to make public any plans for the wedding—even the date, time and place.

Bruised, Beaten Ship Crew Gains Freedom

ranking American official said the 82 men seemed to be in "reasonable health." A few of the men including Bucher were limping.

Bucher denounced the seizure of his intelligence ship Jan. 23, denied having steered into North Korean waters and told newsmen, "I surrendered the ship because there was nothing but a slaughter out there and I couldn't see allowing any more people to be slaughtered or killing the entire crew for no reason." He described the beating, clubbing and kicking of his men by Communist captors.

But his voice rang loudest in paying tribute to his men: "They never once lost their spirit or faith in the United States of America. Never once did they give me any cause for concern.

"They were so typically American that they thoroughly confused our captors. This happened on so many different occasions.

"I had people come to me and say on so many occasions that they never really appreciated how great it was to be an American until they had the misfortune to have been captured. Those guys were simply tremendous." Bucher said.

Many of the crewmen—including two civilian technicians—yanked off the North Korean military blue overcoats in which they had spanned freedom bridge. They galloped aboard helicopters that took them to Anscom City where a band played "California Here I Come" and doctors checked them out on the first stop toward home and reunion with families.

"I was hit a few times, only with fists, never with any kind of stick or club. I was kicked a few times. When you're looking down the barrel of a machine-gun it's pretty difficult to defend yourself.

"There was a helluva lot more of them than there were of us.

"The week before last, we went through the most concentrated form of terror I have ever seen. I was not prepared mentally for the beatings that were handed out. About half of the crew was beaten last week.

"One man was hit by a four by four. But our life was not made so miserable that it was unbearable. I now feel surprisingly good shape," said the 39-year-old Pocatello, Idaho, officer whose boyhood was spent in orphanages.

Their captors told them only four days ago they would be released.

The North Koreans, whose ships surrounded and shot at and then grabbed the Pueblo, kept the ship and its valuable gear.

Bucher said some secret documents did fall into Red hands.

"We made attenpts to destroy everything. Truthfully, we had not completed it," he told newsmen.

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kuk, the North Korean negotiator known in Panmunjom as "Frogface," appeared pleased when Maj. Gen. Gilbert Hume Woodward signed on the undotted line to free the Pueblo crewmen. "Pak is always arrogant," Woodward said later.

He described the document he signed as "the usual garbage they have been putting out."

Before signing, Woodward said: "The position of the United States government with regard to the Pueblo, as consistently expressed in the negotiations at Panmunjom and in public, has been that the ship was not engaged in illegal activity, that there is no convincing evidence that the ship at any time intruded into the territorial waters as claimed by North Korea, and that we could not apologize for actions which we did not believe took place. The document that I am going to sign was prepared by the North Koreans and is at variance with the above position. But my signature cannot and will not alter the fact.

"I will sign the document to free the crew and only to free the crew."

North Korea almost wrung its hands in glee. The official North Korean news agency said: "The U.S. imperialists bent the knee again to the (North) Korean people before the world people which is a deserving punishment for their arrogant criminal act."

In Washington, the freeing of the Pueblo men brought cheers and Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he simply could not understand how or why the Communists agreed to the "strange procedure" of accepting a worthless "apology."

President Johnson hailed the U.S. action as one that "preserved the integrity of the United States."

In his statement, he said: "I am deeply gratified that after a long eleven months of totally unjustified detention by the North Koreans, the crew of the USS Pueblo have been freed. They should be reunited with their families in time for Christmas and I am happy for them that their time of ordeal ends on a note of joy.

"I want to pay tribute also to the patience and courage of these relatives while their husbands, fathers and sons were held by the North Koreans.

"The negotiations at Panmunjom were cruelly drawn out and I am grateful for the understanding which the Pueblo families showed through the long and painful period during which their government has sought to free the crew . . . "

In New York, President-elect Richard M. Nixon said, "All Americans are delighted and relieved that the ordeal of the officers and men of the Pueblo has at last come to an end. Mrs. Nixon and I wish them and their families a very happy Christmas."

There was no doubt it would be that kind of Christmas. "It's the best present I could ask for," said Leo McCarren in Johnstown, Pa. His son Donald, 33, was a crewman.

In Carthage, Miss., Mrs. R. H. Wadley got a telephone call yesterday from the Navy that her son, Kenneth, 30, was coming home. "I just kept crying the whole time the man was talking to me," she said.

Families of the Pueblo will have planeside reunions at the San Diego air station before the crew is whisked away upon their arrival for "as close a medical checkt as an astronaut would get."

The San Diego station is the home port of the Pueblo and several of the families live in San Diego, including Bucher's wife and family.

The government paid the air fares for dependents flying here from across the nation. The first group was slated to arrive at noon today aboard a commercial airliner.

The Navy reserved 80 rooms at the El Cortez Hotel in the downtown area. Management of the hotel granted reduced rates to the families and the president of the local chamber of commerce went on television last night to appeal for contributions to make up the difference.

Although final plans were not set, it appeared the crew will have a brief reunion with their families at Miramar, then be taken to Balboa Naval Hospital.

"They will get as close a medical check as an astronaut would get and a similarly thorough debriefing," a military official said. The families will wait in the hospital lounge.

It was uncertain whether the men would live at the hospital at the base or with their families at the hotel.

not sail it on the high seas without risk of reprisals.

State Department officials credited Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach and a small group of Korean experts including Ambassador Winthrop Brown, former U.S. envoy to Korea and Laos and Country Director James Leonard, with working out the formula North Korea finally accepted. They gave this tentative explanation for its acceptance:

North Korea will make as much use as it can of the U.S. "confession" that the Pueblo had illegally intruded into Korean waters on an espionage mission when it was captured Jan. 23. The document may be believed in some Communist countries but will not be accepted in most other countries.

High U.S. officials said the United States put two conditions on an offer made Dec. 17 to sign a false confession in order to obtain the release of the men.

One was that all 82 men had to be returned by Dec. 23. The other was that the United States would not accept the facts contained in statements.

The offer the North Koreans finally accepted was one U.S. negotiators suggested as an alternative to a so-called "overwrite" proposal. Under the "over-white" plan General Woodward would simply have signed a receipt for delivery of the Pueblo crew on top of a "confession' of guilt by the United States, thus leaving unclear exactly what he was signing.

Officials gave the following rough chronology of the negotiations:

In the first meetings after the Pueblo was captured, the North Koreans formulated four demands—admission of espionage, acknowledgement that "confessions" of the crew broadcast by the North Korean radio were valid; an apology by the U.S. government but not necessarily President Johnson, and assurances against any further U.S. intrusion.

Throughout the 29 sessions at Panmunjom the U.S. side took the position that North Korea had not proved there was U.S. intrusion into Korean waters. The mission of the Pueblo as an intelligence ship was never denied.

However, the North Koreans were told that the United States would give an apology if in fact an investigation by an impartial body found that the Pueblo had penetrated inside the 12-mile limit.

These offers were made orally on Feb. 16 and Feb. 26 and again in March but were rejected.

On April 22, the U.S. proposed for the first time that it would sign a draft receipt for the men over conditional language written by the North. The Koreans refused this formula.

On May 8 the North Korean side came up with a statement that was essentially the same as the statement Woodward signed in Panmunjom Monday. This statement contained a paragraph providing for signing it only after all 82 men were actually free. From May to October, the North Koreans refused to give any promise to release the crew if the statement were signed.

The United States wanted clear assurances that if a statement were signed, the crew would be released simultaneously, officials said.

On Dec. 10, the United States broke the normal rotation sequence and asked for another meeting at Panmunjom, although it was the North Korean turn to call the meeting. The North Koreans then agreed to last Tuesday's meeting of three hours and 40 minutes. The dual proposal was put forward for a receipt for the men to be signed on a "confession" written by the North Koreans and secondly, the false confession which was repudiated in advance.

"We had no hint they would accept," said one high U.S. authority who could not be identified. "We thought they would accept our receipt proposal."

The North Koreans came back last Thursday, with a marathon four hour, 50 minute session. A great many details were discussed, including the number of newsmen to be present.

Finally, Saturday a short meeting served to notify the U.S. negotiators that the exchange would take place yesterday.

LEAVING CHURCH—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower II walk out of Marble Collegiate Church in New York. They were married yesterday, and today were off to what what the new Mrs. Eisenhower called "secret, secret" place for their honeymoon. (AP Wirephoto)

Fairy Tale Wedding For Julie, David

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—"To have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death do us part, according to God's ordinance, and there to I pledge myself truly with all my heart."

With these sacred words Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower became man and wife yesterday afternoon in ceremonies with which millions of couples have pledged that "what therefore God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

SPECIAL PAIR

But Julie and David were a special pair and their fairy tale wedding marked a special niche in Americana.

Julie, 20, is the lovely, dark-haired daughter of the next president of the United States, Richard M. Nixon. Tousle-haired David is the only grandson of the former president Dwight David Eisenhower. Their union is unique in U. S. history, for it is the matrimonial linking of a presidential family with that of a presidential-elect's family.

Julie and David grew up in the shadow of the White House, they were linked from childhood by the world of politics and they found each other as adults falling in love against the background of politics and a presidential campaign.

'SECRET, SECRET'

Today, the new Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower II honeymooned at a spot the bride said was "secret, secret" although she had packed warm weather clothing for it.

Now the glittering marriage in historic old Marble Collegiate Church with Dr. Norman Vincent Peale officiating and the swinging reception at the Plaza Hotel were for memories and the photo albums.

Some 500 guests attended the wedding yesterday afternoon to watch as the tiny, chestnut-haired bride in a long white silk peau d'ange dress with a Victorian old-fashionedness to its styling said "I do" to the lad whom she'd dated since freshman college days.

The setting in the high, domed auditorium of the 114-year-old Dutch Reformed Church combined Christmas—the altar was banked with poinsettias and evergreen wreaths decked the auditorium—with a white and pink motif traditional of a wedding. A white linen runner covered the 65 feet of aisle down which the bride walked. Her bridesmaids and maid of honor were all in palest pink.

Christmas set the mood for much of the wedding music too; the organist played a combination of old English wedding tunes, Christmas carols and bits of Broadway hit tunes.

Members of the President-elect's new cabinet and their wives; Vice-President Spiro Agnew and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, the Herbert Brownells, Clare Boothe Luce, the Norman Chandlers—all the notables who attended the 15-minute church service called it beautiful, "simply beautiful."

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple received a congratulatory telegram from the bridegroom's grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Both are in Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. He is recovering from a series of heart attacks and she from influenza. They watched the wedding by special closed circuit television.

"They're so happy," Julie said of the grandparents. David disclosed that his doting grandfather had given the couple a color television set for their Northampton, Mass., apartment where they will live when they resume college after the first of the year.

FEW EXCEPTIONS

No one cried—at least none would admit to a tear.

And the bridegroom did not kiss the bride when the marriage was sealed. Instead, Julie turned suddenly and kissed her father when it came to the moment in the ceremony for the bride to be given away.

Later, at the Plaza Hotel where the couple, their parents and attendants posed for photographers and answered reporters' questions, David bussed Julie soundly.

It was a kiss from a shy young man only after the newsmen had shouted "chicken" and after Julie had removed a short white glove to show off a white gold and diamond wedding band which went on third finger left hand. Her diamond engagement ring once had belonged to David's great grandmother, Mrs. John S. Doud, of Denver.

Fire In Well Extinguished Accidentally

GRANADA HILLS (UPI) — Firemen report additional and "more dangerous" complications have developed after a five-day old fire at a gas and oil well was accidentally extinguished yesterday, causing natural gas fumes to escape into the air instead of being consumed by the fire.

"That's just about the worst thing that could have happened," said a Los Angeles County Fire department spokesman. "The hazard of explosion has been added to our other troubles."

Firemen had attempted to cool the blaze with sprays of water in order to remove a collapsed derrick and other debris. Instead, the water completely doused the flames.

Asger (Boots) Hanson, in charge of the operation to cap the well, said: "It's just more dangerous. We've got to get it done now without throwing a single spark."

As Hanson worked on a ruptured valve near the well head, firemen monitered the concentration of gas vapor in the area, which was dissipated by a brisk freeze.

A spokesman said a 10-foot section of the well pipe must be replaced before a valve could be attached because the top of the pipe was badly damaged by flames. The pipe is embedded in concrete and the process of digging it out was expected to take several hours.

The fire, at the Getty Oil Co. field in Limekiln Canyon, began when the original valve ruptured and the derrick collapsed.

$5 Million Fire In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fire ripped through four plush stores in the city's shopping district last night causing what one fire official estimated at more than $5 million in damage—the greatest loss here since the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

Heavily damaged by the wind-whipped flames was Gump's, an internationally known fine arts emporium which listed more than $1 million in Oriental art objects alone on the second of its three floors.

Also gutted was Schneider's—a fur establishment offering its wares for as much as $40,000 apiece—Auger's Jewelers and Malm's Luggage.

Abercrombie & Fitch, mentioned in a recent local newspaper society page story as a source of gifts "for the man who has everything," received extensive damage from torrents of water. The 180 firemen battling the inferno were hampered by both the wind, which at times exceeded 40 miles an hour, and by 40-degree temperatures. Two firemen were injured by flying glass.

Arthur H. Malm, owner of Malm Luggage, has a summer home at 276 Beach Road, Belvedere, and his son-in-law, Edward W. Detrick, manager of the Post Street store lives at 231 Poplar, Kentfield.

Investigators said the flames also virtually destroyed a half-block-long Gump's warehouse which company officials said housed a "fabulous antique collection."

A resident of an apartment house across an alley behind Gump's, Carol Cutler, 20, said: "I heard glass cracking and all of a sudden she burst into flames." Firemen said four explosions followed, but what touched it all off was undetermined.

Earlier, she reported, she and other occupants had heard alarm bells ringing in Gump's.

No one was reported in the buildings, however.

Arrest Follows Gun Brandishing

Arthur Allen Newton, 38, of 209 Mranda Drive, took the weapon from the trunk of his car and waved it around in the house, his wife, who signed the complaint, told sheriff's deputies.

Newton was held in lieu of $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Lumber Firm's Safe Rifled Of $430

Burglars took $430 from the Mill Valley Lumber Co. safe between 5:30 p.m. Saturday and 8:20 a.m. Sunday after breaking the safe open with the company's high power drills, police reported.

Police said the burglars apparently forced open the back door of the lumber company at 129 Miller Avenue, rolled the 12 cubic foot safe out into the lumber yard and proceeded to drill open the safe door. The drills were also taken, police said.

College Readies Adult Courses

A schedule of 110 winter quarter adult classes ranging from income tax preparation to musical production are scheduled to start Jan. 6 at College of Marin, according to Eugene A. Farrar, director of community education.

Late registration must be completed at the college office, Room 2, Harlan Hall, or in the first class meeting if space is available. The winter quarter will continue through March 22.

Classes are almost all the same as were offered during the fall quarter.

About 460 pounds of paper is used per person each year in the United States.

Hayakawa Hits Check Transfer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Acting president S. I. Hayakawa is angered by a $400 check paid to Rev. A. Cecil Williams for a lecture given Dec. 3 at the Ecumenical House opposite the troubled San Francisco State campus.

The Rev. Mr. Williams endorsed the check—paid from student body funds—and gave it to the Black Students Union chapter on campus.

The state attorney general's office, which began an investigation of student government finances earlier this month, is examining the transaction.

Hayakawa suggested the $400 is a high lecture fee although the Rev. Mr. Williams replied "I've gotten more than that."

The check was later found in the possession of Nesbit Crutchfield, 29, an outspoken BSU leader who has been arrested twice during the campus unrest.

"This destroys any claim to moral leadership Mr. Williams may have," Hayakawa said yesterday.

The people of Bermuda spend more money on travel than any other people in the world, according to a United Nations survey.

LBJ Asks Continued Economic Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, giving an advance peek at some suggestions he's likely to make in his final economic message, has called for continuing stringent efforts to control the balance of payments deficit.

The direction of Johnson's recommendations for 1969 which will go to Congress some time before he steps out Jan. 20, was indicated yesterday in an exchange of letters between the President and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Johnson endorsed recommendations in a report prepared by Fowler as chairman of the Cabinet Commmittee on Balance of Payments on ways to further reduce the deficit.

The recommendations amounted to further doses of the medicine Johnson prescribed Jan. 1, 1967, to curb the impalance between spending by Americans and the U.S. government abroad over what this country receives from abroad.

But at least one of the recommendations—continued limits on capital and other investments U.S. firms can make abroad—could be headed for trouble if included in Johnson's final economic message.

Economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who will have to decide which measures to continue, have spoken against these limitations.

And some of Johnson's own advisers have, too.

Johnson said the recommendations on the balance of payments were being readied now "to facilitate an effective transition to the new administration and the orderly development of future policies in this important area."

Fowler's report gives top priority to "a stable economy and restoration of a healthy United States trade surplus."

It also includes such other principal timbers of the 1968 program as:

Further efforts to cut military spending abroad.

Renewed efforts to lure more foreign travelers to the United States, the better to reduce the "travel deficit."

While the United States has been in a deficit position consistently for years—more money going out than coming in—the $3.6 billion deficit in 1967 was far heavier than usual and almost three ties the size of the 1965 and 1966 deficits.

Thieves Get $735 At Moose Lodge

Pry marks were found on two outside doors and an inside door. The lock had been broken off the cash box in the business office.

Marin Chamber Backs Hayakawa

Directors of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau have endorsed the attitude and policies of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa in meeting the troubles at San Francisco State College, Richard P. Nave, chamber president, reported.

Nave said the board believes "the irresponsibly disruptive actions of a small minority in any educational institution must not be allowed to dilute the scholastic aspirations and opportunities of the larger majority of students."

Nave said the board hopes Dr. Hayakawa's stand as acting president of the college will inspire administrators of similarly threatened institutions.

Theft Of Wire

Fred M. Coselli of Box 363, Valley Ford, Sonoma County, reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies Friday that someone entered his ranch, just south of the Sonoma County line, and stole 2,250 feet of copper power line, value undetermined.

Auto Collision Injures Four

Four persons, including a Petaluma couple, were injured in a two-car collision on Davis Lane, four miles north of Penngrove, Sonoma County, at 10:15 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said a car driven by Joao Melo, 28, of 7840 Davis Lane, traveling south, crossed the center line on a curve and collided with a car driven by Otto Applegate, 25, of 2017 Seventh Street, Apt. 2, Petaluma.

150 Attend Holilay Party At Firehouse

About 150 children attended a Christmas party at Station 1 of the Tamalpais Valley Fire Department yesterday, saw a magic show, had cookies and ice cream and a visit from Santa Claus who gave out candy canes.

Santa rode through Tamalpais and Homestead valleys Saturday on a pumper distributing candy canes and previously had visited kindergarten classes at schools in the district. On his travels he gave out 1,650 candy canes. Santa's visit was sponsored by the firemen.

Muskie Rules Out Whip Post

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, says he isn't interested in becoming majority whip of the Senate. "There are too many other things I have in mind to do," he told newsmen yesterday.

Muskie spoke later to the Jewish National Fund Hanukkah banquet.

Asked if he expects any changes in Senate leadership, Muskie replied, "On the Democratic side I expect none."

He said his limited staff and responsibilities in representing Maine, working with committees and in travel prevent his holding the whip position.

Smoke From Box Blinds Driver

Smoke from a smoldering box of auto polish and body putty blinded a San Francisco driver at 1:25 p.m. Saturday and his car veered into the center divider on Highway 101, south of Entrada Drive, Ignacio, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The driver, Gilbert Perez, 25, of 708 Fell Street, driving north told officers the smoke filled the car and he couldn't see and couldn't breathe.

Agreement Reached In Kaiser Contract

OAKLAND (AP)—Agreement on terms of a new contract between Local 250 of the striking Hospital and Institutional Workers Union and Kaiser-Permanente Medical Program was announced today.

The tentative settlement followed 30 hours of weekend negotiations and was approved by the union's negotiating committee, but was subject to ratification by 3,400 local 250 members at 11 Kaiser hospitals, including one in San Rafael, and 15 Permanente clinics in Northern California.

Bay area members were summoned to a special mass meeting late this afternoon at San Francisco Civic auditorium.

A separate ratification meeting was scheduled in Sacramento.

Details of the agreement will not be announced until after the union meetings, said Richard Groulx, executive secretary of the Alameda Central Labor Council.

Joining Groulx in announcing approval of the agreement were Jack Crowley, assistant secretary of the San Francisco Central Labor Council, Emerson Street, business representative of the Santa Clara County CLC, and Art Carter, executive secretary of the Countra Costa County CLC.

The hospital union had been seeking a 50-cent hourly wage hike.

Artist Garners Two Prizes In Contest

Lori Eliott of Mill Valley has won both prizes offered in a poster contest sponsored by Co-op Marin of Corte Madera for students of a College of Marin commercial art class.

Her entry was judged most popular with the Co-op Marin membership, and best in contest.

Biafran Supply Airlift Halted

GENEVA (AP) — A Red Cross airlift to famine-threatened Biafra has been stopped on orders from Equatorial Guinea, the International Red Cross Committee announced today.

The announcement said no explanation was given for the order, which halts supplies for some 850,000 people, most of them children.

The last supply flights left the Guinean island of Fernando Poo during the night of Dec. 20, the announcement said. The nine flights then carried about 90 tons of food to Biafra.

Today is Monday, Dec. 23, the 358th day of 1968 with eight to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1928 a permanent coast-to-coast radio network was established by NBC.

In 1948 ex-Premier Tojo of Japan and six other war leaders were hanged in Tokyo on orders of the Allied War Crimes Commission.

In 1953 former Russian secret police chief, Lavrenti Beria, was executed.

A thought for the day: A Christmas thought from the Gospel of Matthew: "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Teen-Ager's Play Shows Why He's A Life Master At 15

Joe Livezey, 15-year-old high school boy, became the youngest Life Master on record a few weeks ago during the national bridge tournament in Coronado. Today's hand shows a fine play that helped him win the Charity Paris from a field of 662 pairs of experts on the opening night of the 11-day tournament.

DIAMOND LEAD

West opened the four of diamonds, and East captured the king with the ace. East returned a diamond to force out dummy's queen, and now Livezey had no side entry to dummy's long clubs.

Undaunted, Livezey entered his hand with the king of hearts and led the low club to try a finesse with dummy's jack. A great master would have refused this trick, but East didn't happen to be great enough.

East took the queen of clubs and led a low spade. Livezey played low, and the defenders could take two spades. The young expert could then win any return and overtake the king of clubs with dummy's ace to take the rest of the tricks.

BETTER PLAY

Young Livezey's play of the clubs is worth remembering if your opponents are not great masters. Any play works if the queen of clubs is singleton, but the problem is to cope with Q-x or Q-x-x in the West hand or in the East hand.

The normal play of cashing the king of clubs and then leading a low club for a finesse will work in two of the four cases just named: when West has Q-x or Q-x-x of clubs. It will lose if East has Q-x or Q-x-x.

THREE CHANCES

The high school boy's play works if West has Q-x or if East has Q-x or Q-x-x. That is, his play works in three of the four cases instead of only two.

If East is skillful enough to refuse the trick when he has Q-x-x of clubs, however, the normal play of the clubs is mathematically superior to Livezey's play. It's not enough to play your cards; you must also play your opponents.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q 10 4
♡ Q J 2
◇ J 8 7 4 2
♣ 7 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. Since you have six points in high cards, the hand is worth a response to partner's opening bid. Show your long suit, such as it is, rather than bid no-trump.

Attorneys For Sirhan Ask Evidence

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A court hearing for Sirhan B. Sirhan was called today on a motion by his attorneys to obtain all information in the hands of the prosecution which would be useful in his defense on charges of the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The trial is scheduled to begin Jan. 7 and today's preliminary hearing was expected to be brief.

Defense attorney Grant Cooper said he would ask Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker to order the district attorney's office to make available all evidence and information they have gathered. Most such information already has been turned over by the prosecution and the hearing was largely a formal legal precaution.

One of the things the defense is seeking is the result of a blood test given Sirhan shortly after Kennedy was shot in the early morning of June 5.

Family Is Terrorized In $30,000 Gem Haul

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three young gunmen invaded a posh Presidio Heights mansion last night, terrorized its residents and escaped with more than $30,000 in jewelry and cash.

The robbers, all wearing bandanna masks and armed with pistols, broke into the home of Edmund B. MacDonald, 53, wealthy construction engineer and real estate man, about 11 p.m.

They forced his wife, Virginia, 45, and daughter, Sidney, 20, to lie face down on the floor. The gunmen beat the women with their pistols and fired two shots near them when they thought the women were too slow to obey their commands.

MacDonald opened his wall safe in another room after one of the gunmen fired a shot at his feet to hurry him. When the robbers found only a few hundred dollars inside, two of them began walking up and down on the women's backs.

Mrs. MacDonald then told them here hewr gems were kept in an upstairs room. Most of the loot was in jewels.

While ransacking the bedroom, the gunmen found Mrs. A.R. Vanderver, 80, Mrs. MacDonald's mother, in her bed. They ordered the elderly woman to take off her bracelet and, when she was slow in obeying, one man singed her hair with a cigarette lighter.

MacDonald told police the thieves then fled in a black sedan, apparently with a fourth man who acted as lookout. The gunmen, described as tall, slender men in their 20s, apparently scaled a high brick wall around the mansion and entered through French doors in the basement.

Marijuana Count Probation Set

Ann S. Weiner, 45, of 4 Avenida Olema, Stinson Beach, was placed on a year of probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for being in a place where marijuana was kept April 2.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. also ordered her to follow a program of therapy to be recommended by her probation officer.

Mrs. Weiner was taken to Marin County jail on a civil case warrant. A matron searching her purse at the booking desk discovered marijuana.

She was originally charged with a felony, possession of the weed, but the charge was reduced by the district attorney.

Teen-Agers Flood High School Gym

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Teen-aged vandals turned on an emergency fire hose at Lincoln High School gymnasium during the weekend, causing damage to the gym floor and to classrooms beneath.

Police discovered a deluge of water pouring into the classrooms yesterday after a neighbor spotted the flood through a window. Firemen sloshed out water and mopped floors for three hours.

Officials at the Sunset District school said the gym was extensively damaged, but gave no cost estimates. The water drained through electrical fixtures and buckled ceiling tiles on the ground floor. Warping could ruin the gym's hardwood floor, officials said.

Youngsters in the neighborhood told police two teen-aged boys were in the gym Saturday playing with a small fire extinguisher. The water came from an emergency hose pulled from an unlocked case and left running on the floor.

Theater Hit By $50,000 Blaze

OAKLAND (AP) —Several firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting a blaze which gutted the upper portion of the Fruitvale Theater and caused $50,000 damage today.

Fire officials said firemen were endangered briefly when a false ceiling collapsed, but none was injured.

Investigators said the blaze apparently started when a lighted cigarette ignited an upholstered seat.

San Mateo Panel For Staggering Terms

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The San Mateo County Grand Jury called today for enactment of legislation to stagger terms of grand juries throughout the state.

The grand jury said passage of a law authorizing continuity between successive grand juries "would unquestionably contribute greatly to the efficiency of grand juries in the performance of their functions."

Under present law, new grand juries must be selected annually. Members may serve only one year.

The San Mateo grand jury urged its county legislators to introduce a bill that would provide for selection on a split-year basis with nine jurors impaneled each January and 10 impaneled each July.

The grand jury also urged passage of county or state legislation to provide for appointment rather than election of county superintends of schools.

Novato Driver Hurt In Crash

Pablo R. Real, 36, of 1458 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, was reported in poor condition in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital after his car plunged 250 feet off Highway 101 south of Sausalito early today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Real had head injuries and broken ribs, the hospital said. The highway patrol said Real was driving north near the Sausalito Lateral when his car hit a guard rail, bounced over it and tumbled down the embankment.

The first beaver hat factory in America was established by Zadoc Benedict in Danbury, Conn., in 1780.

Churches Will Herald Anew Birth Of The Infant Christ

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem . . ."

These words from the Gospel according to St. Matthew will ring anew tomorrow night and Wednesday as churches throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma hail the birth of Christ in Christmas services.

To mark the most joyous occasion in the Protestant and Catholic world, the churches will be decorated in their most colorful trimmings for services of hymns and praise to the Christ Child.

Following is a list of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services:

Two Arraigned On Holdup Count

Mac Henry Page, 20, and Terry A. Thompson, 18, both of Marin City, were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Friday on charges of armed robbery stemming from the theft of $50 yesterday from the Short Stop Market in San Rafael.

Each was held in lieu $2,000 bail and told to return to court this afternoon for plea.

Page was free on his own recognizance at the time of the robbery. Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. had freed him without bail on a charge stemming from the theft of groceries from a car in Mill Valley Dec. 11. The judge refused his request for release without bail on the new charge.

Sierra Club Will Push For Larger Redwood Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the Sierra Club says the conservation group will press for enlargement of Grand Canyon National Park and the new Redwood National Park.

Club president Dr. Edgar Wayburn of San Francisco says another major goal will be more protection for the vast resources of Alaska, home state of President-elect Nixon's secretary of interior-designate, Gov. Walter Hickel.

Wayburn, a San Francisco physician, said in an interview yesterday the club has not yet taken a position for or against Hickel's confirmation by the U. S. Senate.

He said, however, "many of our members have expressed apprehension" about Hickel because of his record as an Alaska construction executive and developer, and his views on conservation.

Wayburn noted that Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan had named Norman B. Livermore, a timber company executive, as his California state resources secretary. He said Livermore has been "a dedicated public servant. If Gov. Hickel does as well, I'll be happy."

Wayburn said Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona should be enlarged to prevent any further attempts to dam the Colorado River in sections of the canyon. And he said the new Redwood National Park in California, dedicated in November, must be extended to include other groves of virgin redwoods.

Oh Hickel's home state, Wayburn said "there has been too much of a tendency to try to develop the resources of Alaska in the same way" they have been in some other states such as California.

The delicate ecology of Alaska "needs protection because it is so defenseless itself," he said.

The 70,000-member club also will continue its battle to regain its tax-exempt status, cancelled by the Internal Revenue Service after the club conducted a vigorous campaign against construction of dams in the Grand Canyon area and for establishment of the redwood park.

Wayburn said the IRS action is like "a very effective noose put around our necks" by discouraging contributions to the club since they no longer are tax deductible.

Creation of new wilderness areas to complete the nation's wilderness system is another of the club's priority projects, Wayburn said.

Senior Council Gets State Funds

The Marin Senior Coordinating Council has received a $22,154 grant from the California Commission on Aging, Charles W. Skoien Jr., commission executive director, announced today.

The grant, for use next year, is to help continue the council's Senior Californian multi-service program. Application was made by council president Walter F. Freitas and vice president Ann H. McCorry.

Marin activities include the formation of clubs in Terra Linda, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Venetia Oaks, Santa Venetia, Marin City and Mill Valley, four separate courses in retirement planning, and planning for a county activities center adjacent to the Civic Center.

Would-Be TV Buyer Accused

James Warren Tamburini, 21, of 242 Solano Street, San Rafael, has been arrested for investigation of forgery and attempting to buy a television set and a radio on a stolen credit card, San Rafael police reported Saturday.

Tamburini, arrested Thursday, was released without bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Friday.

Officers said he allegedly attempted to purchase the set and radio, total value of $134, at Butler's Magnavox in the Northgate Shopping Center with a credit card owned by Charles S. Harrod. The card had been reported stolen. Tamburini was later arrested at his home.

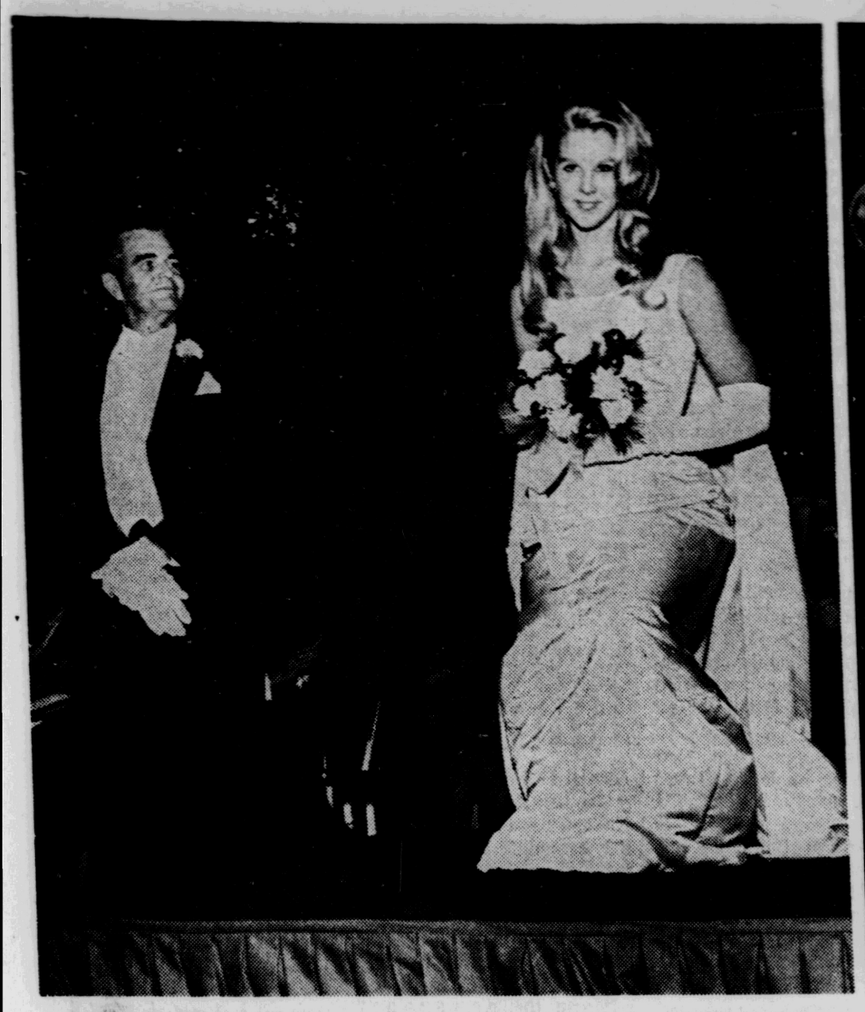
"Where Knowledge from the Past helps Build for the Future"



JOHN BAKER Willcutt presents his daughter, Maudee (Tres) Willcutt, who bows on the pedestal at the entrance to the Mural Room in the St. Francis Hotel. The presentation of the debutantes began at 10:30 p.m. following the dinner also served in the Mural Room.

THE DEBS descend the stairs from the Georgian Room, where they dined with their escorts prior to the presentation. The girls are, from the top of the stairs, Mary Ellen Merryman, Eleanor Rogers, Margaret Airola, Robin Clute, Juliet Messimer, Nancy Evans, Elizabeth Manwaring and Hilary Jones.

Marin Debs Presented

The downtown atmosphere of the St. Francis Hotel Mural Room gave the seventh Marin Debutante Ball a different flavor as the 20 debutantes of 1968 were presented there Saturday evening.

Shortly after guests and family members finished their dinner at 10:30 p.m. the flood lights focused on the dais inside the entrance and the first girl made her bow. Escorted by her father to the Mural Room stage, she was introduced and curtsied again, before a 20 foot backdrop of Christmas fir boughs set with tiny white lights and gold tinsel blossoms.

AFTER THE debs' curtsies the orchestra broke into three-quarter time and the traditional waltz of the debutantes and their fathers began.

Then as climax to the ceremonies the escorts arrived and crossed batons to form an arch for the girls to pass under. The formal figures finished with the grand march, each debutante flanked by her two escorts marching forward and toward each side to the applause of the spectators seated at dinner tables.

The dancing began to the lively strains of "Hello Dolly" and "Mame," the debs and escorts forming black and white patterns across the dance floor, and the ball was on . . .

IT WAS VERY much 1968, with some of the escorts sporting peace symbols with their tails, long locks, trimmed beards and mustaches. One danced to the rock beat with his white glove forming the V peace symbol on the top of his black baton, while some of the parent generation swung to the "now" music along side.

Mrs. Wallace Scott of Belvedere headed the Marin Charitable Foundation which sponsors the ball, and Mrs. Leon Smith of Tiburon was ball chairman, assisted by Mmes. Gregory Solon and Alan McLenegan of Kentfield. Judge Jordan Martinelli of San Rafael presented the debutantes.

James Pressley of Ross headed the floor committee, aided by William Schoenfeld and Todd Cary.

The girls presented were:

Lori Barsocchini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Kentfield, escorted by Gregory Albert Pflueger and Thomas Saylor Ferguson.

Joanne Elizabeth Cieri, daughter of Mrs. Salvatore Cieri of Larkspur and the late Dr. Cieri, escorted by Robert T. Tittman and Noble Hamilton III.

Robin Lee Clute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Clute of Belvedere, escorted by John Sweet and Alan McLenegan Jr.

D'Arcy Marie Dettner, daughter of Mrs. David Zec of Kentfield and Arthur Dettner Jr. of San Francisco, escorted by Peter Franklin and James Maciel.

Kathleen English, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. English of Kentfield, escorted by Jesse Taylor and James Leo English.

Nancy Lee Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans of Mill Valley, escorted by Robert David Nelson and Michael James Locati.

Carlyn Sue Farrell, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Carl Farrell of Ross, escorted by David Detrick and James D. Richards.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Self-Sacrifice Not Necessary For Mother Of Modern Family

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 28 and feel 98. I could sleep for a year, given a chance. Fat chance!

I have a husband and two girls, one eight, the other five months. We live in a huge old country farm house, a terror to clean. I'm up at 5 a.m. to get Jim off to work. From then on, it's work, work, work until I fall into bed. And Jim is insulated if I go to bed without him so that isn't until 11 p.m. Of course he has been on the couch ever since supper, sleeping, eating the food I am asked to bring him, and watching television. I get the thrill of massaging his back and legs in my "spare" moments (when our baby isn't fussing from her allergies).

I have no neighbors close by, and no car, so I get out of the house once a week — on Saturday, when I go to town for shopping. Jim gives me a list of things he needs too, such as tires for the truck, tools, etc. Then he goes off fishing or hunting while I must juggle two lively children and innumerable lists.

But I'm not being completely fair. About once a month my husband takes me out to a place where we can dance. Then he calls me a drag because I nod over my drink.

Maybe I could manage if it wasn't for the continual waiting-on he requires. I'm his secretary, flunky, maid. I must even make his telephone calls, bring his clothes when he takes a bath, and just about the time I finally sit down, he wants popcorn or hot chocolate. He has never changed a diaper in his life, nor baby sat the kids. If I'm out hanging clothes and he is right next to the playpen, he'll yell, "Hey, the baby's crying."

Am I wrong in thinking this is a helluva way to live, knowing that on Tuesday, six weeks from now I'll be doing the same tiresome things I've done every Tuesday for eight years? — TIRED FARM WIFE

DEAR TIRED:

She who makes herself a slave is treated as a slave. Leave off the noble self-sacrifice and stop being everybody's little waitress. Remember the California housewife who went on strike for shorter hours, better working conditions and a higher rate of appreciation? She picketed her own home for a week, and along with national publicity, she got a more helpful husband. So —

Figure out a schedule that gives you time for rest and relaxation (not difficult if you cut out unnecessary running, baby care and self-pity). Then tape it to the refrigerator, and get on your picketing boots.

Good luck! — H.

Jack Jacobs Claims Marta Flax As Bride

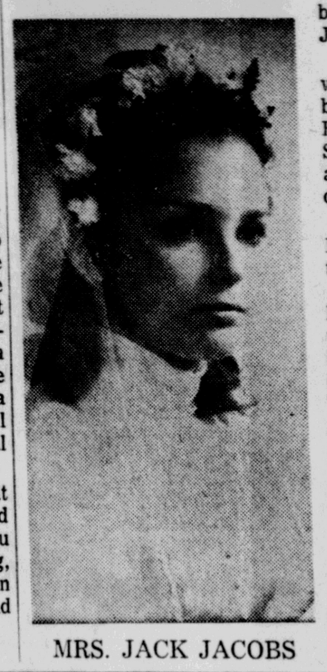
The bride is the daughter of Jerome S. Flax of Ross and Mrs. Raymond G. Bacon of Berkeley. Mr. and Mrs. Milford N. Jacobs of San Antonio, Tex. are the bridegroom's parents.



MRS. JACK JACOBS

Lucia Bosqui of Westport, Conn. was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Burridge of Winthrop, Mass. and the bridegroom's sister, Ronni Jacobs of San Antonio.

Gary Jacobs of El Paso, Tex. was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Stephen Flax of Ross; A. Fletcher Clark and Steven Davis of San Antonio; and John Kitchen of Indianapolis, Ind.

A reception at the Cottonwood Inn in Millbrook, N. Y. followed the ceremony.

Marta was graduated from Katharine Branson School and will be graduated in June from Vassar College. Paul, Mark and Kenneth Flax are also her brothers, and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Samuel Goodman of San Francisco and Mrs. Dana L. Raynolds of Richmond.

Jack is a graduate of Jefferson High School in San Antonio and is in his senior year at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico City the couple will live in Pownal, Vt.

Poinsettias Can Be Cascaded For Impressive Holiday Display

"The beautiful is as useful as the useful," said the poet Victor Hugo. Possibly the great Frenchman had in mind the glorious beauty of flowers on Christmas day.

Consider, for example, the usefulness of that brilliant living Christmas flower, the poinsettia. Massed in a magnificent red and white flower fall, poinsettias will bring warmth, drama and elegance to your home on Christmas and for many weeks to come.

Who can evaluate the sight of these blossoms in any terms other than a joyous — and useful — upsurge of the spirit?

In recent years, poinsettias have become the focal point of an astounding horticultural happening. Not long ago the plant's freshness was extremely short-lived. But patient research and breeding have now produced plants that may remain attractive from Christmas until Valentine's Day.

For sheer drama this Christmas, the Society of American Florists suggests a grouping of several poinsettia plants in the form of a flower fall. A bit of simple engineering is required, but the effect makes the effort well worthwhile.

First, select and clear completely a small corner table in your living room. Next, arrange a staggered, pyramid-type foundation for your plants. Ordinary cardboard shoeboxes will do. For beauty's sake, cover each box with dark green foil, for inevitably, a few corners will show through.

POINSETTIAS massed in a fall will bring drama, warmth and elegance to the home for the holiday season.

Now arrange six or seven of the colorful Christmas plants in a splendid cascade. A combination of red and white is especially impressive. For maximum beauty, create two joined and flowing masses of color rather than a spotty sprinkling of red and white.

Don't be afraid, incidentally, to take artistic license in creating the line of a real flower fall. For a finished look, it will be necessary to tip the bottom plant completely on its side. In this position the velvety bracts of the beautiful plant will be on full display.

The poinsettia's luxuriant production of bracts usually means that the plant needs generous watering. If its soil is light, water often; with heavy soil, be more sparing. In any case, it is safe to follow the general rule: water whenever top soil feels dry.

If the pot is wrapped in foil, by all means poke a hole in the bottom to allow excess water drainage. If you fail to do this, the roots will quickly drown.

After Christmas you will find that the long-lived poinsettia adapts itself beautifully to average home temperatures: sixty-five to seventy-five degrees by day, and slightly cooler temperatures at night. Do not place your plants near windows if this means drafts and chilling.

Macaroni Gifts

Children enjoy making gifts by decorating old vases, bottles, or boxes with macaroni bought in various shapes, such as twists or shells. Glue, spray with paint and sprinkle with glitter.

Anne Bryan Is Bride Of Art Pearson

The bride, who is a former Marin debutante, is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur F. Edwards of San Anselmo and George William Bryan of San Francisco.

A reception at the Bohemian Club followed the ceremony.

Anne was graduated from Anna Head School in Oakland and the University of Southern California. Mrs. William Borland of Oakland is her grandmother.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vernon Pearson of Glendale. He was graduated from Pasadena High School and is a student at California State College at Los Angeles.

The couple will live in Sierra Madre following a wedding trip skiing in the Lake Tahoe area.

FOR CHRISTMAS

How About A Duck Press?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Those people who dream up gifts for the people who have everything else are busier than Santa and his elves this year.

CONSIDER SOME of the luxuries for her: 32 ounces of perfume in a cut glass bottle for $1,000; an aquarium filled with cultured pearls instead of sand for $25,000 and up, depending on the millimeter of pearls selected, and a gift-of-the-month of precious jewelry ranging from an emerald and diamond necklace for Dec. 25 on through to sapphire and diamond earrings for next November, the works for the 12 months priced at $273,950.

Then there are such items as these for him: hand tooled leather backgammon set at $1,000; a 12-month desk diary in calf with natural history photos interleaved at $125, the proceeds to go to the Conservation Society of South Africa; a plane that "slips into ponds, coverts, rough airstrips for sportsmen" at $29,950, and a Russian sable coat for $15,000.

FOR THE HOUSE that has everything else, there is a duck press for $235; a family sauna for $2,795, and a his and hers practice ski "slope" for the bedroom, with slope done in white beaver to order at $11,000.

The aquarium and the jewelry-of-the-month gifts are offered by Neiman-Marcus in Dallas. The plane and the one-of-a-kind backgammon set are from Abercrombie & Fitch in New York.

Jacques Kaplan, the New York furrier, made the beaver ski slope. He says it's designed to go atop an electrically operated practice apparatus in the house. Measuring 8x20 feet, it's supposed to be slick as snow. He sold one to a customer in Greenwich, Conn., and another in Chicago, he said.

A NEW YORK-based specialty store took a nearly full-page newspaper ad to peddle the $1,000 bottle of perfume which bears the Norman Norell label.

And for those weary of the dog-cat-bird pet category of giving, how about a live armadillo for $96?

THESE ITEMS are not far-out "fun" reading at Christmas, but are products actually being sold. I know a girl who bought an armadillo for herself and now has full registration papers in her apartment from the U.S. Armadillo Breeders Association, plus membership card and bumper sticker.

She bought it through Nieman's and has been advised her armadillo is tagged and feeding on a Texas ranch along with several hundred others. She has unrestricted visiting privileges until (and if) she decides to move the creature to New York.

Peruse the newspaper advertisements, the stores and the catalogs from such stores as those already mentioned, plus Cartiers, Hammacher Schlemmer, and Sears, to name a few other sources, and you find a plenitude of the unusual.

FOR HIM OR HER, you can buy 100 sheets of notepaper and envelopes for $1.904. These are handmade in Finland and the portrait of the owner is done in shadowmark, a form of watermark.

A computerized horoscope for the year costs $20; the family can have a runabout half-scale model of a Model-T Ford for $500; for him, one mail order chain offers roll-your-own cigarette machines in the $12 and $15 price range. He can also buy a chunk of wood to carve his own pipe for $5.

FOR HIM, there's a miniature "security" blanket for only $5, but if he wants to cover the bed in cashmere, that blanket costs $190.

There are his and her jaguars —his a car for $5,595, hers a coat at $5,975.

AND FOR HER, I found also pastel colored putters with matching booties, $20 the pair, and a home "Telequote" for receiving stocks reports, $295. Bejewelled eggs run $120 each.

And if you're in a Charles Adamish mood, there is the aircraft survival kit with flares, signals, waterproof match box, compass, whistle, a cut-anything saw, food, water, survival tool and first aid kit, for $115.

FORMALITIES OVER, the debs and escorts zipped into the frantic rock tempo as the dance floor became crowded. Madge Tufts and her escort, Robert Crowell swung into the beat near the Mural Room stage.

WHEN THEIR committee duties ended the Gerald Stratfords of Belvedere joined the young set on the dance floor where the beat was strictly rock. Ursula Stratford was chairman of debutantes and her husband presented deb Juliet Messimer.

'YELLOW SUBMARINE'

The greedy Vacuum Man prepares for another victim, pointing his insatiable snout in "Yellow Submarine," which will open Wednesday, Christmas Day, at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo. The film features the Beatles and Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band. George Dunning directed the film and Heinz Edelmann designed it.

MUSIC REVIEW

Despite Flu Absenses Singers Were Pleasing

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Winifred Baker's Marin Adult Chorale, combined with the San Francisco Civic Chorale she directs and her children's chorus, managed to present some pleasing results in a Christmas concert last night in Angelico Hall, a commendable achievement in view of the absence of musicians because of flu.

The 180-voice chorus was down to about 120, many substitutions had to be made in featured parts on the children's chorus, and Sister Mary Francesco O. P. practically had to do a sight reading job — a very successful one — or organ accompaniment in the absence of noted organist Ludwig Altman.

So many problems, such as destruction of balance, are caused by absence of many in large performing groups, that perhaps critiques should be discontinued until the epidemic is over.

Least affected was the big combined chorus, since there were enough voices to create some good sonority in the excerpts from Handel's the "Messiah" Christmas music. John Saveant was a good narrator, and thee was one really professional level voice among the four soloists, that of soprano Jean Murphy, whose strong, agile voice was well suited to the florid style of her aria.

Glenn Brizee had a powerful, resonant bass, which with more control, should become a fine vocal instrument. Elizabeth Heffernan's light, lyric soprano was clear and of musical quality, and alto Margaret Sanderson was better in her aria in this work than in the opening works by American composers sung by the all-city chorus of the San Francisco Civic Chorale.

An impressive climax to the "Messiah" excerpts was the singing by all choruses and audience of the mighty "Allelujah" chorus.

Outstanding throughout the program was the piano accompaniment by Fae McNally, which, though not obtrusive, was so good that it was a major plus of the concert.

Favorite of the evening with the audience was the children's chorus of some 65 voices. They gave evidence of some excellent training and had such a high degree of self-reliance that Miss Baker was able to step aside and let four of the older children beat time.

After the children sang some traditional Christmas songs and rounds, the audience was invited to join in the singing of four of the old-time carols, concluding with "Silent Night."

These and the "Messiah" Christmas music were the only part of the program in which very familiar Christmas music was heard.

In the first part of the concert, presented by the all-city chorus of the San Francisco Civic Chorale and some of its component parts, such as the Inner Richmond Neighborhood Chorus directed by Nathaniel Lee and the Sunset Neighborhood Chorus directed by Gene Stewart, there was some less familiar but beautiful music, but performance was at times near disaster level, partly because of the havoc wrought by absence of musicians.

However it also seemed clear that these smaller, weaker sections needed the help of the surer and better trained voices in the big chorus to bring them up to par.

Since the program was long, we believe it would have been better to eliminate the separate performances by these smaller sections.

Kirk Douglas' Son Married

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Joel Douglas, son of actor Kirk Douglas, and Susan Jorgenson of Great Falls were married last night in a small wedding attended by close friends.

The groom's mother, Mrs. William Darrid of Westport, Conn., attended, but his father was absent.

Following a honeymoon skiing trip to Canada the younger Douglas will return to studies at the University of Montana where he is a drama major.

Supervisors Get One Week Off

Marin County Board of Supervisors will not meet tomorrow because it is Christmas Eve.

Next meeting of the supervisors will be at 9 a.m. Dec. 31 at the Civic Center.

The Civic Center and county courthouse in San Rafael will be closed on Christmas Day.

Grandfather's Writings Explored

Retired San Rafael attorney James D. Adams has published a book of his grandfather's writings depicting a New Englander's view of Virginia in 1839-40.

"Ephraim Adams' Sketch Book" is a collection of observations written when the author was teaching at the Petersburg Classical Academy in Petersburg, Va.

The senior Adams was then 21 and had just graduated from Dartmouth College, where he belonged to an antislavery society.

In his writings he describes vividly slavery in Virginia and writes with abhorrence of the system.

His grandson transcribed the sketch book, which was handwritten, and it was published by the Sorg Printing Company, San Francisco.

Health Planning Unit Gets Federal Grant

A $211,000 U.S. Public Health Service grant has been received by the Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council, whose jurisdiction includes Marin County, Chairman John B. Molinari announced today.

Molinari, a State Court of Appeals judge in San Francisco, said the grant will finance the shaping of the health plan to cover an eight-county area. Other counties involved are Sonoma, Solano, Napa, Alameda, San Mateo, San Francisco, and Santa Clara.

Search Going For 41 Aboard Capsized Boat

KINGSTOWN, St. Vincent, B.W.I. (AP) — Coast Guard vessels continued searching today for 41 persons missing since the auxiliary schooner Federal Queen capsized in rough weather Saturday off Cannoun Island, in the Grenadines.

Thirty-eight others were rescued or swam to safety on Cannoun's rocky coast.

Survivors said the Federal Queen turned over suddenly and sank about two minutes later about 30 miles south of Kingston. She was en route to St. Vincent from the Grenadines, an archipelago of the Windward Islands in the British West Indies off the northeast coast of South America.

Ralph Alves of Kingstown said the hull and sails of the capsized schooner covered people "like a teacup turned upside down."

Suffers Lip Cut

Agnes Hulshof, 68, of 146 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, suffered a cut lip when her car struck a light pole at the Red Hill Shopping Center, San Anselmo, at 1:45 p.m. yesterday, police reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Several New Faces Due In Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's appointment of a new lieutenant governor will be the first in a series of moves to bring fresh faces into his administration.

In coming weeks, the Republican governor will make five major appointments, in addition to selecting a successor to Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch who is leaving to become secretary of health, education and welfare in the Nixon administration.

They are:

Director of the new Human Resources Development Department, a $25,000-a-year job with broad powers over training the unemployed and finding them jobs.

Two seats on the powerful Public Utilities Commission, which regulates all utilities in the state. Administration critic William Bennett is sure to be dropped from the body, and Commissioner Peter Mitchell's term also expires.

A replacement for Fish and Game Director Walter Shannon, who is retiring.

A new University of California regent to take the place of H. R. Haldeman of Los Angeles, who is joining the Nixon administration.

The top job to be filled is the lieutenant governorship.

Aides said Reagan may not announce his choice to replace Finch until after the end of the year, and they maintained he still hasn't made up his mind.

Among the top candidates at present are Gordon Luce, the state transportation administrator; Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach; and Caspar Weinberger, state director of finance.

Luce says he is interested in the job and so does Deukmejian. Weinberger declines to comment.

Reagan, beginning the second half of his first term, is under pressure from party officials to name a lieutenant governor who would be an attractive statewide candidate in 1970.

Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, chairman of the lower house Republican caucus, said the lieutentant governor must be strong enough to help the governor win re-election in 1970 if Reagan decides to run.

"He will have to run on the last two years of his term," Mulford said. "We need a strong lieutenant governor.

Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, soon to be the new Assembly speaker, agreed Reagan should pick someone "who will help the ticket in 1970."

Monagan would like the job, but Reagan has appeared reluctant to pull anyone out of the Assembly, now barely in the hands of the GOP at 41-39.

Alaskans may register to vote at the age of 19.

Tractor Runs Over, Kills Napa Worker

Tiburon sheriff's deputies said Martin Allen McDonald, an employee of the McDonald Construction Co., a family firm, was backing the tractor off a flat bed trailer at 8:15 a.m. when it started to tip. McDonald tried to jump clear, deputies said, but the tractor ran over him, killing him instantly.

The driverless tractor then continued to run about the construction site 200 feet east of Harbor Oak Drive below the Red Hill mesa, hitting an earth bank and rolling across the road before it was stopped by Richard Allen McDonald, 19, the victim's younger brother.

Also witness to the accident was 12-year-old Gary Allen McDonald, another brother.

McDonald was married, with one child. His wife is expecting another in the spring.

He is also survived by his mother and father, six brothers and three sisters.

Planning Chairman Upset By Parking Policy Bypass

Chairman Hugh Dougherty of the Marin County Planning Commission scolded staff members today for going to the board of supervisors with an emergency parking ordinance without notifying the commission.

The supervisors last Tuesday approved an emergency ordinance with tightens parking requirements at residences.

"I'm distressed," said Dougherty, "because I thought the staff would let us know when they planned to do this sort of thing."

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the changes in parking requirements at residences, discussed before the planning commission. He said he thought he had sent a copy of a letter to each commissioner, indicating that he was taking the parking matter to the supervisors. "I apologize if I didn't," said Zucker.

Zucker and Werner have suggested that parking space requirements for such institutions as churches, hospitals and theaters as well as stores and offices be increased.

Zucker said that space requirements cannot be pinned down for each specific use and should be left somewhat flexible. For example, he said churches and theaters in a shopping area should be required to have less spaces because the hours of operation differ from commercial use, and the same space can be used by both.

The interim ordinance on residences, passed by the supervisors last Tuesday, requires one space per studio apartment up to 575 square feet of floor space; 1.5 per studio over 575 square feet of one and two bedrooms, and two spaces for three or more bedrooms.

This morning, the planning staff suggested a modification to: one space per studio unit; 1.2 per one-bedroom unit; 1.5 per two-bedroom unit, and two spaces for three and more bedrooms.

The commission decided to continue discussions on the new requirements to later in the day because they were running behind schedule.

Judge Roth To Preside

Judge Hadden W. Roth will be presiding judge of Marin Municipal Court for 1969. He replaces Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr.

From next month through April, Judge Roth will call the criminal and probation calendars, Judge Peter Allen Smith will hear the traffic calendar, and Judge Goldstein will call the law and motion calendar.

The judges also may be assigned as extra session magistrates in Marin Superior Court.

Beach Conditions Will Be Discussed

Beach conditions uill be discussed again by Bolinas Community Inc. at 8 p.m., Friday at the Community Center on Main Street.

Plans for a new $30,000 fire station on Mesa Road, approved by the Bolinas Fire Protection District board Tuesday, also will be discussed.

Hayakawa Due Candlelight Strike March

Marinites who support striking San Francisco State College students plan a silent candlelight Christmas Eve march to the Mill Valley home of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa.

The march, sponsored by the S.F. State Support Committee of Marin, will leave city hall at 4:30 p.m. and proceed to the home of the acting president at 224 Eldridge Avenue, according to a spokesman for the group.

The marchers will carry placards supporting the demands of the striking students and faculty and asking amnesty for those arrested or suspended for participation in strike activities, according to Mrs. Terry Alt of Mill Valley, chairman of the education committee of the group.

Mrs. Alt said that the group was formed a week ago and includes students, parents, teachers and other citizens. Its objectives are to educate Marin citizens on the issues of the strike, raise bail for persons arrested and support the strike by such actions as the march, Mrs. Alt said.

The committee also plans a rally at 8 p.m. Friday in city hall. Representatives of striking student and faculty groups are expected to speak.

Other chairmen of the new committee are Mrs. Sylvia Reck, rally chairman, and Meyer Berlin, fund raising chairman.

Drunken Driving Probation Given

Three persons were placed on probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for drunken driving offenses.

Jean Carol Greenberg, 35, of Stinson Beach, was placed on three years probation for driving while drunk last Feb. 18 on Highway 101.

Shirley A. Silverman, 36, of 3 Clover Hill Court, San Rafael, was placed on two years probation for drunken driving April 29 on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Jesse Taylor, 68, of 10 Gilbert Street, San Rafael, was fined $250, with fine suspended, and placed on six months probation for the same offense Feb. 14 on Gilbert Street.

ARMADILLO JOINS NEWLYWEDS

Two Airmen From Base Hurt Critically In Wreck

Two Hamilton Air Force Base airmen were critically injured when their car smashed into a flatbed truck shortly before dawn yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Sgt. Terry D. Reynolds, 24, was at Letterman General Hospital with face fractures. Airman Jose Tamayo, 20, was at Letterman with a possible concussion and face cuts.

Condition of the two men was not available this morning.

The highway patrol said the car veered off Highway 101 in Terra Linda at 5:40 a.m. and hit a truck parked 10 feet off the road. The car sandwiched itself under the truck, the flatbed knifing through the windshield to injure both men.

The car was Reynolds', the CHP said, but it was not known which man was driving because the pair was taken to Marin General Hospital by an unidentified motorist before patrolmen reached the scene.

The two were later transferred to Letterman. The patrol asked the unknown motorist to call the highway patrol office in Corte Madera to help piece together details of the accident.

Statue Stolen

A statue of St. Francis, weighing 90 pounds and valued at $40, was stolen from the yard of Fredrick Schweizer, 14 Devonshire Drive, west of Novato, between 6:30 p.m. Thursday and 4 p.m. Friday, sheriff's deputies reported.

Drake Students Veto Revision

A proposal to amend the Sir Francis Drake High School student body constitution was defeated by a student body vote last week.

The proposed amendment would have added a representative of minority groups to the representative assembly, which has an elected representative from each third period class.

A two-thirds majority was required for the amendment to pass. It drew only a 53 per cent favorable vote, according to a student news bureau report.

Nativity Scene Is A Winner

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell's outdoor Nativity scene at their home at 377 Fairway Drive, Novato, was awarded first place in the Christmas decoration contest in the Marin Country Club Estates.

Other winners were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dinsmore of 531 Fairway Drive, second, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lindauer of 72 Par Lane, third.

Honorable mentions went to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan of 360 Country Club Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson C. Buxton of 24 Prestwick Court and Mr. and Mrs. Edson W. Berlin of 29 Olympia Way.

The contest was sponsored by the Marin Country Club Garden Club.

Beating Results In Jail Sentence

Harold E. Von Feldt, 34, of San Rafael, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on three years probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for beating up a man in San Rafael Oct. 21.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein, who imposed the sentence, had ordered Von Feldt to undergo chromosome testing to determine if he had an extra chromosome, said to cause violence in males.

Von Feldt refused to take the test until he was sentenced. The judge ruled Friday he must undergo all testing ordered by the probation officer.

Search For Murderer Of Two Continues

I-J Special Report

VALLEJO — Law officers stepped up their search today for the slayer of a Vallejo High School student — a former San Rafael resident — and his date, murdered on a lovers lane.

Police said today they had found no motive for the deaths of David Faraday, 17, who was born in San Rafael and lived there until three years ago, and his friend, Bettilou Jensen, 16.

The couple — on their first date — was found about 11:30 p.m. Friday by a passing motorist on a lonely sideroad off Lake Herman road near Benicia. Faraday's body was found beside his station wagon. The girl had staggered about 11 feet from the vehicle before she fell.

Faraday was shot in the head at close range by a small caliber rifle. The bullet passed through his brain and he died en route to a hospital. Miss Jensen was shot five times in the back.

The couple had not been robbed, and Miss Jensen had not been molested.

Sgt. Leslie Lundblad of the Solano County sheriff's office said that the couple had attended a Christmas concert, but he discounted speculation that they had been followed to the remote lovers lane.

He said he reached this conclusion after questioning workmen who passed the death scene that night on their way to the graveyard shift at a nearby oil refinery.

Funeral services were held today at the First Presbyterian Church, Vallejo, for Faraday, an Eagle Scout and a varsity wrestler at Vallejo High School.

The youth was the son of the Mrs. Jean L. Faraday of the Vallejo and Thomas A. Faraday of Salinas, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employee. The family lived in San Rafael until moving to Vallejo about three years ago.

While a San Rafael resident, young Faraday attended Laurel Dell School.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Robert and Steven, and a sister, Debra, all of Vallejo; and his grandparents, Mrs. Irene LaTourette of Vallejo and col. and Mrs. L. M. McKinley of San Francisco.

Dominican Area Homes Lose Power

About 1,800 homes in the Dominican and eastern areas of San Rafael were without power for about 50 minutes yesterday after a car hit a power pole near the Belle Avenue entrance to Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol said cars driven by Stephen Robinson, 17, of 24 Lenglen Avenue, San Rafael, and Edward Pirrello, 27, of Livermore, sideswiped. Robinson's car veered off and hit a power pole, the patrol said. Neither man was hurt.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said power was off from 12:48 to 1:37 p.m. for most of 1,800 customers affected. About 20 customers didn't get service back until 4 p.m., however, the spokesman said.

Probation, Jail In Injury Crash

Louis Steven Horvath, 34, of 39 Creek Road, Fairfax, was sentenced to two days in jail and placed on a year of probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for drunken driving July 5 in San Anselmo.

Horvath was also ordered to pay $60 restitution to Sean Valle, 19, of 1580 San Anselmo Avenue, whom he hit while driving up Center Boulevard, according to San Anselmo police.

Miss Valle, who was riding a bike, reportedly suffered a broken leg and her chipped teeth. Police said Horvath's car knocked her into a knee that double Valentz Drive and Center Boulevard.

It's Difficult To Tell Bosses From Employees

One of the changes that goes on with little notice is in the relations between the bosses and the hired help in public employment.

Of course, it is nothing new for employees to want — and get — more say in running the business. The unions have been at it for a long time. But we recall there was quite a flap a few years back when one of the big industrial unions, preparing to open negotiations for a new industry-wide contract, suggested that the high salaries paid corporate executives were matters for discussion. The bosses replied that was none of the union's business.

IN PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT, it's different. Often it is difficult to tell who is boss and who is employee.

Take the county, for instance. The elected supervisors are the bosses, having been chosen as proxies for the whole electorate, who pay the taxes and own the business. They are, as it were, the board of directors.

They set the salaries for the hired help. But as a safeguard against scoundrels who might run for office with the hope of getting their hands in the till, the law provides that elected officers cannot raise their own salaries. So when the supervisors want a raise, they have to ask the Legislature.

However, the Legislature likes to have something better to go on than just what the supervisors would like for themselves. And so it has become one of the duties of the county grand jury to review the salaries of elected county officials and make recommendations on them. This the Marin County Grand Jury did, proposing that the supervisors' pay be increased from $800 per month to $900, starting in 1971.

BUT ALONG COMES the county administrator with a nicer plan — for the supervisors. He worked out a set of proposed raises for elected county officials which would give the supervisors twice as much increase as the grand jury recommended right away, and add an equally juicy raise in 1971.

This is a very interesting — and off key — bit of song. For the administrator is an employee of the supervisors. They set his salary.

Perhaps he feels if he can promote nice fat raises for his bosses they'll grant a nice fat raise to him?

THIS CONFUSION of bosses and employees is not limited to the county. In Tamalpais High School District last week, leaders of the district teacher association became quite upset because the board of trustees turned down a couple of instruction innovations.

The teachers (the employees) felt it was all wrong for the trustees (the bosses) to tell them what not to teach.

Maybe these teachers have not read the George Miller Jr. Act, for which their state association lobbied hard for three years.

It says, in plain words: "The governing board of every school district shall evaluate its educational program, and shall make such revisions as it deems necessary."

Time For Suet

This is the time of year when insect food is very scarce for birds in Marin. A good substitute for the birds in place of insects is suet. It may not be a necessity in our benign climate, as it is elsewhere, but it is unquestionably helpful, and the birds love it.

Remember, the birds have lots of fair-weather friends in the summer when everyone can be outdoors to enjoy. But true friends don't forget when the rains come and the birds have the chill empty spaces to themselves.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

We Must Stop Being Dehumanized

The recent events at San Francisco State serve as a stark illustration of how political intransigence and emotional reaction can dehumanize. State officials blindly adhere to principles and follow policies without really examining the validity of those principles or considering the affect of those policies on individuals. On the other hand, emotional reaction born of frustration and injustice culminate in a rage which turns other human beings into objects to be disregarded or destroyed.

Manifestations of dehumanization resulting from political intransigence and emotional reaction can be seen in other places besides San Francisco State. Diplomats argue over seating arrangements while each day more die in Vietnam. Congressmen cover up embarrassing data on malnutrition in this country while thousands of children go to bed hungry. Black militants cry out in rage to urge the killing of "pigs." The fact that the police officer to be killed is another human being has become irrelevant.

This is a society of human beings. For that society to remain civilized, it must not be dehumanized. Principles, policies and emotional reaction should be indulged in only after full consideration of their effect on human beings. Humans are more than votes, objects of wrath, property or pigs.

Silent Majority Must Take Action

As a journalism teacher, a columnist, a teacher of eighth grade, and a professional for the past 20 years, I raise my voice and pen deploring the lack of action by the silent majority on our campuses in state and local colleges. . . .

I can no longer keep quiet, for I am disgusted, angry, and sick at heart, for those students that wish to learn, but cannot because of a destructive and vocal minority. The failure of these students to act in their own behalf results in an encouragement of the total destruction of the educational system . . . What a horrible thing it is, to allow a few to kill the aspirations of so many.

I hear the minority saying, "I want the power and the authority, but I refuse to take the responsibility which goes with such demands. I will keep you quiet by violence, gain my ends, then enslave you in anarchy."

The goal doctor at San Francisco State has made mistakes, but he has made honest mistakes, which may be remedied by positive action of the faculty. The minority has made serious mistakes. . . . Their claim for total power and authority, their setting up of units which are segregated for blacks, their refusal to honor and respect the community which is supporting them, their attitude of non-negotiation, sets back their cause to the civil war days.

The young man that brought court action to keep the campus open did a very brave and honorable thing. He spoke for the silent majority with action that was positive and effective. It is my hope that other Americans on campus will do the same thing should any attempt be made to interrupt their education in the future. This young man needs the entire support of the silent majority.

. . . The first amendment to the Constitution guarantees the right for redress of wrong. It does not guarantee the right to destroy! Silent majority — speak up!

View Alarming, Not Refreshing

I was dismayed to read the point of view expressed by your Mr. Paul Peterzell in tonight's (Dec. 17) "Golden Gate View."

If Mr. Peterzell thinks it "refreshing" when a congressman considers localized government "intolerable," then I must conclude that his "view" of the Golden Gate is strictly due west.

All we need do to ensure ourselves of a government that can become totalitarian, is to permit our local governments, however exasperating they may be to would-be dictators, to be "swept aside," as the Democratic Assemblyman Karabian suggests.

Sounds Like Familiar Old Run-Around

I just got back from the (San Rafael) City Council meeting and I must admit I am thoroughly confused! We went there tonight in hopes of being heard since our complaining neighbors had been there at the meeting before this one and, obviously, had been listened to.

On one hand, I was told the reason our permit had been revoked was because the council felt that "because it has been raining lately, I could not possibly have cleaned up my corral." (I don't know if that statement makes sense to you, but I certainly can't figure out the logic in that!) On the other hand, they told me they (the council) had nothing to do with the whole thing since the decision is up to Dr. (Harry O.) Hund, who supposedly is the health inspector, but Dr. Hund hasn't been here! Help!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A YOUNG FELLOW came to the automobile club and asked for detailed maps for a trip all the way out to California. Supplied with the information he desired, he then asked, "Is the route you've marked for me heavily traveled?" "It sure is," he was told. "Then it's OK for me," nodded the young fellow. "I'm hitchhiking."

The time obviously had come to put Miss Zsa Zsa Harshaw's old cat away, but the manner in which it was to be done put the sentimental sweetie into a quandary. Her neighbor offered a solution. "Try curiosity," she proposed.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The Man On The Moon— May He Be An American!

WASHINGTON — There is nothing new about man's desire to go to the moon. It has long been with us and 109 years ago Jules Verne predicted it right down to the detail that three Americans would take off from Florida in a capsule shot from a massive cannon.

And now the three American astronauts are on their six-day voyage deeper into outer space than man has ever gone, en route 240,000 miles to orbit the moon 10 times at a mere 70 miles from the surface before returning.

What is new about man's flight around the moon — man will be landing there soon — is not the concept but the fact that man now has the capability, the complex and costly mechanisms, the technology and the resources to do it.

SO WE'RE DOING IT. It was never in doubt. The only question was when. What it will mean can only be dimly foreseen, but the potential is so great that it justifies the cost, the risks, the uncertainties. The potential is metaphysical as well as material.

For the first time man is flying beyond the orbit of his planet. For the first time he is releasing himself from the physical bonds which have tied him to earth, and now the vast, unexplored territories of the universe itself are coming more within reach.

NO WONDER the late Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, the first deputy administrator of NASA — thinker and doer — put the first value of the manned moon flight in metaphysical terms.

"None of us knows," he once remarked, "what the final destiny of man may be — or if there is any end to his capacity for growth and adaptation. Wherever this venture leads us, we in the United States are convinced that the power to leave the earth — to travel where we will in space and to return at will — marks the opening of a brilliant new stage in man's evolution."

Astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are taking man nearer to learning the origin of the universe. That's quite a little.

But it isn't all. There are rich dividends from space exploration — and more to come.

A VALUABLE satellite communications network is in being.

A weather satellite system is providing storm warnings to save lives and property.

New technologies, which didn't even exist 10 years ago, are at hand.

We are now learning that industry can do things in space it can't do on earth. Take one example out of many:

In the weightlessness of orbital space flight fluids take the shape of a perfect sphere, unattainable on earth. Thus, metal ball bearings could be produced in space to tolerances otherwise impossible, thus achieving the vastly important goal of reducing friction to the vanishing point.

WILL THE United States be first to put men on the moon as Jules Verne foresaw? We can't be absolutely sure because so much of the Russian space work is secret while ours is open. But at this point, with a manned landing scheduled for next year, the evidence is that the United States is considerably ahead in what is most needed: 15 U.S. manned flights to 10 Soviet; nine U.S. rendezvous and docking experiments to four Soviet; 2,000 U.S. man-hours in space to some 500 Soviet; 12 hours by U.S. astronauts outside their craft to two hours by Soviet astronauts.

Being first isn't crucial, but it doesn't hurt.

I have suggested that man — because he is man — will do anything he is capable of doing. I would go futher: man is capable of doing anything he can think of. This is why the Friday-night science fiction TV show Star Trek is so pleasantly mind-stretching. Obviously other planets and the galaxies are next. And after that, perhaps, comfortable living in outer space because man's environment is expanded.

SDS Busy Spreading Violence In High Schools

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The scheme of the Students for a Democratic Society to extend its rioting, violence and lawlessness on college campuses to high schools is making headway.

SDS organizing of this kind is making inroads in high schools in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco and the heavily populated Maryland and Virginia suburbs of Washington, D.C. The last, largely white and affluent areas, appear to be particular targets in the far-flung SDS plot to "activate" and "radicalize" high school students so they will be ready for "extremist agitation" when they reach college.

This nationwide drive to suborn high school students was approved at a meeting of the SDS' national council at the University of Colorado, Boulder, in October.

COLLEGE and non-student SDS chapters were instructed to actively cooperate in infiltrating high schools and organizing students. They were urged to take the lead in launching underground newspapers, conducting so-called "workshops" on the Vietnam war and anti-draft propaganda, and staging demonstrations on civil rights and other headline issues.

In Chicago, a high school organizing "conference" was held in the University of Illinois Circle Campus with around 150 attending.

The stellar attraction was Mark Rudd, Columbia University SDS leader, who delivered a harangue and then conducted a question-and-answer period. Also a movie was shown of the Columbia rioting and violence in which Rudd played a prominent role. This propaganda movie is a key feature of SDS proselyting.

In St. Louis a college SDS organizer is directing a group of high school students in publishing an underground paper — that has incurred the wrath of school authorities for indecency and defamation. Also being circulated there and in other cities is an increasing volume of SDS literature aimed particularly at high school students.

JONATHAN LERNER, 20-year-old Antioch College dropout, who attended the Boulder, Colo., conference last October, is in the forefront of SDS high school organizing in the capital's Maryland suburbs. He boastfully claims that from 25 to 30 high schools in that area are "SDS involved" — whatever that means!

Lerner admitted that in most high schools SDS operates under a different designation. "Kids are afraid of that name," he conceded. "It's got a bad connotation so they are leery of it. But we're able to take care of that in various ways."

Finch Replacement Not Easy; Sturgeon Appears Likely Choice

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Probably this is the first time in history that as much interest been shown in the lieutenant-governorship of California, for with the impending departure of Robert H. Finch for Washington, it is up to Gov. Ronald Reagan to appoint his successor.

Such an occasion has not occured since 1928, when Gov. C. C. Young appointed H. L. Carnahan to succeed Buron Fitts, who resigned from the job. And there were only two other occasions in California history when a governor had the task of appointing a lieutenant governor, once in 1895 and the other in 1916, when Gov. Hiram Johnson appointed William D. Stephens. pointed William D. Stephens Both of the earlier appointments resulted from death of the incumbents.

Thus, Governor Reagan has a somewhat unusual task in replacing Finch, and as he said in a recent press conference, the task is giving him some "sleepless nights."

THERE ARE MANY facets influencing what will be the final choice before Finch leaves California for a cabinet position.

One, Reagan is faced with the problem of picking a man qualified to act as governor, and even more important to the Republican party, have some chance of being elected governor in case something should happen to Reagan, or if he should decide not to run again.

Also, there is the problem of satisfying the big wheels of the party, and also the Senate, over whom the lieutenant-governor presides. Added to these is the problem of disturbing the delicate balance of power in the Senate and Assembly, which could be endangered should he select a legislator for the post.

All of which would appear to rule out some of the men who logically and under normal circumstances might fill Finch's shoes.

REAGAN SAYS he has approximately a dozen persons whom he is considering. Top candidates outside the legislature are two former legislators, Vern Sturgeon of San Luis Obispo County, who now serves as Reagan's representative and coordinator in the Senate, and Caspar Weinberger, the state director of finance. Both of these men are familiar with legislative activity, and are highly thought of by state senators.

Of the two, Sturgeon appears the more logical choice, as he is a former senator while Weinberger is a former member of the Assembly, a fact which might make some difference as far as prestige is concerned.

Also, Weinberger's political philosophies are geared more to the liberal Republican view than Sturgeon's.

Sturgeon has a good political background with the Republicans. He is a former mayor of Paso Robles, his home town in San Luis Obispo County, and was elected to the state Senate in 1960. He lost his seat primarily because of the Senate reapportionment ordered by the U.S. Supreme court.

Money Holds Up New Careers; County Unwilling To Gamble

What's holding up the New Careers program to bring 25 to 50 new employees from "disadvantaged" groups into county employment for on-the-job training?

The answer is, primarily, money, although the author of the New Careers project contends little or no new extra funds are needed.

Proposal No. 1 comes from Dr. Arthur Pearl of the University of Oregon, who says 50 new careerists can be assimilated into county employ immediately with no extra cost.

Proposal No. 2, by the county administrator, calls for 26 new careerists and 20 interns at a total cost of $245,000 (with the county picking up $185,000).

IF YOU HAD a choice, naturally you'd pick No. 1, the no-cost program. But the choice is not clear-cut.

The question is: Can 50 relatively untrained people be incorporated into county employment with no extra cost and no disruption in county service?

One way to test Dr. Pearl's idea without budgeting extra money would be to take the gamble that county output may drop, but not to the danger point. In other words, bring in 50 trainees, assign regular workers to help those who need guidance, with no provision for a special director or a counseling staff as recommended by the administrator.

Then if production or services of some departments drop, let them drop, except for work that must meet legal deadlines. If we can last one year without added help, with no breakdown in county services, and not too much screaming from the public on the lag in services, then we'd have accomplished something.

BUT THIS TYPE of gamble, if assumed, must be taken by the supervisors, not the county administrator. The administrator cannot afford such a gamble. Assume he goes along with Dr. Pearl's program, and in the middle of the next fiscal year, we find that the program will cost an added $100,000 or $150,000. The supervisors would glare down at the administrator and demand:

"Whatsa matter, fellas? You told us last December it wouldn't cost us a cent. Where do you expect us to dig up the extra dough?"

To preclude such an eventuality, the county administrator is trying to preguess what the costs might be. His best guess is $245,000. By setting that figure, the administrator is saying he doesn't think the no-cost gamble will work.

MOVING OF furniture and records from the old courthouse to the new hall of justice will be done by Bekins Van and Storage for $35,000, which is $20,000 more than the low bid of $14,500 by Global Moving and Storage.

Global promptly notified the county it had erred in calculation, having forgotten a $6,500 cost in packing alone, and asked that it be allowed to withdraw its bid. Even with the packing, the total bid would have come to only $21,000.

Why didn't the county hold Global to the $21,000, instead of contracting with Bekins for $35,000?

This is how Asst. Administrator John Barrows and Purchasing Agent Doug Edelen explain it:

By admitting it had forgotten about packing, the low bidder showed that it had not made a comprehensive survey of the bid specifications. The county has valuable records including court documents that must be moved promptly so that county functions can proceed uninterrupted.

If a company knows it is losing money on the moving, there would be a tendency to cut corners in every way, and the county did not want to take a chance on sloppy transfer and delays during the transfer. Thus, they went for the second low bid, which is $14,000 more.

Old And Young Generations Both Have Been Short-Changed

Awareness, an acute, an even agonizing awareness if you will, characterizes our enigmatic young of today. Perceptive, involved, knowledgeable and sensitive to the vibrations of their environment, they are more aware of the reverberations and upheavals of society than youth has ever been.

The causes of their awareness are many. Certainly the mobility, the flux and flow, of our population is one factor. The world has shrunk and our once-distant neighbor is next door with his problems, his ideas and his philosophy.

Another is the vastly improved communications media, radio, newspapers and, in particular, television. A twist of the dial places the world in the living room and the happenings of this morning and those still in the process of happening become instantly seen and heard. The viewer is intimately involved and because of his proximity, worldwide events become the focal point of his interest, his thoughts and his discussions.

BY REASON of technological advances of this age, our young have been thrust in the eye of the hurricane and the tumultuousness of the maelstrom has generated their keen and incisive inquiry.

Youths' searching finger probes deeply into the vitals of societal fundamentals, jolting adults who have not recently reexamined their own fundamentals, if they ever analyzed them at all. Adults find themselves exposed, the crenelated walls of their beliefs under attack, and their only defense pat answers and stereotyped rebuttals, which often are embarrassingly deficient and untenable to a genuinely tenacious mind bent on satisfaction.

This is not to suggest that adult beliefs and credos are necessarily insupportable or unsound but only that they have been accepted without examination in depth. Thus, many adults are awkwardly vulnerable to even the most sophomoric intellectual haymakers of the painfully young.

BOTH generations have been shortchanged by our educational system — and in the same way. The difference between the two generations, however, is that the young are more aware of the world than their elders were and have been excited to ask more questions than their elders did. But both groups have been exposed to a serious educational flaw.

No matter how "Education" may be defined, one fact generally is accepted: without knowing HOW to think, education is an impossibility. Asking provocative questions, as today's youth does, may be an indication of intelligence, but evaluating answers demands a mind trained in critical judgment. And in this singularly important and basic precept, our educational system has failed both generations miserably.

Our schools are concerned with the pumping of knowledge, the assimilation of facts and the rounding up of statistics, but neglect that process which establishes and teaches relationships, a process which can be accomplished through the use of, to cite an Aristotelian expression, "the rational principle."

WITHOUT the knowledge of "how to think," ideas are useless, and any exchange of them is an exercise in futility. Ideas exposed to minds incapable of correct logical evaluation can be extremely dangerous since such untrained minds are easily duped and are ready prey for pernicious propaganda. The land is plagued with examples. Good may come of unexamined ideas but only through chance, not through design.

And in this world, this world aflame in a war of ideologies, too much is at stake to be left to chance.

Two Novato Firemen Named Lieutenants

Firemen John Church and Raymond Dougherty of the Novato Fire Department will be promoted to lieutenants Jan. 1, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The men will get an increase from $770 to $790 per month. Church has been with the department for seven years, and Dougherty, six years.

Suspects Face Quiz On Break-In In San Rafael

Two youths arrested for investigation of burglary by Sausalito police Thursday will also be questioned about a break-in of a San Rafael home, San Rafael police reported.

Officers said items taken in a burglary of the home of Herschel Glen Howard, 17 Clark Street, were found in the car of Natalis Kit-Yan Leng, 18, of Daly City, and Gary Pang, 16, of San Francisco, after their arrest in Sausalito.

Sausalito police arrested Leng and Pang at the home of David Campbell, 62 Glen Drive, after a neighbor reported a burglary in process. A third youth fled, officers said.

San Rafael police said the Howard home was entered by breaking a kitchen window Thursday and a $70 woman's wristwatch, two strings of beads, two cameras, and $20 cash were taken. Most of the items were found in the car, they said.

Pang was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall. Leng was freed on $1,250 bail, to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Youngster Finds Cash Lost In San Anselmo

A "sizeable amount" of cash was turned into the San Anselmo Police Department Friday by an elementary school-age girl who found it, according to Sgt. G. Albert Howenstein.

He said the police department is holding the money and carrying case for identification by the owner.

Wet Game Of Football In Oakland Coliseum

HIC — There's an ordinance over there in Oakland that prohibits persons from carrying oozebay into the Oakland Coliseum complex.

Ha-ha. Hee-hee. Hoo-hoo.

Oh, boy, what a laugh. I thought I was in the Jack Daniels distillery with 53,605 alcoholics, but actually it was an American Football League Western Division playoff game between the Oakland Raiders and the Vassar Goodie-Goodies.

At least, that's what the Kansas City Chiefs resembled. They made the worst performance in the history of AFL Western Division playoffs and not because this was the first playoff in history.

But let's get back to the original thought about the prohibited giggly juice. Well, let's put it this way: If you ever need a little blast — you know, Bunkie, a little horn, or toddy or whatever you call it — go to Oakland. Sure, the gendarmes confiscate a lot of the contraband, but you ought to see what they miss.

Two Decks Of Rooters

I was with the Marin Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club aboard Shaun Wiltshire's double-decker London bus (see picture on page 26) from Wiltshire Towers in San Rafael and the section in which we sat looked like wall-to-wall New Year's Eve. Oh, don't get me wrong, the Marin Boosters were models of deportment as their refreshments included the likes of Fresca, root beer, Pepsi, Coke and I even saw one lady with a quart of milk. But the others around us made my hair curl with every breath.

Those Raider fans have licked the ordinance in many ways. One man had a hollow pair of binoculars from which he drank. Look, Ma, magnified Old Crow. Another ruse is a plastic thing that looks like a big cheese sandwich with a cork in it. Swish cheese. And would you believe an umbrella with a hollow handle? Mary Poppins is a drunk! Thank goodness it rained — hail, hail, the gang's all here. (The Raiders showed how the wet was won. So did the fans.)

Yes, A Slight Upset

Some of the fumes must have drifted down onto the Kansas City side of the field because the Chiefs acted like they'd had too much firewater. Just like the oddsmakers who had established them as 3½-point favorites. The 41-6 Raider victory would suggest a slight upset, eh?

It was the most lopsided playoff since Custer and Chief Whatchmacallit at Little Big Horndinky Coliseum. I still don't know if the Raiders are that good or the Chiefs that bad but I think it's a combination of the two.

It was what we old sporting scriveners call a "kicking game." That is, the Raiders did all the kicking off and the Chiefs did all the punting. They really put the foot back in football.

It Was One Of THOSE Days

If you want an example of Kansas City's ineptitude I offer you one kickoff play that provided the best block of the game. That was the one on which a Kansas City man knocked down Noland Smith on a kickoff return. Which was all right, but, golly, guys, Noland Smith plays for Kansas City, too, you know. You get the idea of how ludicrous was this game?

It was a jolly ride over to Oakland on Wiltshire's double-decker jolly transit and an even jollier ride home, if you can imagine.

Poor Shaun now has a big problem on his hands. As the bebowlered group of 60 Raider nuts gave out a roaring rendition of "Miami, how I love ya', how I love ya', my dear old Miami," Shaun worried, "I wonder if my double-decker will make it all the way to Florida for the Super Bowl?"

I don't know if the jolly transit will, but the Raiders will. Baby, it's Colt outside.

Dancer's Image Out Of Money

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission ruled today that Dancer's Image won the 1968 Kentucky Derby but his owned would not be entitled to the purse because of the presence of a forbidden medication in the colt's urine.

AGREE

The commission, after hearing 14 days of testimony, agreed with the stewards that Peter Fuller's colt had phenylbutazone in his system after he won the May 4th race.

The medication is permissable in this state as long as it does not show up in a horse by the time he races. The rule covering this drug provides for a redistribution of the purse but makes no mention of disqualifying the horse as the winner of the race.

Arthur Grafton, an attorney for Fuller indicated an appeal might be made to the courts, but said no final decision would be made until he talked to Fuller.

IN BOSTON

Fuller was reported in Boston.

George Egger, racing commission chairman, said the final order redistributing the Derby purse would be entered "shortly."

The commission's decision means the $122,600 first money in the 1¼-mile Derby goes to Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, who finished second to Dancer's Image.

Tars Lose; Host Ohlone J.C. Tonight

College of Marin's basketball team will try to start another win streak tonight after a very brief one ended Saturday night.

The Tars host Ohlone Junior College of Fremont at 8 p.m. in search of their fourth win of the season.

Their abbreviated one-game win streak ended Saturday at the hands of Cabrillo in Santa Cruz, 73-69, as they ran into the evil whammy of the free-throw meanie again.

The Tars, now 3-6, hit 47 per cent of their shots from the field (to 41 per cent for the winners), outdid the winners in field goals (26-17) but still lost.

This despite superlative performances by the tall and the small of the Tar outfit, guard Andre Horn (5-foot-10) and forward Pat Schafer (6-3).

Horn whipped in 24 points on 11 fielders to tie Cabrillo's Mark Scurich for game honors and Schafer scored 21 points and grabbed nine rebounds. Tom Steinderberg added 13 points.

College of Marin (losing ... Smith, 1-2; G. Horn, 10-24; Schafer, 9-21; Lucas, 1-7; Tom Steinberg, 4-13; Tait, 0-1; Totals: 26-89).

Colts Win Western Title; To Go Against Browns

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts followed form on and off the playing field yesterday as they won the National Football League's Western Conference championship.

After beating the Minnesota Vikings 24-14, as expected, the Colts trooped to the dressing room and — as expected — spoke in glowing terms of the Cleveland Browns, their opponent in next Sunday's NFL title game.

CAREFUL

Football players are extremely careful not to rile a future opponent with loose talk which could stir the emotions. But the Colts certainly have reason to be sincere in their praise fo the Browns.

Baltimore's only defeat in 15 games this season was a 30-20 loss to the Browns in the sixth week of the campaign.

"They didn't beat us last time by any fluke," Baltimore Coach Don Shula said. "They have a sound football team."

"It should be a helluva battle," said tight end John Mackey.

"Cleveland has a great defense, and their good running game will keep our defense honest. We can't rush the passer and let a guy like Leroy Kelly slip past for a long gain."

TV Football Fans Want Football, Nothing Else

For the second time in recent weeks, metropolitan area football fans were seething as CBS-TV cut away from a football game for a special show—this time the pictures transmitted by the United States' three astronauts on their way to the moon.

A CBS-TV spokesman said nearly 1,000 calls were received shortly after 3:04 p.m., EST, just after the network switched away from the National Football League Western Conference title game for the space spectacular.

A similar situation occurred several weeks ago when NBC-TV switched away from the last minute of the New York Jets-Oakland game for a special showing of Heidi, the children's program. The station received thousands of angry calls from throughout the country, and to make matters worse, Oakland scored two touchdowns in that final minute to win.

The space situation was not so critical. The switch was made in the final two minutes of the first half and viewers missed no scoring in the Baltimore-Minnesota game and CBS-TV reran most of the action during halftime.

The rerun caused calls to taper off, the spokesman said, but enough additional calls were received to bring the total to almost 2,000.

It's On To N.Y. To Face Jets

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders, who had almost forgotten how to win one going away, picked an excellent time to remember, surprising the Kansas City Chiefs, the New York Jets and themselves.

For three weeks, the Raiders had scraped and clawed their way into an American Football League Western Division playoff and when they got there yesterday they found, instead of the expected pitched battle, a 41-6 cakewalk over the Chiefs.

FIRST TIME

"I didn't know that," said a stunned Kansas City Coach Hank Stram when told it was the first time the Chiefs had been held without a touchdown in five years. "I just don't know what to say."

"It's almost amazing," said an equally surprised, but far happier John Rauch, the Oakland coach, "that offensively and defensively everything went the way we planned."

CONFIDENCE

"I didn't think it would be a runaway," said Ewbank. "Oakland's a great football team—they showed that today—and this victory will make them all the more confident."

In the three games preceding this showdown battle, Oakland was a great football team only in the sense that it won even though it played poorly.

The Raiders barely beat Buffalo, the weakest team in all of pro football now; just held off Denver, also less than brilliant, and barely beat San Diego.

That gave the Raiders a 12-2 record, matching Kansas City with whom they split two regular season meetings.

QUICK

But against the Chiefs yesterday, the Raiders found themselves. And it didn't take very long.

By the time the first quarter was over, Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica had thrown three touchdown passes, two to Fred Biletnikoff, and the Raider offense had established itself.

In the second period, it was the defense's turn.

Twice, the Chiefs drove within the Oakland five-yard line and twice the Raiders' defense held, forcing Kansas City to settle for field goals by Jan Stenerud.

Why go for field goals when you're in close and trailing by three touchdowns?

"It was very important to us then to just get on the scoreboard," said Stram. "I thought somehow with a pass interception or a fumble recovery we might be able to jump back."

Browns' Defense Does The Job Against Cowboys

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was against Baltimore that the Cleveland Browns did an about face and marched on to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship.

Now it's Baltimore again—this time for the NFL title Dec. 29 at Municipal Stadium.

The Browns beat Dallas 31-20 Saturday and Baltimore tripped Minnesota 24-14 yesterday to take the Western Conference playoff and set the stage for the showdown. The winner goes to the Super Bowl.

Browns' Coach Blanton Collier watched the Baltimore-Minnesota game on television and said he expects the Colts "will be very emotional" about the title game. "That would be natural. I hope we're up, too."

Cleveland handed the Colts their only loss of the season, a 30-20 decision Oct. 20, and went on to win seven in a row.

Also, the Browns beat the Colts 27-0 for the NFL title in 1964. Collier again will match strategy with Colts' coach Don Shula, who used the play for him and worked as an aide when Collier coached at Kentucky.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said "the Browns' defense made the big difference. It made the big play. That's where the game was to be won or lost."

Collier said it was "the greatest defensive effort for a team that has played for me."

The two key plays were a 45-yard touchdown pass from Bill Nelsen to Leroy Kelly that made it 10-10 at halftime and an interception by Dale Lindsey on the first play of the second half.

On the Kelly touchdown, Landry said "the Browns went into the half with all the momentum. We went in dejected."

Lindsay juggled the ball several times but held it and raced 27 yards for a 17-10 lead.

Cleveland upped it to 24-10 shortly after that when Ben Davis picked off the third interception from Don Meredith. It resulted in Kelly going 35 yards for a touchdown on a sweep.

A first-quarter interception set up Don Cockroft's 38-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead but Dallas came back when Chuck Howley grabbed Nelsen's fumble and raced 44 yards for a touchdown. Mike Clark added a 16-yard field goal.

Then Nelson hit Kelly to tie it and Cleveland bounced back strong in the second half to take the lead for good.

Erich Barnes intercepted off Craig Morton in the fourth quarter and Ernie Green went over from two yards to put it out of reach.

RAIDERS

Just before the half ended, Lamonica hit Biletnikoff with a sideline pass and the Raider flanker powered, danced and just ran the ball 30 yards into the end zone on a 46-yard play and Lamonica's fourth TD toss.

"You don't usually expect to score on a play like that," admitted Biletnikoff later.

Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson completed only three passes in the first half and though he did better in the second half, finishing with 17 completions in 36 attempts, the Raiders found a way to keep the Chiefs from crossing the goal line.

They intercepted four of Dawson's passes, twice deep in their own territory and while Lamonica kept hitting on his passes, the Raiders also began to establish a running attack.

ROOKIE STARS

Rookie Charlie Smith, held to just two yards in the first half, gained 72 the second time around, setting up Lamonica's fifth touchdown pass, to Warren Wells, and one of two field goals by George Blanda.

And while the Chiefs, who had allowed a league low of just 170 points in 14 regular-season games, gave nearly one fourth that total to the Raiders, the Oakland defense held Kansas City in check.

"Any time you play like that against a Kansas City team," said Rauch, of his defense, "you should give a monument to them."

met for the NFL title, in 1964, the favored Colts were upended 27-0 as Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier beat Shula, his former assistant at the University of Kentucky.

The Colts, who posted three shutouts during the regular season while allowing a record-tying low of 144 points, didn't yield a touchdown until 8:16 remained to be played.

Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp turned in a courageous effort while being rushed unmercifully during the second half. He completed 26 of 44 passes for 266 yards and led all rushers with 52 yards on 10 carriers.

HIT HARD

Although thrown for losses only three times while trying to pass, Kapp was rapped hard frequently as he released the ball and when he ran — sometimes not at his own choosing.

The Colts, held to just 50 yards rushing on 37 carries, gained 245 yards on the passing of quarterback Earl Morrall — including touchdown passes to Mackey for 49 yards and to Tom Mitchell for three yards.

The Vikings tossed Morrall four times while passing and gave him such a hard time, the Colts resorted to the rollout to get things moving.

'FORTUNATE'

"Our pass protection broke down early," Shula said. "We were fortunate to be leading 7-0 at halftime playing that way."

The 49-yard RD pass to Mackey, who sprinted the last 30 yards after breaking a tackle, and a 60-yard scoring run with a fumble by linebacker Mike Curtis — within a two-minute period of the third quarter — gave Baltimore a 21-0 lead.

Mitchell scored the other touchdown in the second period after a spectacular diving catch by Willie Richardson put the ball on the Minnesota three.

Kapp's one-yard pass to Billy Martin made it 21-7 and after Lou Michaels booted a 33-yard field goal for the Colts, Kapp tossed 10 yards to Bill Brown with four seconds left.

A Senator For Baseball's Top Job?

CHICAGO (AP) — The search for a baseball commissioner acceptable to both the American and National Leagues began today and rumor's first production was Sen. Phillip Hart of Michigan.

The name of Hart, a friend of baseball, popped out of Washington, D.C., for the $100,000-a-year job which was left up in the air by club owners dedicated to create a new image for the game.

After 19 ballots and 14 hours, the baseball brass failed to agree and wearily ended with a stalemate at 6:15 a.m., EST, Saturday.

The balloting to select a successor for the dismissed Gen. William Eckert was diffused by at least six candidates and all but one of them now appear to be out of the picture altogether. Possibly, the lone remaining hopeful in the group is career baseball man Lee MacPhail, Eckert's first assistant who resigned to become vice president of the New York Yankees.

It was a tug-o-war between the traditionalist, Chub Feeney, and the so-called Young Turk ringleader, suave Mike Burke, through 10 ballots.

Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants and a nephew of the club's owner, Horace Stoneham, had the required minimum of nine N.L. votes but couldn't swing it through the A.L. Burke, president of the Yankees, couldn't put it through the N.L.

With this checkmate, presumably both contenders now are out of the race. Also gone from the list, if the balloting is a criterion, are Joe Cronin, A.L. president and Circuit Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, former player counsel.

In the late balloting, John McHale became a compromise choice of the A.L. which gave him nine votes. McHale, former Eckert executive and general manager of the Detroit Tigers and Milwaukee-Atlanta Braves, decided to stay as head man of the new Montreal Expos.

He withdrew from the commissioner race without even giving his N.L. colleagues a chance to vote on him.

Finally, it got down to MacPhail. It looked as if he were on the move in the 18th ballot, getting nine A.L. votes and four from the N.L. But on the 19th ballot, three of his four N.L. backers passed.

"The owners just thought that by this time they were too tired and thought-weary, and this just wasn't the way to select a commissioner," said spokesman Frank Dale, Cincinnati Reds president. "That's when we adjourned. They stuck it out as long as they could. They really wanted to get the job done.

"Now, I expect, it will be 30 or 40 days before we meet again."

THEY HAD A LOT TO CROW ABOUT

Sixty members of the Marin Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club displayed justifiable confidence as they departed for yesterday's American Football League playoff game between the Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs. Shaun Wiltshire, Boosters president who owns the eye-catching double-decker bus which transports fans to games, explained the "Roosters" sign means, "We crow a lot." The fans crowed all the way home after their team demolished the Chiefs, 41-6. (Fred Harris photo)

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Hank Stram can lose graciously. Prior to yesterday's losing playoff game with Oakland for the Western Division title, the Kansas City coach emphasized he was heading into the Raider game with the expectation "of his greatest confrontation" in the American Football League.

Sports writers in the 10 league cities recognized Stram's talents before the game on the basis of his comeback from a so-so season and today voted him United Press International AFL Coach of the Year for 1968.

Stram edged Weeb Eubanks of the New York Jets 14-12 in the balloting of the 30 sports writers. Paul Brown, making his return to professional football with the expansion Cincinnati Bengals, drew three votes. The remaining vote went to San Diego's Sid Gillman.

Seals Continue Hex Over Philly Flyers

Whatever it was that enabled the Seals to beat the Flyers 2-1 in a National Hockey League game last night before 1,829 at San Francisco's Cow Palace, the Seals hope they can take it with them to Boston Wednesday night.

"The Seals have the Indian sign on us this year," said Allen. "We should've had at least a tie I thought." Oakland has won three and tied one this season in four games against the Flyers.

The turning point was when we survived five minutes of power plays in the second period" after Seal Bryan Watson received a major penalty for high sticking the Flyers' Ed Van Impe, said Glover.

Bill Hicke's 18-foot backhand at 12:29 of the t hird period was the game winner and it boosted the Seals into a second-place tie with Los Angeles in the West Division.

WEEKEND FIGHTS

(Night—Kansas Fargo), 10, (to be announced Other Bouts, 10's, Eight Rds.)

Redwood Wins; Tam Defeated

Redwood High School's basketball team, spurred by its super-guards, captured third place in the Yuba City Invitational Tournament, downing host team Yuba City, 60-38, Saturday.

Guards Jerry Piro and Roger Smith, both all-tournament choices, did the job for the Giants of Larkspur again, Piro pumping in 20 points and Smith 11 against Yuba City.

Livermore, which had downed Redwood Friday by eight points, captued the tourney championship, whipping Mission San Jose, 72-61.

The victory ran Redwood's season record to 7-3.

Tamalpais of Mill Valley was the only other Marin County Athletic team to venture into action Saturday. The Indians took a 64-58 beating at the hands of San Mateo High School at San Mateo. This came after a 44-32 loss Friday night to Carlmont of Belmont.

Mighty Bruins Extend Streak

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bruins ran their record to 5-0 with a pair of easy weekend victories at home—90-51 Friday over Minnesota and 95-56 Saturday over West Virginia.

Alcindor had 25 points against Minnesota during the 28 minutes he played, and scored 19 in 32 minutes against the Mountaineers in the Bruins' 21st consecutive victory.

At the Sun Devil Classic in Phoenix, California lost its opener 98-81 to Purdue, but won the Saturday night consolation final 86-73 over Nebraska, with Trent Gaines posting 21 for the Bears.

Washington, matching California's 4-2 over-all mark, rang up home court victories over Idaho 72-58 and Loyola of Louisiana 87-65.

Two Pacific-8 teams now on the road will be the only ones with games until after Christmas—Washington State at Northwestern and Southern California at Vanderbilt, both tonight.

Washington State lost 84-69 Saturday to an Ohio State team that set a school record by sinking 38 of 45 free throws. Southern Cal edged Oklahoma 48-46 Friday and in turn dropped one by two points, 70-68, Saturday at Florida State.

Oregon State went down 89-64 at Brigham Young Friday, and Oregon won a home contest against Idaho Saturday 79-68.

Stanford ran into a pair of nationally ranked teams on its home court and bowed to Cincinnati, No. 6, Friday 60-49, and to Kansas, No. 1, on Saturday 76-67.

Fifth-ranked New Mexico whipped the University of San Francisco at the Lobo Invitational Friday 82-71, and the Dons absorbed a second beating Saturday from Fordham, 77-64. New Mexico won the tourney at Albuquerque.

San Jose State, scheduled at Utah State tonight, was thumped 95-89 by Idaho State in Pocatello Saturday in spite of Dick Grovers' 25 points.

University of Pacific improved its over-all record to 5-2 by thumping University of Portland 107-61 as Bill Stricker broke a UOP scoring record with 44 points.

UOP is host to Drake tonight.

Santa Clara's 10th-ranked Broncos kept unbeaten with their sixth triumph, a 45-31 conquest of North Texas State Friday. The Broncos play Gonzaga at home tonight.

Seven minutes went by before University of California at Santa Barbara got a field goal against Colorado State which won Saturday 76-55 in Fort Collins, Colo.

St. Mary's was upset 80-74 by San Francisco State in overtime at the Fresno State College tournament Saturday, and lost to Seattle Pacific 63-61 in Friday's opening round play.

Falcons Hire A Pair Of Assistant Coaches

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have hired two line coaches as Coach Norm Van Brocklin moves to fill out the staff for his National Football League club.

Duane Putnam, 40, was named yesterday to tutor the offensive line. Defensive line coach Marion Campbell was obtained Saturday.

Van Brocklin released the entire Falcons' staff Dec. 16 after the team lost its final game to San Francisco. They had been hired by Norb Hecker, who was replaced by Van Brocklin early in the season.

Campbell was an assistant coach when Van Brocklin coached the Minnesota Vikings and had been defensive line coach for the Los Angeles Rams.

Campbell played for the San Francisco 49ers and Philadelphia Eagles.

Putnam was a guard on Rams' teams quarterbacked by Van Brocklin. He had an 11-year pro career with the Rams, Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Company Stock Plan A Boon To Employees

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband will be eligible to purchase his company's stock. He can invest between 2 per cent and 8 per cent of his salary, with the company contributing 50 per cent of matching funds. We have $15,000 in savings and some bank stock. How much should he invest? — J. S.

A. All but one of your stocks should be held. Spector, which has been hurt by costs of acquisitions, will take some time to work out. I would advise switching to a faster-moving situation.

Grace may expand into electrical contracting if the Fischbach & Moore acquisition is completed. Consumer grocery items are becoming more important, but chemicals continue as the major product.

Acquisitions are assuming a bigger role in the corporate affairs of Magnavox. Most recently, takeover of a band instrument-maker has been proposed. Magnavox' growth pattern should not be inhibited.

Beverly operates extended-care nursing facilities. The number of beds is expected to reach 6,000 by the end of 1969. There is little doubt that nursing-home care is an area of great need and therefore growth.

A. A very simple calculation will show that by investing 8 per cent your husband is automatically electing to raise his salary by 4 per cent because of his company's contribution. If this is part of a retirement plan, then there is probably a tax shelter involved which would be an additional incentive to take full advantage.

Q. My holdings include W. R. Grace, Beverly Enterprises, Spector Industries and Magnavox. As a father of young children, I am trying to buy growth companies for the future. Should these be held? — G. B.

Dividend Voted By Marin Firm

Directors of Marin County Financial Corp have declared a 4 per cent stock dividend on the capital stock of the corporation and a cash dividend of 10 cents per share.

The distribution will be made Jan. 10 to stockholders of record Dec. 26. Both dividends represent a distribution of earnings of the company's operating subsidiary, Marin County Savings and Loan Association.

Marin County Financial Corp. will hold its annual stockholders meeting in April.

Firestone Reports Records For 1968

AKRON, Ohio (BW) — The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. reached and passed a milestone as net sales for the year ended Oct. 31 soared over the $2 billion level for the first time.

Net income also reached a record high as earnings were 6 per cent of sales. Sales for the year were $2,131,443,965, compared with $1,875,376,329 for the previous year, an increase of 13.7 per cent. Earnings amounted to $127,034,657, compared with $102,349,310 a year ago, an increase of 24.1 per cent.

Tight-Money Fears Cuts Mart Closing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today under the influences of year-end profit taking and fears of tight money.

The market was lower from the start and widened its losses as the session wore on. Trading was active, and some big blocks were traded.

It was the last day of the year in which to sell stocks "regular way" (five-day delivery) and record the profits on 1968 income tax returns.

Blue chips and glamor stocks gave ground on a wide front.

In late dealings, IBM, Polaroid and Xerox were off 3 each. City Investing about 4, Essex International, American Smelting, Du Pont and Procter & Gamble about 2 each.

After a delayed opening Amerada was up 7 points and Hess Oil 1½ on news of their proposed merger.

Armour was down 2 and General Host 1 following news that General Host plans to make an offer for all shares of Armour.

Tight money, higher interest rates and fear of another "money crunch" such as accompanied a big market plunge in 1966 also were linked with selling.

two years, has been appointed permanant manager. Before joining the association in 1965 as a senior appraiser and loan officer, he was an appraiser with the Union Bank of Los Angeles. He and his wife and two children live in Novato.

Gene D. Moretton of Santa Rosa, former loan officer for the association, will be assistant manager and public relations officer. In addition to having a strong background in real estate, he has long been active in the entertainment field and has appeared in numerous television and motion picture productions. He will move his home to Novato.

TWO MARIN MEN have received out-of-town managership posts with Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

McKinley

Suneson

Howard M. McKinley of San Anselmo will head the company's Stockton division on Jan. 1. For the past two years he has been electric superintendent of the San Francisco division. He joined PG&E in 1947 as an engineer and through successive appointments has been power engineer, senior distribution engineer, division electric engineer and administrative assistant to the senior vice president.

Alfred L. Suneson of Novato will be PG&E manager in the Corcoran area, which covers approximately 1,050 square miles of agricultural territory. He joined the company as a pump tester at Marysville in 1956. Since 1962 he has been an agricultural power engineer in the sales department in San Francisco. He, too, takes over his new office Jan. 1.

GEORGE SILVESTRI of San Rafael, president of Marin Products Co., has been elected president-elect of the National Frozen Food Association. He will succeed to the presidency of the association a year from now. He has been a director since 1960 and secretary since 1965.

Factory Activity Up In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manufacturing activity in California increased by 5.6 per cent for the year to $25.37 billion in November, the Bank of California reported today.

Record payrolls for the state reached $14.64 billion on the basis of an average 40.7 hour week at an average hourly wage of about $3.50, the bank said. Approximately 1,640,000 were in the work force, despite aerospace cuts.

Gains were reported in all major manufacturing divisions, with a total of $25.60 billion forecast through December.

TO FREEDOM—The 82 surviving members of the Pueblo walk across the "bridge of no return," dividing South and North Korea, to their freedom. They were released yesterday at Panmunjom.

Bruised, Beaten Pueblo Crew Leaves Captivity

Bucher Cites Terror; Welcome Tomorrow

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — With heads held high the 82 surviving crew members of the USS Pueblo walked through a snowstorm to freedom today from Communist North Korea and were hospitalized immediately for treatment for 11 months of torture and near starvation.

They were beaten and kicked "with no mercy of any kind," reported their captain, Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd Mark Bucher, who said he had been held in solitary confinement for most of the time the men were captives of the Communist nation. He called it the most concentrated form of terror he had ever seen.

They were freed in time for Christmas after the United States first denounced and then signed a "garbage apology" admitting the Pueblo had spied inside North Korean waters and apologizing to the Pyongyang regime. Already the Communists were denouncing the "shameful' acts of the Americans for what they called the "false apology."

(Meanwhile the Navy announced in San Diego today that the Pueblo crew should arrive at Miramir Naval Air Station at 4 p.m. tomorrow — a full day later than expected.

(A spokesman said the crew will meet newsmen at 8 p.m. today in a hospital in Seoul, attend midnight religious services and leave for San Diego at 2 a.m. PST from Kimpo Air Force Base.)

Bucher was the first to cross the bridge of no return between North and South Korea. He was followed by an ambulance containing the body of Duane Daniel Hodges, 21, who was killed when the Pueblo was captured last Jan. 23.

Then came the others. There were smiles and a few tears. Their bodies were bruised from savage beatings administered by guards who held them at the point of a machinegun. Some had black eyes.

Bucher said, "I think there are many of my crew who are in very bad physical condition just from a nutritional point of view."

"I was not prepared mentally for the beatings that were handed out," Bucher said. "I thought they were totally brutal —with no mercy of any kind. They were done for one purpose and that was to terrify and terrorize people."

The men were flown by helicopter to the 121st U.S. Medical Evacuation Hospital at Ascom City, eight miles west of Seoul, where they spent their first night of freedom. They underwent medical checkups conducted by a team of 105 medical officers headed by Col. Warren C. Buchanan, commanding officer of the hospital.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk to the crewmen but a

Spacemen All Set For Lunar Orbit

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—America's Apollo 8 astronauts approached the grip of the moon's gravity today with everything "go" for a momentous swing into lunar orbit early Christmas Eve.

"Everything looks good for the lunar orbit," said flight director Glynn Lunney as Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders entered the third day of their daring six-day, half-million-mile round trip.

They already had traveled far enough to guarantee at least a pass around the back of the moon before heading back to earth.

Barring any last minute problems, they will trigger their big rocket engine at 1:59 a.m. (PST) tomorrow to drop into the first of 10 loops around the moon. The final, formal, clearance for the crucial maneuver will be radioed to the pilots early tomorrow.

"I hope you're looking us over carefully," Borman said. "The one thing we want is a perfect spacecraft before we consider this LOI (lunar orbit injection) burn."

Once Apollo 8 gets in a moon orbit, its main engine must operate to blast them back to Earth early Christmas morning. If it failed, the astronauts would be hopelessly stranded in lunar orbit.

The historic orbital reconnaissance run will pave the way for a landing by another American crew as early as next spring.

"I'm real pleased with the way things are going so far," Lunney said. "The spacecraft seems to be going in an essentially perfect fashion."

Lunney said the astronauts "sound real good this morning" and apparently were shaking off the "celestial flu" that plagued Borman yesterday. "They seem to be pretty chipper."

One minor snag developed when telemetry data indicated a secondary coolant valve did not close properly. Lunney, however, said it did not appear serious.

At 7:15 a.m. (PST) Apollo 8 was 191,033 miles from earth, 40,167 miles from the moon and traveling at 2,357 miles per hour. The pilots had completed more than three-quarters of man's first trip around the moon.

Their speed was expected to drop to about 2,100 mph under the drag of earth's gravity and then accelerate up to 7,000 mph when the earth surrenders its influence on Apollo 8 to the pull of the moon at mid-afternoon.

Aside from the threat of more sickness among the crewmen, the voyage of Apollo 8 was moving along without a hitch. Its pilots continued their business-like performance and appeared in good spirits.

"We're all feeling pretty good now," reported Lovell 47 hours after Saturday's blastoff from Cape Kennedy. "No problems," but he said the cabin was "slightly cold."

Flight engineer Anders awoke from an "off an on" sleep about 5:30 a.m. and was told by ground controllers that Apollo 8's systems "are looking go."

"Good deal," replied the sleepy-sounding pilot.

The astronauts were told that engineers on the ground were trying to find a way to improve the quality of the moonship's out-of-the-window television shots for their second interplanetary telecast later today.

Ground communicator Jerry Carr said the pilots' initial telecast yesterday was upstaged for the youngsters living around the Houston space center by Santa Claus.

"He came along on a fire engine just about the time you guys came along," said Carr. "So the little critters were all outside."

Apollo 8's course was so accurate that flight directors decided to skip a planned steering correction today. Navigator Lovell was keeping tabs on the ship's path by using a space-age version of the sextant used for centuries by sea-going navigators.

When communicator Kenneth Mattingly praised Lovell for his work, Borman chimed in last night and said:

"We've got to spend four more days up here with him, will you take it easy. He's already talking about going back to MIT as a professor."

Cong Reject Saigon's Direct Talk Proposal

"Direct talks with the Saigon administraton are impossible," a Viet Cong spokesman said, because the South Vietnam government represents "no one."

Ky arrived back in Saigon and revised the offer, saying the talks could be held only after U.S. and North Vietnamese troops pulled out of South Vietnam.

Ky's statement to newsmen at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport contrasted to his offer yesterday, broadcast in a U.S. televised interview, that Saigon was willing to talk with the Viet Cong.

"So as my president and government had always said...we are ready to hear them, to meet with them and talk with them, discuss with them their problems," Ky had said in the televised interview.

On his return to Saigon for the Christmas holidays, Ky explained his government's position this way:

"I think if the North Vietnamese withdraw beyond the 17th parallel, the allied (U.S.) troops will pull out of South Vietnam and then the common border between North and South will be secured...and we will have peace . . . "

Cleaver Forfeits Bail Of $50,000

OAKLAND (AP) — Fugitive Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver, sought as a parole violator, forfeited $50.000 bail today when he failed to show up in Alameda County Superior Court.

His wife, Kathleen, and four others who signed a promisory note for the 33-year-old militants bail said they would ask the public to help pay the bill.

"The committee has no regrets about Cleaver's actions and we accept our responsibility for the ransom payment and we hope the community at large will help share our financial burden," the five said in a statement.

Rusk Says Release Formula One Of Strangest Of All Procedures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Release of the Pueblo crewmen was obtained under what Secretary of State Dean Rusk calls one of the strangest diplomatic procedures in Cold War history and another high official calls just plain "kooky."

The formula called for the chief U.S. negotiator to sign a statement admitting U.S. guilt but only after the North Koreans agreed to let him publicly announce beforehand that the statement was a lie.

"Apparently the North Koreans believe there is propaganda value even in a worthless document which Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward publicly labeled false before he signed it," Rusk said.

The document signed by Woodward, the chief U.S. negotiator, said the Pueblo had entered North Korean waters, and declared that the U.S. government "shoulders full responsibility and solemnly apologizes for grave acts of espionage." It gave "firm assurance no U.S. ships will intrude again."

Woodward, in his public repudiation in advance of signing the statement, said "the document which I am going to sign is at variance with the (U.S.) position but my signature will not and cannot alter the facts.

"I will sign the document to free the crew and only to free the crew."

Rusk commented that in 19 years of public service he knew of no precedent for the contradictory statements.

Another high official privately described the final formula, one of two suggested in the past month by Washington, as "kooky."

The instructions for Woodward to sign the false statement came from the State Department with the knowledge of President Johnson, officials said. President-elect Richard Nixon was informed but not consulted in advance about the arrangement, they added.

The South Korean government also was kept informed of the developments and "showed good understanding of our problems," authorities said.

While Rusk said efforts will have to be pursued further to regain the Pueblo, State Department officials said no more private meetings were planned at Panmunjom to obtain its release.

The North Koreans are believed to have long ago exhausted its value as far as secrets are concerned and they could

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon left New York today for a Christmas vacation in Florida, saying the wedding of his daughter helped him to shake the flu.

Nixon smiled and was strong of voice as he and his wife, Pat, came out of their Fifth Avenue apartment to motor to the airport. He called back to the shouted question of newsmen behind police lines: "I had a bit of the flu, but the wedding cured the flu."

Asked how he felt about the release by North Korea of the crewmen of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo, Nixon said he was "glad the boys were home."

$6 Million Project Near Civic Center To Be Aired

A $6 million commercial project with four floors above ground for professional offices and two underground floors for parking is planned on North San Pedro Road directly across from the Marin Civic Center.

Charlton Investment Co. of San Francisco, represented by San Francisco architect Gilbert Oliver, was to unveil the plans before the Marin County Planning Commission this afternoon.

If the plans are approved, the developers hope to start construction within a year and have the first offices ready for use in a year and a half, said Oliver.

President of the development firm is Clyde Charlton of San Francisco.

"It will be mainly professional offices," said Oliver. "We also plan commercials such as a restaurant, banking services, perhaps a barber shop, cigar store and other satellite uses."

Oliver said the development will be in stages, over three or four years. "Ultimately, it would be worth $6 or $7 million," he said.

When completed, the project will have 400 parking spaces and space equivalent to more than 3.5 acres.

The developers are buying 5.2 acres of land from Emil and Robert Lauchenauer. The property extends from North San Pedro Road to San Pablo Avenue.

"The overall concept looks good," commented Werner von Gundell, chief of current planning for the county planning department, "but there are still a few bugs to be worked out."

Truce Eve Brings Big Red Shellings

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist rockets today hammered villages, airfields and military camps across South Vietnam, killing 13 persons and wounding 30 on the eve of the guerrillas' 72-hour Christmas truce.

Military spokesmen said South Vietnamese troops battled 400 Communists 16 miles southwest Saigon yesterday and today, and killed 81 of them while losing 12 dead and 36 wounded themselves.

In the capital, a terrorist bomb shattered the home of a local military official, killing one South Vietnamese and wounding another. The official was not home at the time.

At least 12 of the dead and 20 of the wounded in the nationwide rocket attacks were caught in a four-round barrage into Dogpatch, a shantytown next to the U.S. air base at Da Nang.

Headquarters said a total of 100 man-sized rockets slammed into the Da Nang base, Dogpatch, a highlands village, two airfields and a U.S. military base in the Mekong Delta.

The shellings came about 24 hours before the 72-hour cease-fire declared by the Viet Cong beginning at 1 a.m. tomorrow. The allies proclaimed a 24-hour holiday truce of their own, to start at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

The four rounds that crashed into Dogpatch were part of a 20-round rocket attack against the U.S. military bastion at Da Nang, South Vietnam's second biggest city 380 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. headquarters said five American servicemen suffered wounds in the Da Nang attack. Spokesmen said damage from all the barrages was light.

In nine raids, U.S. B52 bombers struck back at Red hideouts in the north, in the Central Highlands and around Saigon where South Vietnam's premier says a Communist offensive is building.

Near Saigon, about 400 guerrillas yesterday attacked a U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division post, killing 17 Americans and wounding 12. The GIs threw back the attack, killing at least 81 Communists.

It was the largest Red battle toll since Nov. 14 when U.S. troops killed 287 Communists in a fight in the same area, near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

Pair Facing Robbery In Bus Hijack

FAIRFIELD (UPI) — Two young men faced robbery of a chartered bus carrying 46 passengers on their way in Nevada gambling casinos.

The suspects, who identified themselves as George Washington Johnson and Michael White, both 22, were captured here a few hours after they jumped from the Continental Trailways bus.

Two masked men pistol-whipped five passengers and the driver, Collin Dingwall, 29, Mill Valley, and fled with $5,000 in cash plus watches, wallets, purses and jewelry late Friday night while the bus was rolling along Interstate 80 between Fairfield and Vallejo.

The robbers left the bus after passenger Allen Rowe of San Francisco grappled with one of them, took away his knife and stabbed the man.

"I hit him in the face and stabbed him," Rowe said. "After I hit him, he called to 'Glen,' the man near the driver, and told him to shoot." Rowe said three shots were fired, but no one was hit.

The robbers forced their way into a room at a nearby hotel, tied up a couple and stole their car. They abandoned the auto near here after it crashed into a ditch and fled on foot.

The two suspects were arrested after one of them went to a Fairfield home and requested first aid for a stab wound in his hand. A woman treated the hand, then called police after the man left.

Solano County Sheriff's Sgt. Jack Oller said state and federal fingerprint files were being checked to positively identify the suspects.

U.S. Will Give Up 10 Bases In Japan

TOKYO (AP) —The United States offered today to give up 10 military bases in Japan and to move or share with Japanese defense forces about 40 others.

The move was seen as a U.S. attempt to calm opposition in Japan to American military presence in the nation.

Japanese defense officials said the offer was accepted.

The bases to be given up include training grounds around Tokyo and Hokkaido and some naval installations and recreation areas in Yokohama and Yokosuka, the officials reported.

The United States has 148 bases and installations here under the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

The agreement was reached at a three-hour session of the security treaty joint consultative committee attended by Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi; Kuichi Arita, directr-general of the Japanese defense agency; U.S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Adm. John S. McCain Jr., commander of U.S. Naval Forces in the Pacific.

Johnson told a news conference the proposal covers almost half of the total land occupied by U.S. bases and installations.

He added that the United States has maintained only the minimum number of bases necessary to carry out its commitment to the defense of Japan and had no desire to hold the bases for their own sake.

Aichi said Japan welcomes the U.S. proposal as a constructive step.

Faith Crisis Prompts Pope To Set Synod

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today summoned an extraordinary gathering of bishops from around the world to meet in a new synod next Oct. 11 to help him deal with the crisis of faith and disobedience sweeping the Roman Catholic Church.

It will be the second such synod in history. The first took place at the Vatican last year.

The Pope announced the new synod in a pre-Christmas speech deploring anew defiance of church authority and negative reactions to his stand against birth control.

"We are not unaware of the different reactions caused by our pronouncement (on birth control), the Pope told a meeting of cardinals, members of his Vatican staff and prelates from the Rome diocese. He had called them together to express his Christmas greetings.

"We cannot keep silent the sorrow caused us by seeing sometimes the incomprehension or misreading of our intentions and even our words."

The Pope indicated he would soon speak out to answer the many objections swirling up against his birth control decision.

"We have taken note of all with the respect we owe to all and with the purpose of not failing when the moment is right to make the replies which appear necessary, especially on the level of pastoral concern," he said.

Speaking of the crisis of obedience and faith—termed by many the most serious for the Church since the Protestant Reformation —the Pope said: "What must be said of those other episodes— and they are not few or obscure—that make people speak of a crisis of the Church, of faith, and a crisis of dscipline?"

He said he was aware of "unease, of aspirations, of impatience that can assume at times tones and aspects almost of revolt." he added: "And we are desirous of answering it in the best way possible, but at the same time (we are) duty bound required to safeguard the sacred deposit of truth and norms of life that have been entrusted to the Church by its founder and that we must preserve essentially unharmed as it has been transmitted to us . . ."

Petite Blonde Now In Kidnap Spotlight

MIAMI (UPI)—The spotlight in the Mackle kidnaping swung today to Ruth Eiseman Schier, 26, a petite, Hondurus-born blonde biology researcher.

The FBI listed Miss Schier as the second half of a kidnap team of "superior intelligence" that botched and bungled one of the nation's most bizarre's kidnapings —twice collecting and twice letting slip through their fingers a half million dollars in ransom.

With the arrest of Miss Schier and the recovery or accounting for about $700, authorities could stamp as closed a stranger-than-fiction kidnap, ransom and chase that began early last Tuesday.

About $480,000 of the $500,000 in $20 bills paid as ransom for the 20-year-old Emory University coed was abandoned in a boat Krist had baited out of in favor of Hog Island and the dense underbrush that hid him for about 10 hours.

Agents figured he had used another $2,300 of the ransom paid by millionaire land developer Robert Mackle to buy a 17-foot boat late Friday for his unusual escape attempt.

Krist was arraigned yesterday before a U.S. Commissioner as he lay in a hospital bed in Fort Myers. He later was transferred to the Dade County jail here. His bond was set at $500,000.

Her associates at the University of Miami's Institute of Marine Sciences, where Krist worked as a marine technician and she conducted biology research as a graduate student, were still stunned to think she apparently had a part in the kidnaping.

A secretary who worked with Miss Schier remembered her as a "sweet and charming girl, one who took her work seriously."

Dr. Sual Broida of the physical and chemical oceanography department in which Miss Schier was enrolled felt "she seemed to be preoccupied" just after meeting Krist on a two-week cruise to Bermuda in September.

"I talked to her about it and she said she was going to study harder," Broida said. "She wasn't studying. She wasn't doing her work."

Now she and Krist, known as George Deacon at the university, face kidnaping charges in the predawn abduction of Barbara Jane from an Atlanta motel. Miss Mackle was found by FBI agents Friday buried in a coffin-like box about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta.

43 Train Deaths

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A freight train and a train packed with holiday travelers collided at full speed southeast of Budapest last night and officials said today 43 persons perished and 57 were injured.

Huge lifting cranes, 300 railway salvage workers, firemen, doctors, Hungarian and Soviet soldiers, and army tanks were used to grope through the tangled wreckage in search of the dead, the injured and survivors.

A communique issued by the Hungarian State Railways said Ference Szantai, signal operator at Mende near the scene, and Laszlo Papp, engineer of the passenger train were responsible for the crash. Szantai, it added, has been arrested. Papp is among those seriously injured.

Papacy Protest

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Students from Milan's Catholic University passed out leaflets in Taranto today protesting the visit of Pope Paul VI to say midnight Mass Christmas Eve for the region's steel workers.

The 71-year-old pontiff, is coming to the Taranto steel center to demonstrate sympathy for the workers.

But the students told the workers that while the Pope celebrates mass with them, the workers in the Isolotto section of Florence "will united in a vigil of prayer" to show support for their ousted priest, Don Enzo Mazzi.

Confidence Vote

The vote was 351 to 247.

The vote completed the parliamentary mandate for Italy's 29th postwar government. It had won its initial vote of confidence in the Senate, 181 to 119, last Wednesday.

Rumor's government is a coalition of his own Christian Democrat party, the Socialists and the Republicans. It was formed Dec. 12, ending six months of stopgap minority government and political crisis during which Italy went through increasingly violent labor demonstrations and student disorders.

Art Theft Foiled

LONDON (AP) — Nicholas Bowe, 49, an Irish artist, was put on probation for a year today after pleading guilty to trying to steal a Rembrandt from Britain's National Gallery.

The painting, known as "Lucia," was valued at $480,000. Bowe was caught trying to slip it out of the gallery yesterday.

Transit Strike

ROME (AP) — All public transport in Rome was halted today for 24 hours by a strike that jammed traffic, made workers late for their jobs and disrupted last minute Christmas shopping.

With all buses and streetcars idle, almost every private car in the city was brought out and traffic was chaotic.

Many people walked. Commuters from the suburbs stayed home or did their shopping in neighborhood stores. Police and soldiers guarded tourist buses and army trucks that were pressed into service as emergency transport.

California's population, now about 19 million, has doubled every 20 years since the turn of the century.

Famed Couple Wed 60 Years

LONDON (AP) — Dame Sybil Thorndike and Sir Lewis Casson, who spent their long careers on the stage, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary yesterday.

Sir Lewis, 93, and Dame Sybil, 86, were in a play together when they became engaged and they appeared together as recently as last July. They have four children, 10 gradchildren and two great grandchildren.

Sir Lewis says he plans to retire from the stage and do some broadcasting. Dame Sybil is looking for another play.

"You've got to be pals to make marriage last," said Dame Sybil. "Idyllic love that brings you together obviously cannot continue for a lifetime."

Glue Sniffing Suspect Slain

OROVILLE (AP) — A 20-year old Oroville man suspected of having gotten high on glue was shot to death by two policeman yesterday after he fired at them.

Dead was Joe Spates, in whose room police said they found several tubes of glue.

The officers, investigating reports Spates had been acting strangely, found him in his basement. They said Spates lifted a .38-caliber pistol, pegged a shot and was hit by return fire.

AUGUSTINE W. AYERS

Hamilton Names New Executive

Lt. Col. Augustine W. Ayers, a veteran of World War II, has been named executive officer of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Colonel Ayers received his commission through the aviation cadet program in 1944, two years after enlisting. During World War II, he flew 30 combat missions over Europe as pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress. He also flew in the Berline Airlift in 1949.

Other assignments of Colonel Ayers have included Clark Air Base, Philippine Islands; Goose Air Base, Labradore, and Takhli Royal Thai Air Base, Thailand.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and Air Force Commendation Medal.

Colonel and Mrs. Ayers live at 286 Buena Vista Drive on the base.

Thurmond, Bride On Honeymoon

The 66-year-old senator, the 1948 Dixiecrat presidential candidate, and Miss Moore said their vows at a private ceremony at the Aiken Presbyterian Church.

Only 35 persons, 26 of them relatives of the couple, were invited to the wedding. Dr. J. William Thurmond was his brother's best man. Miss Moore's maid of honor was her sister, Ardene Carol Moore of Lexington, Ky. Her father, Paul R. Moore, gave her in marriage.

The couple posed for wedding pictures and held a reception at the church after the ceremony. Thurmond said a public reception will be held later.

Other than relatives, only close aides and friends of Thurmond and the Moore family attended. About 150 persons gathered outside the church.

Thurmond had said Miss Moore, who was Miss South Carolina in 1966, preferred a ceremony without the confusion that spectators and photographers might cause.

Apparently angered over what he said was the "undignified" publicity given to the age difference of the couple when the engagement was announced, Thurmond had refused to make public any plans for the wedding—even the date, time and place.

Bruised, Beaten Ship Crew Gains Freedom

ranking American official said the 82 men seemed to be in "reasonable health." A few of the men including Bucher were limping.

Bucher denounced the seizure of his intelligence ship Jan. 23, denied having steered into North Korean waters and told newsmen, "I surrendered the ship because there was nothing but a slaughter out there and I couldn't see allowing any more people to be slaughtered or killing the entire crew for no reason." He described the beating, clubbing and kicking of his men by Communist captors.

But his voice rang loudest in paying tribute to his men: "They never once lost their spirit or faith in the United States of America. Never once did they give me any cause for concern.

"They were so typically American that they thoroughly confused our captors. This happened on so many different occasions.

"I had people come to me and say on so many occasions that they never really appreciated how great it was to be an American until they had the misfortune to have been captured. Those guys were simply tremendous." Bucher said.

Many of the crewmen—including two civilian technicians—yanked off the North Korean military blue overcoats in which they had spanned freedom bridge. They galloped aboard helicopters that took them to Anscom City where a band played "California Here I Come" and doctors checked them out on the first stop toward home and reunion with families.

"I was hit a few times, only with fists, never with any kind of stick or club. I was kicked a few times. When you're looking down the barrel of a machine-gun it's pretty difficult to defend yourself.

"There was a helluva lot more of them than there were of us.

"The week before last, we went through the most concentrated form of terror I have ever seen. I was not prepared mentally for the beatings that were handed out. About half of the crew was beaten last week.

"One man was hit by a four by four. But our life was not made so miserable that it was unbearable. I now feel surprisingly good shape," said the 39-year-old Pocatello, Idaho, officer whose boyhood was spent in orphanages.

Their captors told them only four days ago they would be released.

The North Koreans, whose ships surrounded and shot at and then grabbed the Pueblo, kept the ship and its valuable gear.

Bucher said some secret documents did fall into Red hands.

"We made attenpts to destroy everything. Truthfully, we had not completed it," he told newsmen.

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung Kuk, the North Korean negotiator known in Panmunjom as "Frogface," appeared pleased when Maj. Gen. Gilbert Hume Woodward signed on the undotted line to free the Pueblo crewmen. "Pak is always arrogant," Woodward said later.

He described the document he signed as "the usual garbage they have been putting out."

Before signing, Woodward said: "The position of the United States government with regard to the Pueblo, as consistently expressed in the negotiations at Panmunjom and in public, has been that the ship was not engaged in illegal activity, that there is no convincing evidence that the ship at any time intruded into the territorial waters as claimed by North Korea, and that we could not apologize for actions which we did not believe took place. The document that I am going to sign was prepared by the North Koreans and is at variance with the above position. But my signature cannot and will not alter the fact.

"I will sign the document to free the crew and only to free the crew."

North Korea almost wrung its hands in glee. The official North Korean news agency said: "The U.S. imperialists bent the knee again to the (North) Korean people before the world people which is a deserving punishment for their arrogant criminal act."

In Washington, the freeing of the Pueblo men brought cheers and Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he simply could not understand how or why the Communists agreed to the "strange procedure" of accepting a worthless "apology."

President Johnson hailed the U.S. action as one that "preserved the integrity of the United States."

In his statement, he said: "I am deeply gratified that after a long eleven months of totally unjustified detention by the North Koreans, the crew of the USS Pueblo have been freed. They should be reunited with their families in time for Christmas and I am happy for them that their time of ordeal ends on a note of joy.

"I want to pay tribute also to the patience and courage of these relatives while their husbands, fathers and sons were held by the North Koreans.

"The negotiations at Panmunjom were cruelly drawn out and I am grateful for the understanding which the Pueblo families showed through the long and painful period during which their government has sought to free the crew . . ."

In New York, President-elect Richard M. Nixon said, "All Americans are delighted and relieved that the ordeal of the officers and men of the Pueblo has at last come to an end. Mrs. Nixon and I wish them and their families a very happy Christmas."

There was no doubt it would be that kind of Christmas. "It's the best present I could ask for," said Leo McCarren in Johnstown, Pa. His son Donald, 33, was a crewman.

In Carthage, Miss., Mrs. R. H. Wadley got a telephone call yesterday from the Navy that her son, Kenneth, 30, was coming home. "I just kept crying the whole time the man was talking to me," she said.

Families of the Pueblo will have planeside reunions at the San Diego air station before the crew is whisked away upon their arrival for "as close a medical checkt as an astronaut would get."

The San Diego station is the home port of the Pueblo and several of the families live in San Diego, including Bucher's wife and family.

The government paid the air fares for dependents flying here from across the nation. The first group was slated to arrive at noon today aboard a commercial airliner.

The Navy reserved 80 rooms at the El Cortez Hotel in the downtown area. Management of the hotel granted reduced rates to the families and the president of the local chamber of commerce went on television last night to appeal for contributions to make up the difference.

Although final plans were not set, it appeared the crew will have a brief reunion with their families at Miramar, then be taken to Balboa Naval Hospital.

"They will get as close a medical check as an astronaut would get and a similarly thorough debriefing," a military official said. The families will wait in the hospital lounge.

It was uncertain whether the men would live at the hospital at the base or with their families at the hotel.

not sail it on the high seas without risk of reprisals.

State Department officials credited Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach and a small group of Korean experts including Ambassador Winthrop Brown, former U.S. envoy to Korea and Laos and Country Director James Leonard, with working out the formula North Korea finally accepted. They gave this tentative explanation tor its acceptance:

North Korea will make as much use as it can of the U.S. "confession" that the Pueblo had illegally intruded into Korean waters on an espionage mission when it was captured Jan. 23. The document may be believed in some Communist countries but will not be accepted in most other countries.

High U.S. officials said the United States put two conditions on an offer made Dec. 17 to sign a false confession in order to obtain the release of the men.

One was that all 82 men had to be returned by Dec. 23. The other was that the United States would not accept the facts contained in statements.

The offer the North Koreans finally accepted was one U.S. negotiators suggested as an alternative to a so-called "overwrite" proposal. Under the "over-white" plan General Woodward would simply have signed a receipt for delivery of the Pueblo crew on top of a "confession' of guilt by the United States, thus leaving unclear exactly what he was signing.

Officials gave the following rough chronology of the negotiations:

In the first meetings after the Pueblo was captured, the North Koreans formulated four demands—admission of espionage, acknowledgement that "confessions" of the crew broadcast by the North Korean radio were valid; an apology by the U.S. government but not necessarily President Johnson, and assurances against any further U.S. intrusion.

Throughout the 29 sessions at Panmunjom the U.S. side took the position that North Korea had not proved there was U.S. intrusion into Korean waters. The mission of the Pueblo as an intelligence ship was never denied.

However, the North Koreans were told that the United States would give an apology if in fact an investigation by an impartial body found that the Pueblo had penetrated inside the 12-mile limit.

These offers were made orally on Feb. 16 and Feb. 26 and again in March but were rejected.

On April 22, the U.S. proposed for the first time that it would sign a draft receipt for the men over conditional language written by the North. The Koreans refused this formula.

On May 8 the North Korean side came up with a statement that was essentially the same as the statement Woodward signed in Panmunjom Monday. This statement contained a paragraph providing for signing it only after all 82 men were actually free. From May to October, the North Koreans refused to give any promise to release the crew if the statement were signed.

The United States wanted clear assurances that if a statement were signed, the crew would be released simultaneously, officials said.

On Dec. 10, the United States broke the normal rotation sequence and asked for another meeting at Panmunjom, although it was the North Korean turn to call the meeting. The North Koreans then agreed to last Tuesday's meeting of three hours and 40 minutes. The dual proposal was put forward for a receipt for the men to be signed on a "confession" written by the North Koreans and secondly, the false confession which was repudiated in advance.

"We had no hint they would accept," said one high U.S. authority who could not be identified. "We thought they would accept our receipt proposal."

The North Koreans came back last Thursday, with a marathon four hour, 50 minute session. A great many details were discussed, including the number of newsmen to be present.

Finally, Saturday a short meeting served to notify the U.S. negotiators that the exchange would take place yesterday.

LEAVING CHURCH—Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower II walk out of Marble Collegiate Church in New York. They were married yesterday, and today were off to what what the new Mrs. Eisenhower called "secret, secret" place for their honeymoon. (AP Wirephoto)

Fairy Tale Wedding For Julie, David

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—"To have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death do us part, according to God's ordinance, and there to I pledge myself truly with all my heart."

With these sacred words Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower became man and wife yesterday afternoon in ceremonies with which millions of couples have pledged that "what therefore God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

SPECIAL PAIR

Julie, 20, is the lovely, dark-haired daughter of the next president of the United States, Richard M. Nixon. Tousle-haired David is the only grandson of the former president Dwight David Eisenhower. Their union is unique in U. S. history, for it is the matrimonial linking of a presidential family with that of a presidential-elect's family.

Julie and David grew up in the shadow of the White House, they were linked from childhood by the world of politics and they found each other as adults falling in love against the background of politics and a presidential campaign.

'SECRET, SECRET'

Today, the new Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David Eisenhower II honeymooned at a spot the bride said was "secret, secret" although she had packed warm weather clothing for it.

Now the glittering marriage in historic old Marble Collegiate Church with Dr. Norman Vincent Peale officiating and the swinging reception at the Plaza Hotel were for memories and the photo albums.

Some 500 guests attended the wedding yesterday afternoon to watch as the tiny, chestnut-haired bride in a long white silk peau d'ange dress with a Victorian old-fashionedness to its styling said "I do" to the lad whom she'd dated since freshman college days.

The setting in the high, domed auditorium of the 114-year-old Dutch Reformed Church combined Christmas—the altar was banked with poinsettias and evergreen wreaths decked the auditorium—with a white and pink motif traditional of a wedding. A white linen runner covered the 65 feet of aisle down which the bride walked. Her bridesmaids and maid of honor were all in palest pink.

Christmas set the mood for much of the wedding music too; the organist played a combination of old English wedding tunes, Christmas carols and bits of Broadway hit tunes.

Members of the President-elect's new cabinet and their wives; Vice-President Spiro Agnew and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, the Herbert Brownells, Clare Boothe Luce, the Norman Chandlers—all the notables who attended the 15-minute church service called it beautiful, "simply beautiful."

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple received a congratulatory telegram from the bridegroom's grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Both are in Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. He is recovering from a series of heart attacks and she from influenza. They watched the wedding by special closed circuit television.

"They're so happy," Julie said of the grandparents. David disclosed that his doting grandfather had given the couple a color television set for their Northampton, Mass., apartment where they will live when they resume college after the first of the year.

FEW EXCEPTIONS

No one cried—at least none would admit to a tear.

And the bridegroom did not kiss the bride when the marriage was sealed. Instead, Julie turned suddenly and kissed her father when it came to the moment in the ceremony for the bride to be given away.

Later, at the Plaza Hotel where the couple, their parents and attendants posed for photographers and answered reporters' questions, David bussed Julie soundly.

It was a kiss from a shy young man only after the newsmen had shouted "chicken" and after Julie had removed a short white glove to show off a white gold and diamond wedding band which went on third finger left hand. Her diamond engagement ring once had belonged to David's great grandmother, Mrs. John S. Doud, of Denver.

Fire In Well Extinguished Accidentally

GRANADA HILLS (UPI) — Firemen report additional and "more dangerous" complications have developed after a five-day old fire at a gas and oil well was accidentally extinguished yesterday, causing natural gas fumes to escape into the air instead of being consumed by the fire.

"That's just about the worst thing that could have happened," said a Los Angeles County Fire department spokesman. "The hazard of explosion has been added to our other troubles."

Firemen had attempted to cool the blaze with sprays of water in order to remove a collapsed derrick and other debris. Instead, the water completely doused the flames.

Asger (Boots) Hanson, in charge of the operation to cap the well, said: "It's just more dangerous. We've got to get it done now without throwing a single spark."

As Hanson worked on a ruptured valve near the well head, firemen monitered the concentration of gas vapor in the area, which was dissipated by a brisk freeze.

A spokesman said a 10-foot section of the well pipe must be replaced before a valve could be attached because the top of the pipe was badly damaged by flames. The pipe is embedded in concrete and the process of digging it out was expected to take several hours.

The fire, at the Getty Oil Co. field in Limekiln Canyon, began when the original valve ruptured and the derrick collapsed.

$5 Million Fire In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fire ripped through four plush stores in the city's shopping district last night causing what one fire official estimated at more than $5 million in damage—the greatest loss here since the 1906 San Francisco earthquake.

Heavily damaged by the wind-whipped flames was Gump's, an internationally known fine arts emporium which listed more than $1 million in Oriental art objects alone on the second of its three floors.

Also gutted was Schneider's—a fur establishment offering its wares for as much as $40,000 apiece—Auger's Jewelers and Malm's Luggage.

Abercrombie & Fitch, mentioned in a recent local newspaper society page story as a source of gifts "for the man who has everything," received extensive damage from torrents of water. The 180 firemen battling the inferno were hampered by both the wind, which at times exceeded 40 miles an hour, and by 40-degree temperatures. Two firemen were injured by flying glass.

Arthur H. Malm, owner of Malm Luggage, has a summer home at 276 Beach Road, Belvedere, and his son-in-law, Edward W. Detrick, manager of the Post Street store lives at 231 Poplar, Kentfield.

Investigators said the flames also virtually destroyed a half-block-long Gump's warehouse which company officials said housed a "fabulous antique collection."

A resident of an apartment house across an alley behind Gump's, Carol Cutler, 20, said: "I heard glass cracking and all of a sudden she burst into flames." Firemen said four explosions followed, but what touched it all off was undetermined.

Earlier, she reported, she and other occupants had heard alarm bells ringing in Gump's.

No one was reported in the buildings, however.

Arrest Follows Gun Brandishing

Arthur Allen Newton, 38, of 209 Mranda Drive, took the weapon from the trunk of his car and waved it around in the house, his wife, who signed the complaint, told sheriff's deputies.

Newton was held in lieu of $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Lumber Firm's Safe Rifled Of $430

Burglars took $430 from the Mill Valley Lumber Co. safe between 5:30 p.m. Saturday and 8:20 a.m. Sunday after breaking the safe open with the company's high power drills, police reported.

Police said the burglars apparently forced open the back door of the lumber company at 129 Miller Avenue, rolled the 12 cubic foot safe out into the lumber yard and proceeded to drill open the safe door. The drills were also taken, police said.

Hayakawa Hits Check Transfer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Acting president S. I. Hayakawa is angered by a $400 check paid to Rev. A. Cecil Williams for a lecture given Dec. 3 at the Ecumenical House opposite the troubled San Francisco State campus.

The Rev. Mr. Williams endorsed the check—paid from student body funds—and gave it to the Black Students Union chapter on campus.

The state attorney general's office, which began an investigation of student government finances earlier this month, is examining the transaction.

Hayakawa suggested the $400 is a high lecture fee although the Rev. Mr. Williams replied "I've gotten more than that."

The check was later found in the possession of Nesbit Crutchfield, 29, an outspoken BSU leader who has been arrested twice during the campus unrest.

"This destroys any claim to moral leadership Mr. Williams may have," Hayakawa said yesterday.

LBJ Asks Continued Economic Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, giving an advance peek at some suggestions he's likely to make in his final economic message, has called for continuing stringent efforts to control the balance of payments deficit.

The direction of Johnson's recommendations for 1969 which will go to Congress some time before he steps out Jan. 20, was indicated yesterday in an exchange of letters between the President and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler.

Johnson endorsed recommendations in a report prepared by Fowler as chairman of the Cabinet Commmittee on Balance of Payments on ways to further reduce the deficit.

The recommendations amounted to further doses of the medicine Johnson prescribed Jan. 1, 1967, to curb the impalance between spending by Americans and the U.S. government abroad over what this country receives from abroad.

But at least one of the recommendations—continued limits on capital and other investments U.S. firms can make abroad—could be headed for trouble if included in Johnson's final economic message.

Economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who will have to decide which measures to continue, have spoken against these limitations.

And some of Johnson's own advisers have, too.

Johnson said the recommendations on the balance of payments were being readied now "to facilitate an effective transition to the new administration and the orderly development of future policies in this important area."

Fowler's report gives top priority to "a stable economy and restoration of a healthy United States trade surplus."

It also includes such other principal timbers of the 1968 program as:

Extension of the volutary program under which U.S. banks have slashed their lending to foreigners.

Further efforts to cut military spending abroad.

Renewed efforts to lure more foreign travelers to the United States, the better to reduce the "travel deficit."

While the United States has been in a deficit position consistently for years—more money going out than coming in—the $3.6 billion deficit in 1967 was far heavier than usual and almost three ties the size of the 1965 and 1966 deficits.

Thieves Get $735 At Moose Lodge

Pry marks were found on two outside doors and an inside door. The lock had been broken off the cash box in the business office.

Marin Chamber Backs Hayakawa

Directors of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau have endorsed the attitude and policies of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa in meeting the troubles at San Francisco State College, Richard P. Nave, chamber president, reported.

Nave said the board believes "the irresponsibly disruptive actions of a small minority in any educational institution must not be allowed to dilute the scholastic aspirations and opportunities of the larger majority of students."

Nave said the board hopes Dr. Hayakawa's stand as acting president of the college will inspire administrators of similarly threatened institutions.

Theft Of Wire

Fred M. Coselli of Box 363, Valley Ford, Sonoma County, reported to Marin County sheriff's deputies Friday that someone entered his ranch, just south of the Sonoma County line, and stole 2,250 feet of copper power line, value undetermined.

College Readies Adult Courses

A schedule of 110 winter quarter adult classes ranging from income tax preparation to musical production are echeduled to start Jan. 6 at College of Marin, according to Eugene A. Farrar, director of community education.

Late registration must be completed at the college office, Room 2, Harlan Hall, or in the first class meeting if space is available. The winter quarter will continue through March 22.

He received it for his service as commander of Ramstein Air Base in Germany from October, 1966, until he came to Hamilton in July of this year.

Smoke From Box Blinds Driver

Smoke from a smoldering box of auto polish and body putty blinded a San Francisco driver at 1:25 p.m. Saturday and his car veered into the center divider on Highway 101, south of Entrada Drive, Ignacio, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The driver, Gilbert Perez, 25, of 708 Fell Street, driving north told officers the smoke filled the car and he couldn't see and couldn't breathe.

Auto Collision Injures Four

Four persons, including a Petaluma couple, were injured in a two-car collision on Davis Lane, four miles north of Penngrove, Sonoma County, at 10:15 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said a car driven by Joao Melo, 28, of 7840 Davis Lane, traveling south, crossed the center line on a curve and collided with a car driven by Otto Applegate, 25, of 2017 Seventh Street, Apt. 2, Petaluma.

Santa rode through Tamalpais and Homestead valleys Saturday on a pumper distributing candy canes and previously had visited kindergarten classes at schools in the district. On his travels he gave out 1,650 candy canes. Santa's visit was sponsored by the firemen.

Muskie Rules Out Whip Post

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, says he isn't interested in becoming majority whip of the Senate. "There are too many other things I have in mind to do," he told newsmen yesterday.

Muskie spoke later to the Jewish National Fund Hanukkah banquet.

Asked if he expects any changes in Senate leadership, Muskie replied, "On the Democratic side I expect none."

He said his limited staff and responsibilities in representing Maine, working with committees and in travel prevent his holding the whip position.

Agreement Reached In Kaiser Contract

OAKLAND (AP)—Agreement on terms of a new contract between Local 250 of the striking Hospital and Institutional Workers Union and Kaiser-Permanente Medical Program was announced today.

The tentative settlement followed 30 hours of weekend negotiations and was approved by the union's negotiating committee, but was subject to ratification by 3,400 local 250 members at 11 Kaiser hospitals, including one in San Rafael, and 15 Permanente clinics in Northern California.

Bay area members were summoned to a special mass meeting late this afternoon at San Francisco Civic auditorium.

A separate ratification meeting was scheduled in Sacramento.

Details of the agreement will not be announced until after the union meetings, said Richard Groulx, executive secretary of the Alameda Central Labor Council.

Joining Groulx in announcing approval of the agreement were Jack Crowley, assistant secretary of the San Francisco Central Labor Council, Emerson Street, business representative of the Santa Clara County CLC, and Art Carter, executive secretary of the Countra Costa County CLC.

The hospital union had been seeking a 50-cent hourly wage hike.

Artist Garners Two Prizes In Contest

Lori Eliott of Mill Valley has won both prizes offered in a poster contest sponsored by Co-op Marin of Corte Madera for students of a College of Marin commercial art class.

Her entry was judged most popular with the Co-op Marin membership, and best in contest.

Biafran Supply Airlift Halted

GENEVA (AP) — A Red Cross airlift to famine-threatened Biafra has been stopped on orders from Equatorial Guinea, the International Red Cross Committee announced today.

The announcement said no explanation was given for the order, which halts supplies for some 850,000 people, most of them children.

The last supply flights left the Guinean island of Fernando Poo during the night of Dec. 20, the announcement said. The nine flights then carried about 90 tons of food to Biafra.

Today is Monday, Dec. 23, the 358th day of 1968 with eight to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1928 a permanent coast-to-coast radio network was established by NBC.

In 1948 ex-Premier Tojo of Japan and six other war leaders were hanged in Tokyo on orders of the Allied War Crimes Commission.

In 1953 former Russian secret police chief, Lavrenti Beria, was executed.

A thought for the day: A Christmas thought from the Gospel of Matthew: "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Teen-Ager's Play Shows Why He's A Life Master At 15

Joe Livezey, 15-year-old high school boy, became the youngest Life Master on record a few weeks ago during the national bridge tournament in Coronado. Today's hand shows a fine play that helped him win the Charity Paris from a field of 662 pairs of experts on the opening night of the 11-day tournament.

DIAMOND LEAD

West opened the four of diamonds, and East captured the king with the ace. East returned a diamond to force out dummy's queen, and now Livezey had no side entry to dummy's long clubs.

Undaunted, Livezey entered his hand with the king of hearts and led the low club to try a finesse with dummy's jack. A great master would have refused this trick, but East didn't happen to be great enough.

East took the queen of clubs and led a low spade. Livezey played low, and the defenders could take two spades. The young expert could then win any return and overtake the king of clubs with dummy's ace to take the rest of the tricks.

BETTER PLAY

Young Livezey's play of the clubs is worth remembering if your opponents are not great masters. Any play works if the queen of clubs is singleton, but the problem is to cope with Q-x or Q-x-x in the West hand or in the East hand.

The normal play of cashing the king of clubs and then leading a low club for a finesse will work in two of the four cases just named: when West has Q-x or Q-x-x of clubs. It will lose if East has Q-x or Q-x-x.

THREE CHANCES

The high school boy's play works if West has Q-x or if East has Q-x or Q-x-x. That is, his play works in three of the four cases instead of only two.

If East is skillful enough to refuse the trick when he has Q-x-x of clubs, however, the normal play of the clubs is mathematically superior to Livezey's play. It's not enough to play your cards; you must also play your opponents.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ Q 10 4
♥ Q J 2
♦ J 8 7 4 2
♣ 7 5.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond.

Since you have six points in high cards, the hand is worth a response to partner's opening bid. Show your long suit, such as it is, rather than bid no-trump.

Since apples need oxygen and breathe out carbon dioxide, the rate of respiration can be slowed down by reducing oxygen and temperature in airtight storage rooms. Such hibernating apples keep their just-picked freshness up to a year.

Attorneys For Sirhan Ask Evidence

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A court hearing for Sirhan B. Sirhan was called today on a motion by his attorneys to obtain all information in the hands of the prosecution which would be useful in his defense on charges of the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The trial is scheduled to begin Jan. 7 and today's preliminary hearing was expected to be brief.

Defense attorney Grant Cooper said he would ask Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker to order the district attorney's office to make available all evidence and information they have gathered. Most such information already has been turned over by the prosecution and the hearing was largely a formal legal precaution.

One of the things the defense is seeking is the result of a blood test given Sirhan shortly after Kennedy was shot in the early morning of June 5.

Family Is Terrorized In $30,000 Gem Haul

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three young gunmen invaded a posh Presidio Heights mansion last night, terrorized its residents and escaped with more than $30,000 in jewelry and cash.

The robbers, all wearing bandanna masks and armed with pistols, broke into the home of Edmund B. MacDonald, 53, wealthy construction engineer and real estate man, about 11 p.m.

They forced his wife, Virginia, 45, and daughter, Sidney, 20, to lie face down on the floor. The gunmen beat the women with their pistols and fired two shots near them when they thought the women were too slow to obey their commands.

MacDonald opened his wall safe in another room after one of the gunmen fired a shot at his feet to hurry him. When the robbers found only a few hundred dollars inside, two of them began walking up and down on the women's backs.

Mrs. MacDonald then told them here hewr gems were kept in an upstairs room. Most of the loot was in jewels.

The southern bald eagle differs from other migrants in that it nests during the winter.

While ransacking the bedroom, the gunmen found Mrs. A.R. Vanderver, 80, Mrs. MacDonald's mother, in her bed. They ordered the elderly woman to take off her bracelet and, when she was slow in obeying, one man singed her hair with a cigarette lighter.

MacDonald told police the thieves then fled in a black sedan, apparently with a fourth man who acted as lookout. The gunmen, described as tall, slender men in their 20s, apparently scaled a high brick wall around the mansion and entered through French doors in the basement.

Marijuana Count Probation Set

Ann S. Weiner, 45, of 4 Avenida Olema, Stinson Beach, was placed on a year of probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for being in a place where marijuana was kept April 2.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. also ordered her to follow a program of therapy to be recommended by her probation officer.

Mrs. Weiner was taken to Marin County jail on a civil case warrant. A matron searching her purse at the booking desk discovered marijuana.

She was originally charged with a felony, possession of the weed, but the charge was reduced by the district attorney.

Teen-Agers Flood High School Gym

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Teen-aged vandals turned on an emergency fire hose at Lincoln High School gymnasium during the weekend, causing damage to the gym floor and to classrooms beneath.

Police discovered a deluge of water pouring into the classrooms yesterday after a neighbor spotted the flood through a window. Firemen sloshed out water and mopped floors for three hours.

Officials at the Sunset District school said the gym was extensively damaged, but gave no cost estimates. The water drained through electrical fixtures and buckled ceiling tiles on the ground floor. Warping could ruin the gym's hardwood floor, officials said.

Youngsters in the neighborhood told police two teen-aged boys were in the gym Saturday playing with a small fire extinguisher. The water came from an emergency hose pulled from an unlocked case and left running on the floor.

Theater Hit By $50,000 Blaze

OAKLAND (AP) —Several firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting a blaze which gutted the upper portion of the Fruitvale Theater and caused $50,000 damage today.

Fire officials said firemen were endangered briefly when a false ceiling collapsed, but none was injured.

Investigators said the blaze apparently started when a lighted cigarette ignited an upholstered seat.

San Mateo Panel For Staggering Terms

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—The San Mateo County Grand Jury called today for enactment of legislation to stagger terms of grand juries throughout the state.

The grand jury said passage of a law authorizing continuity between successive grand juries "would unquestionably contribute greatly to the efficiency of grand juries in the performance of their functions."

Under present law, new grand juries must be selected annually. Members may serve only one year.

The San Mateo grand jury urged its county legislators to introduce a bill that would provide for selection on a split-year basis with nine jurors impaneled each January and 10 impaneled each July.

The grand jury also urged passage of county or state legislation to provide for appointment rather than election of county superintends of schools.

Novato Driver Hurt In Crash

Pablo R. Real, 36, of 1458 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, was reported in poor condition in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital after his car plunged 250 feet off Highway 101 south of Sausalito early today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Real had head injuries and broken ribs, the hospital said. The highway patrol said Real was driving north near the Sausalito Lateral when his car hit a guard rail, bounced over it and tumbled down the embankment.

The first beaver hat factory in America was established by Zadoc Benedict in Danbury, Conn., in 1780.

Churches Will Herald Anew Birth Of The Infant Christ

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem . . ."

These words from the Gospel according to St. Matthew will ring anew tomorrow night and Wednesday as churches throughout Marin and Southern Sonoma hail the birth of Christ in Christmas services.

To mark the most joyous occasion in the Protestant and Catholic world, the churches will be decorated in their most colorful trimmings for services of hymns and praise to the Christ Child.

Following is a list of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services:

Two Arraigned On Holdup Count

Mac Henry Page, 20, and Terry A. Thompson, 18, both of Marin City, were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Friday on charges of armed robbery stemming from the theft of $50 yesterday from the Short Stop Market in San Rafael.

Each was held in lieu $2,000 bail and told to return to court this afternoon for plea.

Page was free on his own recognizance at the time of the robbery. Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. had freed him without bail on a charge stemming from the theft of groceries from a car in Mill Valley Dec. 11. The judge refused his request for release without bail on the new charge.

Sierra Club Will Push For Larger Redwood Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the Sierra Club says the conservation group will press for enlargement of Grand Canyon National Park and the new Redwood National Park.

Club president Dr. Edgar Wayburn of San Francisco says another major goal will be more protection for the vast resources of Alaska, home state of President-elect Nixon's secretary of interior-designate, Gov. Walter Hickel.

Wayburn, a San Francisco physician, said in an interview yesterday the club has not yet taken a position for or against Hickel's confirmation by the U. S. Senate.

He said, however, "many of our members have expressed apprehension" about Hickel because of his record as an Alaska construction executive and developer, and his views on conservation.

Wayburn noted that Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan had named Norman B. Livermore, a timber company executive, as his California state resources secretary. He said Livermore has been "a dedicated public servant. If Gov. Hickel does as well, I'll be happy."

Wayburn said Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona should be enlarged to prevent any further attempts to dam the Colorado River in sections of the canyon. And he said the new Redwood National Park in California, dedicated in November, must be extended to include other groves of virgin redwoods.

Oh Hickel's home state, Wayburn said "there has been too much of a tendency to try to develop the resources of Alaska in the same way" they have been in some other states such as California.

The delicate ecology of Alaska "needs protection because it is so defenseless itself," he said.

The 70,000-member club also will continue its battle to regain its tax-exempt status, cancelled by the Internal Revenue Service after the club conducted a vigorous campaign against construction of dams in the Grand Canyon area and for establishment of the redwood park.

Wayburn said the IRS action is like "a very effective noose put around our necks" by discouraging contributions to the club since they no longer are tax deductible.

Creation of new wilderness areas to complete the nation's wilderness system is another of the club's priority projects, Wayburn said.

Senior Council Gets State Funds

The Marin Senior Coordinating Council has received a $22,154 grant from the California Commission on Aging, Charles W. Skoien Jr., commission executive director, announced today.

The grant, for use next year, is to help continue the council's Senior Californian multi-service program. Application was made by council president Walter F. Freitas and vice president Ann H. McCorry.

Marin activities include the formation of clubs in Terra Linda, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Venetia Oaks, Santa Venetia, Marin City and Mill Valley, four separate courses in retirement planning, and planning for a county activities center adjacent to the Civic Center.

Would-Be TV Buyer Accused

James Warren Tamburini, 21, of 242 Solano Street, San Rafael, has been arrested for investigation of forgery and attempting to buy a television set and a radio on a stolen credit card, San Rafael police reported Saturday.

Tamburini, arrested Thursday, was released without bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. Friday.

Officers said he allegedly attempted to purchase the set and radio, total value of $134, at Butler's Magnavox in the Northgate Shopping Center with a credit card owned by Charles S. Harrod. The card had been reported stolen. Tamburini was later arrested at his home.

JOHN BAKER Willcutt presents his daughter, Maudee (Tres) Willcutt, who bows on the pedestal at the entrance to the Mural Room in the St. Francis Hotel. The presentation of the debutantes began at 10:30 p.m. following the dinner also served in the Mural Room.

Marin Debs Presented

The downtown atmosphere of the St. Francis Hotel Mural Room gave the seventh Marin Debutante Ball a different flavor as the 20 debutantes of 1968 were presented there Saturday evening.

Shortly after guests and family members finished their dinner at 10:30 p.m. the flood lights focused on the dais inside the entrance and the first girl made her bow. Escorted by her father to the Mural Room stage, she was introduced and curtsied again, before a 20 foot backdrop of Christmas fir boughs set with tiny white lights and gold tinsel blossoms.

AFTER THE debs' curtsies the orchestra broke into three-quarter time and the traditional waltz of the debutantes and their fathers began.

Then as climax to the ceremonies the escorts arrived and crossed batons to form an arch for the girls to pass under. The formal figures finished with the grand march, each debutante flanked by her two escorts marching forward and toward each side to the applause of the spectators seated at dinner tables.

The dancing began to the lively strains of "Hello Dolly" and "Mame," the debs and escorts forming black and white patterns across the dance floor, and the ball was on . . .

IT WAS VERY much 1968, with some of the escorts sporting peace symbols with their tails, long locks, trimmed beards and mustaches. One danced to the rock beat with his white glove forming the V peace symbol on the top of his black baton, while some of the parent generation swung to the "now" music along side.

Mrs. Wallace Scott of Belvedere headed the Marin Charitable Foundation which sponsors the ball, and Mrs. Leon Smith of Tiburon was ball chairman, assisted by Mmes. Gregory Solon and Alan McLenegan of Kentfield. Judge Jordan Martinelli of San Rafael presented the debutantes.

The girls presented were:

Lori Barsocchini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Kentfield, escorted by Gregory Albert Pflueger and Thomas Saylor Ferguson.

Robin Lee Clute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Clute of Belvedere, escorted by John Sweet and Alan McLenegan Jr.

Kathleen English, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. English of Kentfield, escorted by Jesse Taylor and James Leo English.

Nancy Lee Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans of Mill Valley, escorted by Robert David Nelson and Michael James Locati.

Carlyn Sue Farrell, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Carl Farrell of Ross, escorted by David Detrick and James D. Richards.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Self-Sacrifice Not Necessary For Mother Of Modern Family

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 28 and feel 98. I could sleep for a year, given a chance. Fat chance!

I have a husband and two girls, one eight, the other five months. We live in a huge old country farm house, a terror to clean. I'm up at 5 a.m. to get Jim off to work. From then on, it's work, work, work until I fall into bed. And Jim is insulated if I go to bed without him so that isn't until 11 p.m. Of course he has been on the couch ever since supper, sleeping, eating the food I am asked to bring him, and watching television. I get the thrill of massaging his back and legs in my "spare" moments (when our baby isn't fussing from her allergies).

I have no neighbors close by, and no car, so I get out of the house once a week — on Saturday, when I go to town for shopping. Jim gives me a list of things he needs too, such as tires for the truck, tools, etc. Then he goes off fishing or hunting while I must juggle two lively children and innumerable lists.

But I'm not being completely fair. About once a month my husband takes me out to a place where we can dance. Then he calls me a drag because I nod over my drink.

Maybe I could manage if it wasn't for the continual waiting-on he requires. I'm his secretary, flunky, maid. I must even make his telephone calls, bring his clothes when he takes a bath, and just about the time I finally sit down, he wants popcorn or hot chocolate. He has never changed a diaper in his life, nor baby sat the kids. If I'm out hanging clothes and he is right next to the playpen, he'll yell, "Hey, the baby's crying."

Am I wrong in thinking this is a helluva way to live, knowing that on Tuesday, six weeks from now I'll be doing the same tiresome things I've done every Tuesday for eight years? — TIRED FARM WIFE

DEAR TIRED:

She who makes herself a slave is treated as a slave. Leave off the noble self-sacrifice and stop being everybody's little waitress. Remember the California housewife who went on strike for shorter hours, better working conditions and a higher rate of appreciation? She picketed her own home for a week, and along with national publicity, she got a more helpful husband. So —

Figure out a schedule that gives you time for rest and relaxation (not difficult if you cut out unnecessary running, baby care and self-pity). Then tape it to the refrigerator, and get on your picketing boots.

Good luck! — H.

Jack Jacobs Claims Marta Flax As Bride

The bride is the daughter of Jerome S. Flax of Ross and Mrs. Raymond G. Bacon of Berkeley. Mr. and Mrs. Milford N. Jacobs of San Antonio, Tex. are the bridegroom's parents.

MRS. JACK JACOBS

Lucia Bosqui of Westport, Conn. was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Burridge of Winthrop, Mass. and the bridegroom's sister, Ronni Jacobs of San Antonio.

Gary Jacobs of El Paso, Tex. was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Stephen Flax of Ross; A. Fletcher Clark and Steven Davis of San Antonio; and John Kitchen of Indianapolis, Ind.

A reception at the Cottonwood Inn in Millbrook, N. Y. followed the ceremony.

Marta was graduated from Katharine Branson School and will be graduated in June from Vassar College. Paul, Mark and Kenneth Flax are also her brothers, and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. Samuel Goodman of San Francisco and Mrs. Dana L. Raynolds of Richmond.

Jack is a graduate of Jefferson High School in San Antonio and is in his senior year at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico City the couple will live in Pownal, Vt.

Poinsettias Can Be Cascaded For Impressive Holiday Display

"The beautiful is as useful as the useful," said the poet Victor Hugo. Possibly the great Frenchman had in mind the glorious beauty of flowers on Christmas day.

Consider, for example, the usefulness of that brilliant living Christmas flower, the poinsettia. Massed in a magnificent red and white flower fall, poinsettias will bring warmth, drama and elegance to your home on Christmas and for many weeks to come.

Who can evaluate the sight of these blossoms in any terms other than a joyous — and useful — upsurge of the spirit?

In recent years, poinsettias have become the focal point of an astounding horticultural happening. Not long ago the plant's freshness was extremely short-lived. But patient research and breeding have now produced plants that may remain attractive from Christmas until Valentine's Day.

For sheer drama this Christmas, the Society of American Florists suggests a grouping of several poinsettia plants in the form of a flower fall. A bit of simple engineering is required, but the effect makes the effort well worthwhile.

First, select and clear completely a small corner table in your living room. Next, arrange a staggered, pyramid-type foundation for your plants. Ordinary cardboard shoeboxes will do. For beauty's sake, cover each box with dark green foil, for inevitably, a few corners will show through.

POINSETTIAS massed in a fall will bring drama, warmth and elegance to the home for the holiday season.

Now arrange six or seven of the colorful Christmas plants in a splendid cascade. A combination of red and white is especially impressive. For maximum beauty, create two joined and flowing masses of color rather than a spotty sprinkling of red and white.

Don't be afraid, incidentally, to take artistic license in creating the line of a real flower fall. For a finished look, it will be necessary to tip the bottom plant completely on its side. In this position the velvety bracts of the beautiful plant will be on full display.

The poinsettia's luxuriant production of bracts usually means that the plant needs generous watering. If its soil is light, water often; with heavy soil, be more sparing. In any case, it is safe to follow the general rule: water whenever top soil feels dry.

If the pot is wrapped in foil, by all means poke a hole in the bottom to allow excess water drainage. If you fail to do this, the roots will quickly drown.

After Christmas you will find that the long-lived poinsettia adapts itself beautifully to average home temperatures: sixty-five to seventy-five degrees by day, and slightly cooler temperatures at night. Do not place your plants near windows if this means drafts and chilling.

Macaroni Gifts

Children enjoy making gifts by decorating old vases, bottles, or boxes with macaroni bought in various shapes, such as twists or shells. Glue, spray with paint and sprinkle with glitter.

How About A Duck Press?

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Those people who dream up gifts for the people who have everything else are busier than Santa and his elves this year.

CONSIDER SOME of the luxuries for her: 32 ounces of perfume in a cut glass bottle for $1,000; an aquarium filled with cultured pearls instead of sand for $25,000 and up, depending on the millimeter of pearls selected, and a gift-of-the-month of precious jewelry ranging from an emerald and diamond necklace for Dec. 25 on through to sapphire and diamond earrings for next November, the works for the 12 months priced at $273,950.

Then there are such items as these for him: hand tooled leather backgammon set at $1,000; a 12-month desk diary in calf with natural history photos interleaved at $125, the proceeds to go to the Conservation Society of South Africa; a plane that "slips into ponds, coverts, rough airstrips for sportsmen" at $29,950, and a Russian sable coat for $15,000.

FOR THE HOUSE that has everything else, there is a duck press for $235; a family sauna for $2,795, and a his and hers practice ski "slope" for the bedroom, with slope done in white beaver to order at $11,000.

The aquarium and the jewelry-of-the-month gifts are offered by Neiman-Marcus in Dallas. The plane and the one-of-a-kind backgammon set are from Abercrombie & Fitch in New York.

Jacques Kaplan, the New York furrier, made the beaver ski slope. He says it's designed to go atop an electrically operated practice apparatus in the house. Measuring 8x20 feet, it's supposed to be slick as snow. He sold one to a customer in Greenwich, Conn., and another in Chicago, he said.

And for those weary of the dog-cat-bird pet category of giving, how about a live armadillo for $96?

THESE ITEMS are not far-out "fun" reading at Christmas, but are products actually being sold. I know a girl who bought an armadillo for herself and now has full registration papers in her apartment from the U.S. Armadillo Breeders Association, plus membership card and bumper sticker.

She bought it through Nieman's and has been advised her armadillo is tagged and feeding on a Texas ranch along with several hundred others. She has unrestricted visiting privileges until (and if) she decides to move the creature to New York.

Peruse the newspaper advertisements, the stores and the catalogs from such stores as those already mentioned, plus Cartiers, Hammacher Schlemmer, and Sears, to name a few other sources, and you find a plenitude of the unusual.

FOR HIM OR HER, you can buy 100 sheets of notepaper and envelopes for $1,904. These are handmade in Finland and the portrait of the owner is done in shadowmark, a form of watermark.

A computerized horoscope for the year costs $20; the family can have a runabout half-scale model of a Model-T Ford for $500; for him, one mail order chain offers roll-your-own cigarette machines in the $12 and $15 price range. He can also buy a chunk of wood to carve his own pipe for $5.

FOR HIM, there's a miniature "security" blanket for only $5, but if he wants to cover the bed in cashmere, that blanket costs $190.

There are his and her jaguars —his a car for $5,595, hers a coat at $5,975.

AND FOR HER, I found also pastel colored putters with matching booties, $20 the pair, and a home "Telequote" for receiving stocks reports, $295. Bejewelled eggs run $120 each.

And if you're in a Charles Adamish mood, there is the aircraft survival kit with flares, signals, waterproof match box, compass, whistle, a cut-anything saw, food, water, survival tool and first aid kit, for $115.

Anne Bryan Is Bride Of Art Pearson

The bride, who is a former Marin debutante, is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur F. Edwards of San Anselmo and George William Bryan of San Francisco.

A reception at the Bohemian Club followed the ceremony.

Anne was graduated from Anna Head School in Oakland and the University of Southern California. Mrs. William Borland of Oakland is her grandmother.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vernon Pearson of Glendale. He was graduated from Pasadena High School and is a student at California State College at Los Angeles.

The couple will live in Sierra Madre following a wedding trip skiing in the Lake Tahoe area.

After The March The Ball Was On—

FORMALITIES OVER, the debs and escorts zipped into the frantic rock tempo as the dance floor became crowded. Madge Tufts and her escort, Robert Crowell swung into the beat near the Mural Room stage.

WHEN THEIR committee duties ended the Gerald Stratfords of Belvedere joined the young set on the dance floor where the beat was strictly rock. Ursula Stratford was chairman of debutantes and her husband presented deb Juliet Messimer.

MUSIC REVIEW

Despite Flu Absenses Singers Were Pleasing

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Winifred Baker's Marin Adult Chorale, combined with the San Francisco Civic Chorale she directs and her children's chorus, managed to present some pleasing results in a Christmas concert last night in Angelico Hall, a commendable achievement in view of the absence of musicians because of flu.

The 180-voice chorus was down to about 120, many substitutions had to be made in featured parts on the children's chorus, and Sister Mary Francesco O. P. practically had to do a sight reading job — a very successful one — or organ accompaniment in the absence of noted organist Ludwig Altman.

So many problems, such as destruction of balance, are caused by absence of many in large performing groups, that perhaps critiques should be discontinued until the epidemic is over.

Least affected was the big combined chorus, since there were enough voices to create some good sonority in the excerpts from Handel's the "Messiah" Christmas music. John Saveant was a good narrator, and thee was one really professional level voice among the four soloists, that of soprano Jean Murphy, whose strong, agile voice was well suited to the florid style of her aria.

Glenn Brizee had a powerful, resonant bass, which with more control, should become a fine vocal instrument. Elizabeth Heffernan's light, lyric soprano was clear and of musical quality, and alto Margaret Sanderson was better in her aria in this work than in the opening works by American composers sung by the ali-city chorus of the San Francisco Civic Chorale.

An impressive climax to the "Messiah" excerpts was the singing by all choruses and audience of the mighty "Allelujah" chorus.

Outstanding throughout the program was the piano accompaniment by Fae McNally, which, though not obtrusive, was so good that it was a major plus of the concert.

Favorite of the evening with the audience was the children's chorus of some 65 voices. They gave evidence of some excellent training and had such a high degree of self-reliance that Miss Baker was able to step aside and let four of the older children beat time.

After the children sang some traditional Christmas songs and rounds, the audience was invited to join in the singing of four of the old-time carols, concluding with "Silent Night."

These and the "Messiah" Christmas music were the only part of the program in which very familiar Christmas music was heard.

In the first part of the concert, presented by the all-city chorus of the San Francisco Civic Chorale and some of its component parts, such as the Inner Richmond Neighborhood Chorus directed by Nathaniel Lee and the Sunset Neighborhood Chorus directed by Gene Stewart, there was some less familiar but beautiful music, but performance was at times near disaster level, partly because of the havoc wrought by absence of musicians.

However it also seemed clear that these smaller, weaker sections needed the help of the surer and better trained voices in the big chorus to bring them up to par.

Since the program was long, we believe it would have been better to eliminate the separate performances by these smaller sections.

Kirk Douglas' Son Married

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Joel Douglas, son of actor Kirk Douglas, and Susan Jorgenson of Great Falls were married last night in a small wedding attended by close friends.

The groom's mother, Mrs. William Darrid of Westport, Conn., attended, but his father was absent.

Following a honeymoon skiing trip to Canada the younger Douglas will return to studies at the University of Montana where he is a drama major.

Supervisors Get One Week Off

Marin County Board of Supervisors will not meet tomorrow because it is Christmas Eve.

Next meeting of the supervisors will be at 9 a.m. Dec. 31 at the Civic Center.

The Civic Center and county courthouse in San Rafael will be closed on Christmas Day.

Grandfather's Writings Explored

"Ephraim Adams' Sketch Book" is a collection of observations written when the author was teaching at the Petersburg Classical Academy in Petersburg, Va.

The senior Adams was then 21 and had just graduated from Dartmouth College, where he belonged to an antislavery society.

In his writings he describes vividly slavery in Virginia and writes with abhorrence of the system.

Health Planning Unit Gets Federal Grant

A $211,000 U.S. Public Health Service grant has been received by the Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council, whose jurisdiction includes Marin County, Chairman John B. Molinari announced today.

Molinari, a State Court of Appeals judge in San Francisco, said the grant will finance the shaping of the health plan to cover an eight-county area. Other counties involved are Sonoma, Solano, Napa, Alameda, San Mateo, San Francisco, and Santa Clara.

Search Going For 41 Aboard Capsized Boat

Thirty-eight others were rescued or swam to safety on Cannoun's rocky coast.

Survivors said the Federal Queen turned over suddenly and sank about two minutes later about 30 miles south of Kingston. She was en route to St. Vincent from the Grenadines, an archipelago of the Windward Islands in the British West Indies off the northeast coast of South America.

Ralph Alves of Kingstown said the hull and sails of the capsized schooner covered people "like a teacup turned upside down."

Suffers Lip Cut

Agnes Hulshof, 68, of 146 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, suffered a cut lip when her car struck a light pole at the Red Hill Shopping Center, San Anselmo, at 1:45 p.m. yesterday, police reported. She was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Several New Faces Due In Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's appointment of a new lieutenant governor will be the first in a series of moves to bring fresh faces into his administration.

In coming weeks, the Republican governor will make five major appointments, in addition to selecting a successor to Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch who is leaving to become secretary of health, education and welfare in the Nixon administration.

They are:

Director of the new Human Resources Development Department, a $25,000-a-year job with broad powers over training the unemployed and finding them jobs.

Two seats on the powerful Public Utilities Commission, which regulates all utilities in the state. Administration critic William Bennett is sure to be dropped from the body, and Commissioner Peter Mitchell's term also expires.

A replacement for Fish and Game Director Walter Shannon, who is retiring.

A new University of California regent to take the place of H. R. Haldeman of Los Angeles, who is joining the Nixon administration.

The top job to be filled is the lieutenant governorship.

Aides said Reagan may not announce his choice to replace Finch until after the end of the year, and they maintained he still hasn't made up his mind.

Among the top candidates at present are Gordon Luce, the state transportation administrator; Sen. George Deukmejian, R-Long Beach; and Caspar Weinberger, state director of finance.

Luce says he is interested in the job and so does Deukmejian. Weinberger declines to comment.

Reagan, beginning the second half of his first term, is under pressure from party officials to name a lieutenant governor who would be an attractive statewide candidate in 1970.

Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, chairman of the lower house Republican caucus, said the lieutentant governor must be strong enough to help the governor win re-election in 1970 if Reagan decides to run.

"He will have to run on the last two years of his term," Mulford said. "We need a strong lieutenant governor.

"Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, soon to be the new Assembly speaker, agreed Reagan should pick someone "who will help the ticket in 1970."

Monagan would like the job, but Reagan has appeared reluctant to pull anyone out of the Assembly, now barely in the hands of the GOP at 41-39.

Alaskans may register to vote at the age of 19.

Tractor Runs Over, Kills Napa Worker

Tiburon sheriff's deputies said Martin Allen McDonald, an employee of the McDonald Construction Co., a family firm, was backing the tractor off a flat bed trailer at 8:15 a.m. when it started to tip. McDonald tried to jump clear, deputies said, but the tractor ran over him, killing him instantly.

The driverless tractor then continued to run about the construction site 200 feet east of Harbor Oak Drive below the Red Hill mesa, hitting an earth bank and rolling across the road before it was stopped by Richard Allen McDonald, 19, the victim's younger brother.

McDonald was married, with one child. His wife is expecting another in the spring.

He is also survived by his mother and father, six brothers and three sisters.

Planning Chairman Upset By Parking Policy Bypass

Chairman Hugh Dougherty of the Marin County Planning Commission scolded staff members today for going to the board of supervisors with an emergency parking ordinance without notifying the commission.

The supervisors last Tuesday approved an emergency ordinance with tightens parking requirements at residences.

"I'm distressed," said Dougherty, "because I thought the staff would let us know when they planned to do this sort of thing."

Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the changes in parking requirements at residences discussed before the planning commission. He said he thought he had sent a copy of a letter to each commissioner, indicating that he was taking the parking matter to the supervisors. "I apologize if I didn't," said Zucker.

Zucker and Werner have suggested that parking space requirements for such institutions as churches, hospitals and theaters as well as stores and offices be increased.

Zucker said that space requirements cannont be pinned down for each specific use and should be left somewhat flexible. For example, he said churches and theaters in a shopping area should be required to have less spaces because the hours of operation differ from commercial use, and the same space can be used by both.

The interim ordinance on residences, passed by the supervisors last Tuesday, requires one space per studio apartment up to 575 square feet of floor space; 1.5 per studio over 575 square feet of one and two bedrooms, and two spaces for three or more bedrooms.

This morning, the planning staff suggested a modification to: one space per studio unit; 1.2 per one-bedroom unit; 1.5 per two-bedroom unit, and two spaces for three and more bedrooms.

The commission decided to continue discussions on the new requirements to later in the day because they were running behind schedule.

Judge Roth To Preside

Judge Hadden W. Roth will be presiding judge of Marin Municipal Court for 1969. He replaces Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr.

From next month through April, Judge Roth will call the criminal and probation calendars, Judge Peter Allen Smith will hear the traffic calendar, and Judge Goldstein will call the law and motion calendar.

The judges also may be assigned as extra session magistrates in Marin Superior Court.

Beach Conditions Will Be Discussed

Beach conditions uill be discussed again by Bolinas Community Inc. at 8 p.m., Friday at the Community Center on Main Street.

Plans for a new $30,000 fire station on Mesa Road, approved by the Bolinas Fire Protection District board Tuesday, also will be discussed.

Hayakawa Due Candlelight Strike March

Marinites who support striking San Francisco State College students plan a silent candlelight Christmas Eve march to the Mill Valley home of Dr. S. I. Hayakawa.

The march, sponsored by the S.F. State Support Committee of Marin, will leave city hall at 4:30 p.m. and proceed to the home of the acting president at 224 Eldridge Avenue, according to a spokesman for the group.

The marchers will carry placards supporting the demands of the striking students and faculty and asking amnesty for those arrested or suspended for participation in strike activities, according to Mrs. Terry Alt of Mill Valley, chairman of the education committee of the group.

Mrs. Alt said that the group was formed a week ago and includes students, parents, teachers and other citizens. Its objectives are to educate Marin citizens on the issues of the strike, raise bail for persons arrested and support the strike by such actions as the march, Mrs. Alt said.

The committee also plans a rally at 8 p.m. Friday in city hall. Representatives of striking student and faculty groups are expected to speak.

ARMADILLO JOINS NEWLYWEDS

Two Airmen From Base Hurt Critically In Wreck

Two Hamilton Air Force Base airmen were critically injured when their car smashed into a flatbed truck shortly before dawn yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Sgt. Terry D. Reynolds, 24, was at Letterman General Hospital with face fractures. Airman Jose Tamayo, 20, was at Letterman with a possible concussion and face cuts.

Condition of the two men was not available this morning.

The highway patrol said the car veered off Highway 101 in Terra Linda at 5:40 a.m. and hit a truck parked 10 feet off the road. The car sandwiched itself under the truck, the flatbed knifing through the windshield to injure both men.

The car was Reynolds', the CHP said, but it was not known which man was driving because the pair was taken to Marin General Hospital by an unidentified motorist before patrolmen reached the scene.

The two were later transferred to Letterman. The patrol asked the unknown motorist to call the highway patrol office in Corte Madera to help piece together details of the accident.

Drunken Driving Probation Given

Three persons were placed on probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for drunken driving offenses.

Jean Carol Greenberg, 35, of Stinson Beach, was placed on three years probation for driving while drunk last Feb. 18 on Highway 101.

Shirley A. Silverman, 36, of 3 Clover Hill Court, San Rafael, was placed on two years probation for drunken driving April 29 on Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Jesse Taylor, 68, of 10 Gilbert Street, San Rafael, was fined $250, with fine suspended, and placed on six months probation for the same offense Feb. 14 on Gilbert Street.

Statue Stolen

A statue of St. Francis, weighing 90 pounds and valued at $40, was stolen from the yard of Fredrick Schweizer, 14 Devonshire Drive, west of Novato, between 6:30 p.m. Thursday and 4 p.m. Friday, sheriff's deputies reported.

Drake Students Veto Revision

A proposal to amend the Sir Francis Drake High School student body constitution was defeated by a student body vote last week.

The proposed amendment would have added a representative of minority groups to the representative assembly, which has an elected representative from each third period class.

A two-thirds majority was required for the amendment to pass. It drew only a 53 per cent favorable vote, according to a student news bureau report.

Nativity Scene Is A Winner

Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell's outdoor Nativity scene at their home at 377 Fairway Drive, Novato, was awarded first place in the Christmas decoration contest in the Marin Country Club Estates.

Other winners were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Dinsmore of 531 Fairway Drive, second, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Lindauer of 72 Par Lane, third.

Honorable mentions went to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sullivan of 360 Country Club Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson C. Buxton of 24 Prestwick Court and Mr. and Mrs. Edson W. Berlin of 29 Olympia Way.

The contest was sponsored by the Marin Country Club Garden Club.

Search For Murderer Of Two Continues

I-J Special Report

VALLEJO — Law officers stepped up their search today for the slayer of a Vallejo High School student — a former San Rafael resident — and his date, murdered on a lovers lane.

Police said today they had found no motive for the deaths of David Faraday, 17, who was born in San Rafael and lived there until three years ago, and his friend, Bettilou Jensen, 16.

The couple — on their first date — was found about 11:30 p.m. Friday by a passing motorist on a lonely sideroad off Lake Herman road near Benicia. Faraday's body was found beside his station wagon. The girl had staggered about 11 feet from the vehicle before she fell.

Faraday was shot in the head at close range by a small caliber rifle. The bullet passed through his brain and he died en route to a hospital. Miss Jensen was shot five times in the back.

The couple had not been robbed, and Miss Jensen had not been molested.

Sgt. Leslie Lundblad of the Solano County sheriff's office said that the couple had attended a Christmas concert, but he discounted speculation that they had been followed to the remote lovers lane.

He said he reached this conclusion after questioning workmen who passed the death scene that night on their way to the graveyard shift at a nearby oil refinery.

Funeral services were held today at the First Presbyterian Church, Vallejo, for Faraday, an Eagle Scout and a varsity wrestler at Vallejo High School.

The youth was the son of the Mrs. Jean L. Faraday of the Vallejo and Thomas A. Faraday of Salinas, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employee. The family lived in San Rafael until moving to Vallejo about three years ago.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Robert and Steven, and a sister, Debra, all of Vallejo; and his grandparents, Mrs. Irene LaTourette of Vallejo and col. and Mrs. L. M. McKinley of San Francisco.

Dominican Area Homes Lose Power

About 1,800 homes in the Dominican and eastern areas of San Rafael were without power for about 50 minutes yesterday after a car hit a power pole near the Belle Avenue entrance to Highway 101.

The California Highway Patrol said cars driven by Stephen Robinson, 17, of 24 Lenglen Avenue, San Rafael, and Edward Pirrello, 27, of Livermore, sideswiped. Robinson's car veered off and hit a power pole, the patrol said. Neither man was hurt.

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said power was off from 12:48 to 1:37 p.m. for most of 1,800 customers affected. About 20 customers didn't get service back until 4 p.m., however, the spokesman said.

Beating Results In Jail Sentence

Harold E. Von Feldt, 34, of San Rafael, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and placed on three years probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for beating up a man in San Rafael Oct. 21.

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein, who imposed the sentence, had ordered Von Feldt to undergo chromosome testing to determine if he had an extra chromosome, said to cause violence in males.

Von Feldt refused to take the test until he was sentenced. The judge ruled Friday he must undergo all testing ordered by the probation officer.

Probation, Jail In Injury Crash

Louis Steven Horvath, 54, of 59 Creek Road, Fairfax, was sentenced to two days in jail and placed on a year of probation in Marin Municipal Court Friday for drunken driving July 5 in San Anselmo.

Horvath was also ordered to pay $600 restitution to Susan Velte, 19, of 1546 San Anselmo Avenue, whom he hit while driving up Center Boulevard, according to San Anselmo police.

Miss Velte, who was riding a bike, reportedly suffered a broken leg and four chipped teeth. Police said Horvath's car knocked her into a fence that divides Yolanda Drive and Center Boulevard.

It's Difficult To Tell Bosses From Employees

One of the changes that goes on with little notice is in the relations between the bosses and the hired help in public employment.

Of course, it is nothing new for employees to want — and get — more say in running the business. The unions have been at it for a long time. But we recall there was quite a flap a few years back when one of the big industrial unions, preparing to open negotiations for a new industry-wide contract, suggested that the high salaries paid corporate executives were matters for discussion. The bosses replied that was none of the union's business.

IN PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT, it's different. Often it is difficult to tell who is boss and who is employee.

Take the county, for instance. The elected supervisors are the bosses, having been chosen as proxies for the whole electorate, who pay the taxes and own the business. They are, as it were, the board of directors.

They set the salaries for the hired help. But as a safeguard against scoundrels who might run for office with the hope of getting their hands in the till, the law provides that elected officers cannot raise their own salaries. So when the supervisors want a raise, they have to ask the Legislature.

However, the Legislature likes to have something better to go on than just what the supervisors would like for themselves. And so it has become one of the duties of the county grand jury to review the salaries of elected county officials and make recommendations on them. This the Marin County Grand Jury did, proposing that the supervisors' pay be increased from $800 per month to $900, starting in 1971.

BUT ALONG COMES the county administrator with a nicer plan — for the supervisors. He worked out a set of proposed raises for elected county officials which would give the supervisors twice as much increase as the grand jury recommended right away, and add an equally juicy raise in 1971.

This is a very interesting — and off key — bit of song. For the administrator is an employee of the supervisors. They set his salary.

Perhaps he feels if he can promote nice fat raises for his bosses they'll grant a nice fat raise to him?

THIS CONFUSION of bosses and employees is not limited to the county. In Tamalpais High School District last week, leaders of the district teacher association became quite upset because the board of trustees turned down a couple of instruction innovations.

The teachers (the employees) felt it was all wrong for the trustees (the bosses) to tell them what not to teach.

Maybe these teachers have not read the George Miller Jr. Act, for which their state association lobbied hard for three years.

It says, in plain words: "The governing board of every school district shall evaluate its educational program, and shall make such revisions as it deems necessary."

Time For Suet

This is the time of year when insect food is very scarce for birds in Marin. A good substitute for the birds in place of insects is suet. It may not be a necessity in our benign climate, as it is elsewhere, but it is unquestionably helpful, and the birds love it.

Remember, the birds have lots of fair-weather friends in the summer when everyone can be outdoors to enjoy. But true friends don't forget when the rains come and the birds have the chill empty spaces to themselves.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Probably this is the first time in history that as much interest been shown in the lieutenant-governorship of California, for with the impending departure of Robert H. Finch for Washington, it is up to Gov. Ronald Reagan to appoint his successor.

Such an occasion has not occured since 1928, when Gov. C. C. Young appointed H. L. Carnahan to succeed Buron Fitts, who resigned from the job. And there were only two other occasions in California history when a governor had the task of appointing a lieutenant governor, once in 1895 and the other in 1916, when Gov. Hiram Johnson appointed William D. Stephens, pointed William D. Stephens Both of the earlier appointments resulted from death of the incumbents.

Thus, Governor Reagan has a somewhat unusual task in replacing Finch, and as he said in a recent press conference, the task is giving him some "sleepless nights."

THERE ARE MANY facets influencing what will be the final choice before Finch leaves California for a cabinet position.

One, Reagan is faced with the problem of picking a man qualified to act as governor, and even more important to the Republican party, have some chance of being elected governor in case something should happen to Reagan, or if he should decide not to run again.

Also, there is the problem of satisfying the big wheels of the party, and also the Senate, over whom the lieutenant-governor presides. Added to these is the problem of disturbing the delicate balance of power in the Senate and Assembly, which could be endangered should he select a legislator for the post.

All of which would appear to rule out some of the men who logically and under normal circumstances might fill Finch's shoes.

REAGAN SAYS he has approximately a dozen persons whom he is considering. Top candidates outside the legislature are two former legislators, Vern Sturgeon of San Uuis Obispo County, who now serves as Reagan's representative and coordinator in the Senate, and Caspar Weinberger, the state director of finance. Both of these men are familiar with legislative activity, and are highly thought of by state senators.

Of the two, Sturgeon appears the more logical choice, as he is a former senator while Weinberger is a former member of the Assembly, a fact which might make some difference as far as prestige is concerned.

Also, Weinberger's political philosophies are geared more to the liberal Republican view than Sturgeon's.

Sturgeon has a good political background with the Republicans. He is a former mayor of Paso Robles, his home town in San Luis Obispo County, and was elected to the state Senate in 1960. He lost his seat primarily because of the Senate reapportionment ordered by the U.S. Supreme court.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

We Must Stop Being Dehumanized

The recent events at San Francisco State serve as a stark illustration of how political intransigence and emotional reaction can dehumanize. State officials blindly adhere to principles and follow policies without really examining the validity of those principles or considering the affect of those policies on individuals. On the other hand, emotional reaction born of frustration and injustice culminate in a rage which turns other human beings into objects to be disregarded or destroyed.

Manifestations of dehumanization resulting from political intransigence and emotional reaction can be seen in other places besides San Francisco State. Diplomats argue over seating arrangements while each day more die in Vietnam. Congressmen cover up embarrassing data on malnutrition in this country while thousands of children go to bed hungry. Black militants cry out in rage to urge the killing of "pigs." The fact that the police officer to be killed is another human being has become irrelevant.

This is a society of human beings. For that society to remain civilized, it must not be dehumanized. Principles, policies and emotional reaction should be indulged in only after full consideration of their effect on human beings. Humans are more than votes, objects of wrath, property or pigs.

Silent Majority Must Take Action

As a journalism teacher, a columnist, a teacher of eighth grade, and a professional for the past 20 years, I raise my voice and pen deploring the lack of action by the silent majority on our campuses in state and local colleges. . . .

I can no longer keep quiet, for I am disgusted, angry, and sick at heart, for those students that wish to learn, but cannot because of a destructive and vocal minority. The failure of these students to act in their own behalf results in an encouragement of the total destruction of the educational system . . . What a horrible thing it is, to allow a few to kill the aspirations of so many.

I hear the minority saying, "I want the power and the authority, but I refuse to take the responsibility which goes with such demands. I will keep you quiet by violence, gain my ends, then enslave you in anarchy."

The good doctor at San Francisco State has made mistakes, but he has made honest mistakes, which may be remedied by positive action of the faculty. The minority has made serious mistakes. . . . Their claim for total power and authority, their setting up of units which are segregated for blacks, their refusal to honor and respect the community which is supporting them, their attitude of non-negotiation, sets back their cause to the civil war days.

The young man that brought court action to keep the campus open did a very brave and honorable thing. He spoke for the silent majority with action that was positive and effective. It is my hope that other Americans on campus will do the same thing should any attempt be made to interrupt their education in the future. This young man needs the entire support of the silent majority.

. . . The first amendment to the Constitution guarantees the right for redress of wrong. It does not guarantee the right to destroy! Silent majority — speak up!

View Alarming, Not Refreshing

I was dismayed to read the point of view expressed by your Mr. Paul Peterzell in tonight's (Dec. 17) "Golden Gate View."

If Mr. Peterzell thinks it "refreshing" when a congressman considers localized government "intolerable," then I must conclude that his "view" of the Golden Gate is strictly due west.

All we need do to ensure ourselves of a government that can become totalitarian, is to permit our local governments, however exasperating they may be to would-be dictators, to be "swept aside," as the Democratic Assemblyman Karabian suggests.

Sounds Like Familiar Old Run-Around

I just got back from the (San Rafael) City Council meeting and I must admit I am thoroughly confused! We went there tonight in hopes of being heard since our complaining neighbors had been there at the meeting before this one and, obviously, had been listened to.

On one hand, I was told the reason our permit had been revoked was because the council felt that "because it has been raining lately, I could not possibly have cleaned up my corral." (I don't know if that statement makes sense to you, but I certainly can't figure out the logic in that!) On the other hand, they told me they (the council) had nothing to do with the whole thing since the decision is up to Dr. (Harry O.) Hund, who supposedly is the health inspector, but Dr. Hund hasn't been here! Help!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A YOUNG FELLOW came to the automobile club and asked for detailed maps for a trip all the way out to California. Supplied with the information he desired, he then asked, "Is the route you've marked for me heavily traveled?" "It sure is," he was told. "Then it's OK for me," nodded the young fellow. "I'm hitch-hiking."

The time obviously had come to put Miss Zsa Zsa Horntoot's old cat away, but the manner in which it was to be done put the sentimental novelist into a quandary. Her neighbor offered a solution. "Try curiosity," she proposed.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

The Man On The Moon— May He Be An American!

WASHINGTON — There is nothing new about man's desire to go to the moon. It has long been with us and 109 years ago Jules Verne predicted it right down to the detail that three Americans would take off from Florida in a capsule shot from a massive cannon.

And now the three American astronauts are on their six-day voyage deeper into outer space than man has ever gone, en route 240,000 miles to orbit the moon 10 times at a mere 70 miles from the surface before returning.

What is new about man's flight around the moon — man will be landing there soon — is not the concept but the fact that man now has the capability, the complex and costly mechanisms, the technology and the resources to do it.

SO WE'RE DOING IT. It was never in doubt. The only question was when. What it will mean can only be dimly foreseen, but the potential is so great that it justifies the cost, the risks, the uncertainties. The potential is metaphysical as well as material.

For the first time man is flying beyond the orbit of his planet. For the first time he is releasing himself from the physical bonds which have tied him to earth, and now the vast, unexplored territories of the universe itself are coming more within reach.

NO WONDER the late Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, the first deputy administrator of NASA — thinker and doer — put the first value of the manned moon flight in metaphysical terms.

"None of us knows," he once remarked, "what the final destiny of man may be — or if there is any end to his capacity for growth and adaptation. Wherever this venture leads us, we in the United States are convinced that the power to leave the earth — to travel where we will in space and to return at will — marks the opening of a brilliant new stage in man's evolution."

Astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders are taking man nearer to learning the origin of the universe. That's quite a little.

But it isn't all. There are rich dividends from space exploration — and more to come.

A VALUABLE satellite communications network is in being.

A weather satellite system is providing storm warnings to save lives and property.

New technologies, which didn't even exist 10 years ago, are at hand.

We are now learning that industry can do things in space it can't do on earth. Take one example out of many:

In the weightlessness of orbital space flight fluids take the shape of a perfect sphere, unattainable on earth. Thus, metal ball bearings could be produced in space to tolerances otherwise impossible, thus achieving the vastly important goal of reducing friction to the vanishing point.

WILL THE United States be first to put men on the moon as Jules Verne foresaw? We can't be absolutely sure because so much of the Russian space work is secret while ours is open. But at this point, with a manned landing scheduled for next year, the evidence is that the United States is considerably ahead in what is most needed: 15 U.S. manned flights to 10 Soviet; nine U.S. rendezvous and docking experiments to four Soviet; 2,000 U.S. man-hours in space to some 500 Soviet; 12 hours by U.S. astronauts outside their craft to two hours by Soviet astronauts.

Being first isn't crucial, but it doesn't hurt.

I have suggested that man — because he is man — will do anything he is capable of doing. I would go futher: man is capable of doing anything he can think of. This is why the Friday-night science fiction TV show Star Trek is so pleasantly mind-stretching. Obviously other planets and the galaxies are next. And after that, perhaps, comfortable living in outer space because man's environment is expanded.

SDS Busy Spreading Violence In High Schools

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The scheme of the Students for a Democratic Society to extend its rioting, violence and lawlessness on college campuses to high schools is making headway.

SDS organizing of this kind is making inroads in high schools in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco and the heavily populated Maryland and Virginia suburbs of Washington, D.C. The last, largely white and affluent areas, appear to be particular targets in the far-flung SDS plot to "activate" and "radicalize" high school students so they will be ready for "extremist agitation" when they reach college.

This nationwide drive to suborn high school students was approved at a meeting of the SDS' national council at the University of Colorado, Boulder, in October.

COLLEGE and non-student SDS chapters were instructed to actively cooperate in infiltrating high schools and organizing students. They were urged to take the lead in launching underground newspapers, conducting so-called "workshops" on the Vietnam war and anti-draft propaganda, and staging demonstrations on civil rights and other headline issues.

In Chicago, a high school organizing "conference" was held in the University of Illinois Circle Campus with around 150 attending.

The stellar attraction was Mark Rudd, Columbia University SDS leader, who delivered a harangue and then conducted a question-and-answer period. Also a movie was shown of the Columbia rioting and violence in which Rudd played a prominent role. This propaganda movie is a key feature of SDS proselyting.

In St. Louis a college SDS organizer is directing a group of high school students in publishing an underground paper — that has incurred the wrath of school authorities for indecency and defamation. Also being circulated there and in other cities is an increasing volume of SDS literature aimed particularly at high school students.

JONATHAN LERNER, 20-year-old Antioch College dropout, who attended the Boulder, Colo., conference last October, is in the forefront of SDS high school organizing in the capital's Maryland suburbs. He boastfully claims that from 25 to 30 high schools in that area are "SDS involved" — whatever that means!

Lerner admitted that in most high schools SDS operates under a different designation. "Kids are afraid of that name," he conceded. "It's got a bad connotation so they are leery of it. But we're able to take care of that in various ways."

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

It's the folk that depend on us for this and for the other that we most do miss. So the mother is more letdown and hindered lacking the little creatures clinging to her skirt than she is when they be there, for she has no heart for her work. — Mary Webb.

You give but little when you give of your possessions. It is when you give of yourself that you truly give. — Kahlil Gibran.

Money Holds Up New Careers; County Unwilling To Gamble

What's holding up the New Careers program to bring 25 to 50 new employees from "disadvantaged" groups into county employment for on-the-job training?

The answer is, primarily, money, although the author of the New Careers project contends little or no new extra funds are needed.

Proposal No. 1 comes from Dr. Arthur Pearl of the University of Oregon, who says 50 new careerists can be assimilated into county employ immediately with no extra cost.

Proposal No. 2, by the county administrator, calls for 26 new careerists and 20 interns at a total cost of $245,000 (with the county picking up $185,000).

IF YOU HAD a choice, naturally you'd pick No. 1, the no-cost program. But the choice is not clear-cut.

The question is: Can 50 relatively untrained people be incorporated into county employment with no extra cost and no disruption in county service?

One way to test Dr. Pearl's idea without budgeting extra money would be to take the gamble that county output may drop, but not to the danger point. In other words, bring in 50 trainees, assign regular workers to help those who need guidance, with no provision for a special director or a counseling staff as recommended by the administrator.

Then if production or services of some departments drop, let them drop, except for work that must meet legal deadlines. If we can last one year without added help, with no breakdown in county services, and not too much screaming from the public on the lag in services, then we'd have accomplished something.

BUT THIS TYPE of gamble, if assumed, must be taken by the supervisors, not the county administrator. The administrator cannot afford such a gamble. Assume he goes along with Dr. Pearl's program, and in the middle of the next fiscal year, we find that the program will cost an added $100,000 or $150,000. The supervisors would glare down at the administrator and demand:

"Whatsa matter, fellas? You told us last December it wouldn't cost us a cent. Where do you expect us to dig up the extra dough?"

To preclude such an eventuality, the county administrator is trying to preguess what the costs might be. His best guess is $245,000. By setting that figure, the administrator is saying he doesn't think the no-cost gamble will work.

MOVING OF furniture and records from the old courthouse to the new hall of justice will be done by Bekins Van and Storage for $35,000, which is $20,000 more than the low bid of $14,500 by Global Moving and Storage.

Global promptly notified the county it had erred in calculation, having forgotten a $6,500 cost in packing alone, and asked that it be allowed to withdraw its bid. Even with the packing, the total bid would have come to only $21,000.

Why didn't the county hold Global to the $21,000, instead of contracting with Bekins for $35,000?

This is how Asst. Administrator John Barrows and Purchasing Agent Doug Edelen explain it:

By admitting it had forgotten about packing, the low bidder showed that it had not made a comprehensive survey of the bid specifications. The county has valuable records including court documents that must be moved promptly so that county functions can proceed uninterrupted.

If a company knows it is losing money on the moving, there would be a tendency to cut corners in every way, and the county did not want to take a chance on sloppy transfer and delays during the transfer. Thus, they went for the second low bid, which is $14,000 more.

Old And Young Generations Both Have Been Short-Changed

Awareness, an acute, an even agonizing awareness if you will, characterizes our enigmatic young of today. Perceptive, involved, knowledgeable and sensitive to the vibrations of their environment, they are more aware of the reverberations and upheavals of society than youth has ever been.

The causes of their awareness are many. Certainly the mobility, the flux and flow, of our population is one factor. The world has shrunk and our once-distant neighbor is next door with his problems, his ideas and his philosophy.

Another is the vastly improved communications media, radio, newspapers and, in particular, television. A twist of the dial places the world in the living room and the happenings of this morning and those still in the process of happening become instantly seen and heard. The viewer is intimately involved and because of his proximity, worldwide events become the focal point of his interest, his thoughts and his discussions.

BY REASON of technological advances of this age, our young have been thrust in the eye of the hurricane and the tumultuousness of the maelstrom has generated their keen and incisive inquiry.

Youths' searching finger probes deeply into the vitals of societal fundamentals, jolting adults who have not recently reexamined their own fundamentals, if they ever analyzed them at all. Adults find themselves exposed, the crenelated walls of their beliefs under attack, and their only defense pat answers and stereotyped rebuttals, which often are embarrassingly deficient and untenable to a genuinely tenacious mind bent on satisfaction.

This is not to suggest that adult beliefs and credos are necessarily insupportable or unsound but only that they have been accepted without examination in depth. Thus, many adults are awkwardly vulnerable to even the most sophomoric intellectual haymakers of the painfully young.

BOTH generations have been shortchanged by our educational system — and in the same way. The difference between the two generations, however, is that the young are more aware of the world than their elders were and have been excited to ask more questions than their elders did. But both groups have been exposed to a serious educational flaw.

No matter how "Education" may be defined, one fact generally is accepted: without knowing HOW to think, education is an impossibility. Asking provocative questions, as today's youth does, may be an indication of intelligence, but evaluating answers demands a mind trained in critical judgment. And in this singularly important and basic precept, our educational system has failed both generations miserably.

Our schools are concerned with the pumping of knowledge, the assimilation of facts and the rounding up of statistics, but neglect that process which establishes and teaches relationships, a process which can be accomplished through the use of, to cite an Aristotelian expression, "the rational principle."

WITHOUT the knowledge of "how to think," ideas are useless, and any exchange of them is an exercise in futility. Ideas exposed to minds incapable of correct logical evaluation can be extremely dangerous since such untrained minds are easily duped and are ready prey for pernicious propaganda. The land is plagued with examples. Good may come of unexamined ideas but only through chance, not through design.

And in this world, this world aflame in a war of ideologies, too much is at stake to be left to chance.

Two Novato Firemen Named Lieutenants

Firemen John Church and Raymond Dougherty of the Novato Fire Department will be promoted to lieutenants Jan. 1, according to Fire Chief George Cavallero.

The men will get an increase from $770 to $790 per month. Church has been with the department for seven years, and Dougherty, six years.

Suspects Face Quiz On Break-In In San Rafael

Two youths arrested for investigation of burglary by Sausalito police Thursday will also be questioned about a break-in of a San Rafael home, San Rafael police reported.

Officers said items taken in a burglary of the home of Herschel Glen Howard, 17 Clark Street, were found in the car of Natalis Kit-Yan Leng, 18, of Daly City, and Gary Pang, 16, of San Francisco, after their arrest in Sausalito.

Sausalito police arrested Leng and Pang at the home of David Campbell, 62 Glen Drive, after a neighbor reported a burglary in process. A third youth fled, officers said.

San Rafael police said the Howard home was entered by breaking a kitchen window Thursday and a $70 woman's wristwatch, two strings of beads, two cameras, and $20 cash were taken. Most of the items were found in the car, they said.

Pang was taken to Marin County Juvenile Hall. Leng was freed on $1,250 bail, to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Youngster Finds Cash Lost In San Anselmo

A "sizeable amount" of cash was turned into the San Anselmo Police Department Friday by an elementary school-age girl who found it, according to Sgt. G. Albert Howenstein.

He said the police department is holding the money and carrying case for identification by the owner.

Wet Game Of Football In Oakland Coliseum

HIC — There's an ordinance over there in Oakland that prohibits persons from carrying oozebay into the Oakland Coliseum complex.

Ha-ha. Hee-hee. Hoo-hoo.

Oh, boy, what a laugh. I thought I was in the Jack Daniels distillery with 53,605 alcoholics, but actually it was an American Football League Western Division playoff game between the Oakland Raiders and the Vassar Goodie-Goodies.

At least, that's what the Kansas City Chiefs resembled. They made the worst performance in the history of AFL Western Division playoffs and not because this was the first playoff in history.

But let's get back to the original thought about the prohibited giggly juice. Well, let's put it this way: If you ever need a little blast — you know, Bunkie, a little horn, or toddy or whatever you call it — go to Oakland. Sure, the gendarmes confiscate a lot of the contraband, but you ought to see what they miss.

Two Decks Of Rooters

I was with the Marin Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club aboard Shaun Wiltshire's double-decker London bus (see picture on page 26) from Wiltshire Towers in San Rafael and the section in which we sat looked like wall-to-wall New Year's Eve. Oh, don't get me wrong, the Marin Boosters were models of deportment as their refreshments included the likes of Fresca, root beer, Pepsi, Coke and I even saw one lady with a quart of milk. But the others around us made my hair curl with every breath.

Those Raider fans have licked the ordinance in many ways. One man had a hollow pair of binoculars from which he drank. Look, Ma, magnified Old Crow. Another ruse is a plastic thing that looks like a big cheese sandwich with a cork in it. Swish cheese. And would you believe an umbrella with a hollow handle? Mary Poppins is a drunk! Thank goodness it rained — hail, hail, the gang's all here. (The Raiders showed how the wet was won. So did the fans.)

Yes, A Slight Upset

Some of the fumes must have drifted down onto the Kansas City side of the field because the Chiefs acted like they'd had too much firewater. Just like the oddsmakers who had established them as 3½-point favorites. The 41-6 Raider victory would suggest a slight upset, eh?

It was the most lopsided playoff since Custer and Chief Whatchmacallit at Little Big Horndinky Coliseum. I still don't know if the Raiders are that good or the Chiefs that bad but I think it's a combination of the two.

It was what we old sporting scriveners call a "kicking game." That is, the Raiders did all the kicking off and the Chiefs did all the punting. They really put the foot back in football.

It Was One Of THOSE Days

If you want an example of Kansas City's ineptitude I offer you one kickoff play that provided the best block of the game. That was the one on which a Kansas City man knocked down Noland Smith on a kickoff return. Which was all right, but, golly, guys, Noland Smith plays for Kansas City, too, you know. You get the idea of how ludicrous was this game?

It was a jolly ride over to Oakland on Wiltshire's double-decker jolly transit and an even jollier ride home, if you can imagine.

Poor Shaun now has a big problem on his hands. As the bebowlered group of 60 Raider nuts gave out a roaring rendition of "Miami, how I love ya', how I love ya', my dear old Miami," Shaun worried, "I wonder if my double-decker will make it all the way to Florida for the Super Bowl?"

I don't know if the jolly transit will, but the Raiders will. Baby, it's Colt outside.

Dancer's Image Out Of Money

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission ruled today that Dancer's Image won the 1968 Kentucky Derby but his owned would not be entitled to the purse because of the presence of a forbidden medication in the colt's urine.

The commission's ruling upheld one issued earlier by stewards at Churchill Downs.

AGREE

The commission, after hearing 14 days of testimony, agreed with the stewards that Peter Fuller's colt had phenylbutazone in his system after he won the May 4th race.

The medication is permissable in this state as long as it does not show up in a horse by the time he races. The rule covering this drug provides for a redistribution of the purse but makes no mention of disqualifying the horse as the winner of the race.

Arthur Grafton, an attorney for Fuller indicated an appeal might be made to the courts, but said no final decision would be made until he talked to Fuller.

IN BOSTON

Fuller was reported in Boston.

George Egger, racing commission chairman, said the final order redistributing the Derby purse would be entered "shortly."

The commission's decision means the $122,600 first money in the 1¼-mile Derby goes to Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, who finished second to Dancer's Image.

Tars Lose; Host Ohlone J.C. Tonight

College of Marin's basketball team will try to start another win streak tonight after a very brief one ended Saturday night.

The Tars host Ohlone Junior College of Fremont at 8 p.m. in search of their fourth win of the season.

Their abbreviated one-game win streak ended Saturday at the hands of Cabrillo in Santa Cruz, 73-69, as they ran into the evil whammy of the free-throw meanie again.

The Tars, now 3-6, hit 47 per cent of their shots from the field (to 41 per cent for the winners), outdid the winners in field goals (26-17) but still lost.

This despite superlative performances by the tall and the small of the Tar outfit, guard Andre Horn (5-foot-10) and forward Pat Schafer (6-3).

Horn whipped in 24 points on 11 fielders to tie Cabrillo's Mark Scurich for game honors and Schafer scored 21 points and grabbed nine rebounds. Tom Seinderberg added 13 points.

College of Marin Scoring — Smith, 1-0-2; Horn, 11-2-24; Schafer, 8-5-21; Leete, 1-2-4; Seidenberg, 4-5-13; Tait, 2-1-5. Totals: 27-15-69.

Colts Win Western Title; To Go Against Browns

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts followed form on and off the playing field yesterday as they won the National Football League's Western Conference championship.

After beating the Minnesota Vikings 24-14, as expected, the Colts trooped to the dressing room and — as expected — spoke in glowing terms of the Cleveland Browns, their opponent in next Sunday's NFL title game.

CAREFUL

Football players are extremely careful not to rile a future opponent with loose talk which could stir the emotions. But the Colts certainly have reason to be sincere in their praise fo the Browns.

Baltimore's only defeat in 15 games this season was a 30-20 loss to the Browns in the sixth week of the campaign.

"They didn't beat us last time by any fluke," Baltimore Coach Don Shula said. "They have a sound football team."

"It should be a helluva battle," said tight end John Mackey.

"Cleveland has a great defense, and their good running game will keep our defense honest. We can't rush the passer and let a guy like Leroy Kelly slip past for a long gain."

The last time the two teams

TV Football Fans Want Football, Nothing Else

NEW YORK (AP) — The first live television pictures from outer space sent New York's single-minded football fans into orbit yesterday in a reoccurrance of "The Heidi Affair."

For the second time in recent weeks, metropolitan area football fans were seething as CBS-TV cut away from a football game for a special show—this time the pictures transmitted by the United States' three astronauts on their way to the moon.

A CBS-TV spokesman said nearly 1,000 calls were received shortly after 3:04 p.m., EST, just after the network switched away from the National Football League Western Conference title game for the space spectacular.

A similar situation occurred several weeks ago when NBC-TV switched away from the last minute of the New York Jets-Oakland game for a special showing of Heidi, the children's program. The station received thousands of angry calls from throughout the country, and to make matters worse, Oakland scored two touchdowns in that final minute to win.

The space situation was not so critical. The switch was made in the final two minutes of the first half and viewers missed no scoring in the Baltimore-Minnesota game and CBS-TV reran most of the action during halftime.

The rerun caused calls to taper off, the spokesman said, but enough additional calls were received to bring the total to almost 2,000.

It's On To N.Y. To Face Jets

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders, who had almost forgotten how to win one going away, picked an excellent time to remember, surprising the Kansas City Chiefs, the New York Jets and themselves.

For three weeks, the Raiders had scraped and clawed their way into an American Football League Western Division playoff and when they got there yesterday they found, instead of the expected pitched battle, a 41-6 cakewalk over the Chiefs.

FIRST TIME

"I didn't know that," said a stunned Kansas City Coach Hank Stram when told it was the first time the Chiefs had been held without a touchdown in five years. "I just don't know what to say."

"It's almost amazing," said an equally surprised, but far happier John Rauch, the Oakland coach, "that offensively and defensively everything went the way we planned."

CONFIDENCE

"I didn't think it would be a runaway," said Ewbank. "Oakland's a great football team—they showed that today—and this victory will make them all the more confident."

In the three games preceding this showdown battle, Oakland was a great football team only in the sense that it won even though it played poorly.

The Raiders barely beat Buffalo, the weakest team in all of pro football now; just held off Denver, also less than brilliant, and barely beat San Diego.

That gave the Raiders a 12-2 record, matching Kansas City with whom they split two regular season meetings.

QUICK

But against the Chiefs yesterday, the Raiders found themselves. And it didn't take very long.

By the time the first quarter was over, Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica had thrown three touchdown passes, two to Fred Biletnikoff, and the Raider offense had established itself.

In the second period, it was the defense's turn.

Twice, the Chiefs drove within the Oakland five-yard line and twice the Raiders' defense held, forcing Kansas City to settle for field goals by Jan Stenerud.

Why go for field goals when you're in close and trailing by three touchdowns?

"It was very important to us then to just get on the scoreboard," said Stram. "I thought somehow with a pass interception or a fumble recovery we might be able to jump back."

Browns' Defense Does The Job Against Cowboys

CLEVELAND (AP) — It was against Baltimore that the Cleveland Browns did an about face and marched on to the National Football League's Eastern Conference championship.

Now it's Baltimore again—this time for the NFL title Dec. 29 at Municipal Stadium.

The Browns beat Dallas 31-20 Saturday and Baltimore tripped Minnesota 24-14 yesterday to take the Western Conference playoff and set the stage for the showdown. The winner goes to the Super Bowl.

Browns' Coach Blanton Collier watched the Baltimore-Minnesota game on television and said he expects the Colts "will be very emotional" about the title game. "That would be natural. I hope we're up, too."

Cleveland handed the Colts their only loss of the season, a 30-20 decision Oct. 20, and went on to win seven in a row.

Also, the Browns beat the Colts 27-0 for the NFL title in 1964. Collier again will match strategy with Colts' coach Don Shula, who used the play for him and worked as an aide when Collier coached at Kentucky.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said "the Browns' defense made the big difference. It made the big play. That's where the game was to be won or lost."

Collier said it was "the greatest defensive effort for a team that has played for me."

The two key plays were a 45-yard touchdown pass from Bill Nelsen to Leroy Kelly that made it 10-10 at halftime and an interception by Dale Lindsey on the first play of the second half.

On the Kelly touchdown, Landry said "the Browns went into the half with all the momentum. We went in dejected."

Lindsay juggled the ball several times but held it and raced 27 yards for a 17-10 lead.

Cleveland upped it to 24-10 shortly after that when Ben Davis picked off the third interception from Don Meredith. It resulted in Kelly going 35 yards for a touchdown on a sweep.

A first-quarter interception set up Don Cockroft's 38-yard field goal for a 3-0 lead but Dallas came back when Chuck Howley grabbed Nelsen's fumble and raced 44 yards for a touchdown. Mike Clark added a 16-yard field goal.

Then Nelson hit Kelly to tie it and Cleveland bounced back strong in the second half to take the lead for good.

Erich Barnes intercepted off Craig Morton in the fourth quarter and Ernie Green went over from two yards to put it out of reach.

Just before the half ended, Lamonica hit Biletnikoff with a sideline pass and the Raider flanker powered, danced and just ran the ball 30 yards into the end zone on a 46-yard play and Lamonica's fourth TD toss.

"You don't usually expect to score on a play like that," admitted Biletnikoff later.

Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson completed only three passes in the first half and though he did better in the second half, finishing with 17 completions in 36 attempts, the Raiders found a way to keep the Chiefs from crossing the goal line.

They intercepted four of Dawson's passes, twice deep in their own territory and while Lamonica kept hitting on his passes, the Raiders also began to establish a running attack.

ROOKIE STARS

Rookie Charlie Smith, held to just two yards in the first half, gained 72 the second time around, setting up Lamonica's fifth touchdown pass, to Warren Wells, and one of two field goals by George Blanda.

And while the Chiefs, who had allowed a league low of just 170 points in 14 regular-season games, gave nearly one fourth that total to the Raiders, the Oakland defense held Kansas City in check.

"Any time you play like that against a Kansas City team," said Rauch, of his defense, "you should give a monument to them."

met for the NFL title, in 1964, the favored Colts were upended 27-0 as Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier beat Shula, his former assistant at the University of Kentucky.

The Colts, who posted three shutouts during the regular season while allowing a record-tying low of 144 points, didn't yield a touchdown until 8:16 remained to be played.

Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp turned in a courageous effort while being rushed unmercifully during the second half. He completed 26 of 44 passes for 266 yards and led all rushers with 52 yards on 10 carriers.

HIT HARD

Although thrown for losses only three times while trying to pass, Kapp was rapped hard frequently as he released the ball and when he ran — sometimes not at his own choosing.

The Colts, held to just 50 yards rushing on 37 carries, gained 245 yards on the passing of quarterback Earl Morrall — including touchdown passes to Mackey for 49 yards and to Tom Mitchell for three yards.

The Vikings tossed Morrall four times while passing and gave him such a hard time, the Colts resorted to the rollout to get things moving.

'FORTUNATE'

"Our pass protection broke down early," Shula said. "We were fortunate to be leading 7-0 at halftime playing that way."

The 49-yard RD pass to Mackey, who sprinted the last 30 yards after breaking a tackle, and a 60-yard scoring run with a fumble by linebacker Mike Curtis — within a two-minute period of the third quarter — gave Baltimore a 21-0 lead.

Mitchell scored the other touchdown in the second period after a spectacular diving catch by Willie Richardson put the ball on the Minnesota three.

Kapp's one-yard pass to Billy Martin made it 21-7 and after Lou Michaels booted a 33-yard field goal for the Colts, Kapp tossed 10 yards to Bill Brown with four seconds left.

U.S. Skiers Rout Team Of Canadians

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — A strong showing in the downhill today would give the Americans a clean sweep in the alpine Holiday Classic ski meet with Canada.

After two days of skiing, the best showing by a Canadian was Bill McKay's fifth-place finish yesterday in the men's giant slalom.

Kiki Cutter, Bend, Ore., won the women's giant slalom yesterday in 1:52.82, a half second ahead of Erica Skinger, Stowe, Vt. Marilyn Cochran of Richmond, Vt., was third and Karen Budge, Jackson, Wyo., fourth.

No Canadian women finished in the top 10 in the giant slalom. So far, the best finish by a Canadian woman was Betsy Clifford's seventh in the slalom Saturday.

Hank Kashiwa, Cold Forge, N.Y., who came of age during the French-American Challenge Cup races in Aspen last month, took the men's giant slalom yesterday with a close win over Jerre Elliott of Steamboat Springs, Colo.

A Senator For Baseball's Top Job?

CHICAGO (AP) — The search for a baseball commissioner acceptable to both the American and National Leagues began today and rumor's first production was Sen. Phillip Hart of Michigan.

The name of Hart, a friend of baseball, popped out of Washington, D.C., for the $100,000-a-year job which was left up in the air by club owners dedicated to create a new image for the game.

After 19 ballots and 14 hours, the baseball brass failed to agree and wearily ended with a stalemate at 6:15 a.m., EST, Saturday.

The balloting to select a successor for the dismissed Gen. William Eckert was diffused by at least six candidates and all but one of them now appear to be out of the picture altogether. Possibly, the lone remaining hopeful in the group is career baseball man Lee MacPhail, Eckert's first assistant who resigned to become vice president of the New York Yankees.

It was a tug-o-war between the traditionalist, Chub Feeney, and the so-called Young Turk ringleader, suave Mike Burke, through 10 ballots.

Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants and a nephew of the club's owner, Horace Stoneham, had the required minimum of nine N.L. votes but couldn't swing it through the A.L. Burke, president of the Yankees, couldn't put it through the N.L.

With this checkmate, presumably both contenders now are out of the race. Also gone from the list, if the balloting is a criterion, are Joe Cronin, A.L. president and Circuit Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, former player counsel.

In the late balloting, John McHale became a compromise choice of the A.L. which gave him nine votes. McHale, former Eckert executive and general manager of the Detroit Tigers and Milwaukee-Atlanta Braves, decided to stay as head man of the new Montreal Expos.

He withdrew from the commissioner race without even giving his N.L. colleagues a chance to vote on him.

Finally, it got down to MacPhail. It looked as if he were on the move in the 18th ballot, getting nine A.L. votes and four from the N.L. But on the 19th ballot, three of his four N.L. backers passed.

"The owners just thought that by this time they were too tired and thought-weary, and this just wasn't the way to select a commissioner," said spokesman Frank Dale, Cincinnati Reds president. "That's when we adjourned. They stuck it out as long as they could. They really wanted to get the job done.

"Now, I expect, it will be 30 or 40 days before we meet again."

THEY HAD A LOT TO CROW ABOUT

Sixty members of the Marin Chapter, Oakland Raiders Boosters Club displayed justifiable confidence as they departed for yesterday's American Football League playoff game between the Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs. Shaun Wiltshire, Boosters president who owns the eye-catching double-decker bus which transports fans to games, explained the "Roosters" sign means, "We crow a lot." The fans crowed all the way home after their team demolished the Chiefs, 41-6. (Fred Harris photo)

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK — Hank Stram can lose graciously. Prior to yesterday's losing playoff game with Oakland for the Western Division title, the Kansas City coach emphasized he was heading into the Raider game with the expectation "of his greatest confrontation" in the American Football League.

Sports writers in the 10 league cities recognized Stram's talents before the game on the basis of his comeback from a so-so season and today voted him United Press International AFL Coach of the Year for 1968.

Stram edged Weeb Eubanks of the New York Jets 14-12 in the balloting of the 30 sports writers. Paul Brown, making his return to professional football with the expansion Cincinnati Bengals, drew three votes. The remaining vote went to San Diego's Sid Gillman.

TENNIS

Seals Continue Hex Over Philly Flyers

Whatever it was that enabled the Seals to beat the Flyers 2-1 in a National Hockey League game last night before 1,829 at San Francisco's Cow Palace, the Seals hope they can take it with them to Boston Wednesday night.

"The Seals have the Indian sign on us this year," said Allen. "We should've had at least a tie I thought." Oakland has won three and tied one this season in four games against the Flyers.

The turning point was when we survived five minutes of power plays in the second period" after Seal Bryan Watson received a major penalty for high sticking the Flyers' Ed Van Impe, said Glover.

Bill Hicke's 18-foot backhand at 12:29 of the t hird period was the game winner and it boosted the Seals into a second-place tie with Los Angeles in the West Division.

Redwood High School's basketball team, spurred by its super-guards, captured third place in the Yuba City Invitational Tournament, downing host team Yuba City, 60-38, Saturday.

Guards Jerry Piro and Roger Smith, both all-tournament choices, did the job for the Giants of Larkspur again, Piro pumping in 20 points and Smith 11 against Yuba City.

Livermore, which had downed Redwood Friday by eight points, captued the tourney championship, whipping Mission San Jose, 72-61.

The victory ran Redwood's season record to 7-3.

Tamalpais of Mill Valley was the only other Marin County Athletic team to venture into action Saturday. The Indians took a 64-58 beating at the hands of San Mateo High School at San Mateo. This came after a 44-32 loss Friday night to Carlmont of Belmont.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Bruins ran their record to 5-0 with a pair of easy weekend victories at home—90-51 Friday over Minnesota and 95-56 Saturday over West Virginia.

Alcindor had 25 points against Minnesota during the 28 minutes he played, and scored 19 in 32 minutes against the Mountaineers in the Bruins' 21st consecutive victory.

At the Sun Devil Classic in Phoenix, California lost its opener 98-81 to Purdue, but won the Saturday night consolation final 86-73 over Nebraska, with Trent Gaines posting 21 for the Bears.

Washington, matching California's 4-2 over-all mark, rang up home court victories over Idaho 72-58 and Loyola of Louisiana 87-65.

Two Pacific-8 teams now on the road will be the only ones with games until after Christmas—Washington State at Northwestern and Southern California at Vanderbilt, both tonight.

Washington State lost 84-69 Saturday to an Ohio State team that set a school record by sinking 38 of 45 free throws. Southern Cal edged Oklahoma 48-46 Friday and in turn dropped one by two points, 70-68, Saturday at Florida State.

Oregon State went down 89-64 at Brigham Young Friday, and Oregon won a home contest against Idaho Saturday 79-68.

Stanford ran into a pair of nationally ranked teams on its home court and bowed to Cincinnati, No. 6, Friday 60-49, and to Kansas, No. 1, on Saturday 76-67.

Fifth-ranked New Mexico whipped the University of San Francisco at the Lobo Invitational Friday 82-71, and the Dons absorbed a second beating Saturday from Fordham, 77-64. New Mexico won the tourney at Albuquerque.

San Jose State, scheduled at Utah State tonight, was thumped 95-89 by Idaho State in Pocatello Saturday in spite of Dick Grovers' 25 points.

University of Pacific improved its over-all record to 5-2 by thumping University of Portland 107-61 as Bill Stricker broke a UOP scoring record with 44 points.

UOP is host to Drake tonight.

Santa Clara's 10th-ranked Broncos kept unbeaten with their sixth triumph, a 45-31 conquest of North Texas State Friday. The Broncos play Gonzaga at home tonight.

Seven minutes went by before University of California at Santa Barbara got a field goal against Colorado State which won Saturday 76-55 in Fort Collins, Colo.

St. Mary's was upset 80-74 by San Francisco State in overtime at the Fresno State College tournament Saturday, and lost to Seattle Pacific 63-61 in Friday's opening round play.

Falcons Hire A Pair Of Assistant Coaches

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons have hired two line coaches as Coach Norm Van Brocklin moves to fill out the staff for his National Football League club.

Duane Putnam, 40, was named yesterday to tutor the offensive line. Defensive line coach Marion Campbell was obtained Saturday.

Van Brocklin released the entire Falcons' staff Dec. 16 after the team lost its final game to San Francisco. They had been hired by Norb Hecker, who was replaced by Van Brocklin early in the season.

Campbell was an assistant coach when Van Brocklin coached the Minnesota Vikings and had been defensive line coach for the Los Angeles Rams.

Campbell played for the San Francisco 49ers and Philadelphia Eagles.

Putnam was a guard on Rams' teams quarterbacked by Van Brocklin. He had an 11-year pro career with the Rams, Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Company Stock Plan A Boon To Employees

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My husband will be eligible to purchase his company's stock. He can invest between 2 per cent and 8 per cent of his salary, with the company contributing 50 per cent of matching funds. We have $15,000 in savings and some bank stock. How much should he invest? — J. S.

A. A very simple calculation will show that by investing 8 per cent your husband is automatically electing to raise his salary by 4 per cent because of his company's contribution. If this is part of a retirement plan, then there is probably a tax shelter involved which would be an additional incentive to take full advantage.

Q. My holdings include W. R. Grace, Beverly Enterprises, Spector Industries and Magnavox. As a father of young children, I am trying to buy growth companies for the future. Should these be held? — G. B.

A. All but one of your stocks should be held. Spector, which has been hurt by costs of acquisitions, will take some time to work out. I would advise switching to a faster-moving situation.

Grace may expand into electrical contracting if the Fischbach & Moore acquisition is completed. Consumer grocery items are becoming more important, but chemicals continue as the major product.

Acquisitions are assuming a bigger role in the corporate affairs of Magnavox. Most recently, takeover of a band instrument-maker has been proposed. Magnavox' growth pattern should not be inhibited.

Beverly operates extended-care nursing facilities. The number of beds is expected to reach 6,000 by the end of 1969. There is little doubt that nursing-home care is an area of great need and therefore growth.

Dividend Voted By Marin Firm

Directors of Marin County Financial Corp have declared a 4 per cent stock dividend on the capital stock of the corporation and a cash dividend of 10 cents per share.

The distribution will be made Jan. 10 to stockholders of record Dec. 26. Both dividends represent a distribution of earnings of the company's operating subsidiary, Marin County Savings and Loan Association.

Marin County Financial Corp. will hold its annual stockholders meeting in April.

Firestone Reports Records For 1968

AKRON, Ohio (BW) — The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. reached and passed a milestone as net sales for the year ended Oct. 31 soared over the $2 billion level for the first time.

Net income also reached a record high as earnings were 6 per cent of sales. Sales for the year were $2,131,443,965, compared with $1,875,376,329 for the previous year, an increase of 13.7 per cent. Earnings amounted to $127,034,657, compared with $102,349,310 a year ago, an increase of 24.1 per cent.

Tight-Money Fears Cuts Mart Closing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today under the influences of year-end profit taking and fears of tight money.

The market was lower from the start and widened its losses as the session wore on. Trading was active, and some big blocks were traded.

It was the last day of the year in which to sell stocks "regular way" (five-day delivery) and record the profits on 1968 income tax returns.

Blue chips and glamor stocks gave ground on a wide front.

In late dealings, IBM, Polaroid and Xerox were off 3 each, City Investing about 4, Essex International, American Smelting, Du Pont and Procter & Gamble about 2 each.

After a delayed opening Amerada was up 7 points and Hess Oil 1½ on news of their proposed merger.

Armour was down 2 and General Host 1 following news that General Host plans to make an offer for all shares of Armour.

Tight money, higher interest rates and fear of another "money crunch" such as accompanied a big market plunge in 1966 also were linked with selling.

Santa Rosa Savings New Branch Office In Novato

After about seven months of site preparation and construction work, the new 6,000-square-foot Novato office of Santa Rosa Savings and Loan Association is scheduled to open Dec. 30.

Charles Lewis, acting branch manager at the Novato "temporary office" in the same Novato Square block for about two years, has been appointed permanant manager. Before joining the association in 1965 as a senior appraiser and loan officer, he was an appraiser with the Union Bank of Los Angeles. He and his wife and two children live in Novato.

Lewis

Moretton

Gene D. Moretton of Santa Rosa, former loan officer for the association, will be assistant manager and public relations officer. In addition to having a strong background in real estate, he has long been active in the entertainment field and has appeared in numerous television and motion picture productions. He will move his home to Novato.

TWO MARIN MEN have received out-of-town managership posts with Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

McKinley

Suneson

Howard M. McKinley of San Anselmo will head the company's Stockton division on Jan. 1. For the past two years he has been electric superintendent of the San Francisco division. He joined PG&E in 1947 as an engineer and through successive appointments has been power engineer, senior distribution engineer, division electric engineer and administrative assistant to the senior vice president.

Alfred L. Suneson of Novato will be PG&E manager in the Corcoran area, which covers approximately 1,050 square miles of agricultural territory. He joined the company as a pump tester at Marysville in 1956. Since 1962 he has been an agricultural power engineer in the sales department in San Francisco. He, too, takes over his new office Jan. 1.

GEORGE SILVESTRI of San Rafael, president of Marin Products Co., has been elected president-elect of the National Frozen Food Association. He will succeed to the presidency of the association a year from now. He has been a director since 1960 and secretary since 1965.

Factory Activity Up In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Manufacturing activity in California increased by 5.6 per cent for the year to $25.37 billion in November, the Bank of California reported today.

Record payrolls for the state reached $14.64 billion on the basis of an average 40.7 hour week at an average hourly wage of about $3.50, the bank said. Approximately 1,640,000 were in the work force, despite aerospace cuts.

Gains were reported in all major manufacturing divisions, with a total of $25.60 billion forecast through December.
